I do vedic, so:

Sagittarius sun, Gemini moon, Gemini rising.

You've been going through Jupiter mahadasha since March 10, 2010 but it's ending soon. You'll be entering Saturn mahadasha on March 10 this year. Most people dread this period but it's actually mostly benefic for Gemini risings. Your Saturn placement signifies Moksha (liberation of the soul from the material realm) so expect heavy lessons in humility leading to liberation.

Things you can research:

- Saturn mahadasha for Gemini lagna (rising)
- Saturn mahadasha for Gemini lagna, retrograde Saturn in 1st house
- Saturn mahadasha, Neptune in 8th house, Uranus in 9th house (Saturn rules these houses for Gemini lagna)
- retrograde Saturn conjunct ascendant
- Saturn trine Uranus
- Saturn at 1 degree

You were born on a Friday (ruled by Venus) so you are naturally Venusian. Your natal Venus is conjunct Mars in the 5th house, so learn what that means for Gemini lagnas (tip: learn to control your lust or it can be your undoing). Venus rules your 5th and 12th house. Since Rahu (your North node) is positioned in the 12th house, Venus plays an important role for you. Much of your destiny involves 12th house matters (detachment, hidden matters, spiritual enlightenment). Your bhrigu bindu (destiny point) is also in the 12th house. Research what this means.

Have fun!

So if you factor free will, why exactly are there 'pre-designated' evil people from a past life that need to be punished? Why have they exist in the first place? NTA but I have Saturn square Venus and no luck in love. I'm spiritually a loner and have not had a single actual relationship in my life. There's a lot of apathy, that's what I feel when I talk to women and feel unmotivated for serious engagements. Not only women, friendships, everything. All social interaction feels draining since I have to invest emotionally in something that's going to steal my time.

Deep down I crave relationships, but I also feel them very draining. Emotionally, economically, spiritually, intellectually. Any experiences with that aspect?

Before looking at Venus, a competent astrologer checks the foundation of the 7th House (Marriage/Partners). Your 7th House is Leo.

In a Day chart, the Triplicity Rulers of the Fire element are the Sun, Jupiter, and Saturn. The condition of these three planets determines the entire support structure for relationships in your life.

The Sun is located in Libra (9th House). This is the Sun is in Fall. The primary architect of your partnerships has no essential power and no light. You attract people who are fundamentally weak, performative, or who rely on you for their identity.

>Venus-Saturn Square

Saturn is in Cancer, which is the 10th Sign relative to Libra. In Hellenistic physics, this means Saturn is Overcoming (dominating) Venus via a superior square.

Valens is explicit:

>"In all cases Saturn, when in opposition [or hard aspect] to Venus... chills or contaminates marriages."

Because Saturn is the Out-of-Sect Malefic and is striking Venus from a position of superiority while being essentially undignified, he completely crushes the significations of Venus. Because Saturn is the Out-of-Sect Malefic and is striking Venus from a position of superiority while being essentially undignified, he completely crushes the significations of Venus.

Because Saturn (You) is in the 10th sign from the Sun (Them), you dominate the partner, but since you are in the 6th house (Bad Fortune), you likely drag them down into your own misery or health issues. There is no reception here. You hate them for being weak, and they resent you for being cold.

The chart does not support a happy, romantic marriage. It supports, at best, a business-like arrangement with someone older or austere, likely later in life (Saturn delays). Focus on the 9th house (Philosophy/Foreign Travel) where your Sun and Venus are located. Your only escape from the 6th/8th house axis of misery is to leave your locale or bury yourself in study.

>Saturn is the Out-of-Sect Malefic

Hmm, isn't my Saturn an in-sect malefic? Saturn is in a diurnal chart, the Sun is above the horizon which means he doesn't punish the native but rather creates a life full of lessons and discipline. Even though it feels like a punishment but it's mainly self-inflicted. I see diurnal Saturn as constructive instead of destructive.

I do suffer of "misery" but and maybe drag people down. I don't have so much money or a solid job to invest in partners and that keeps me uninterested in love. But yeah the reading is overall accurate, Saturn square Venus makes it kinda tragic but it is what it is. Thanks.

Hazel once said that Mars in 12th saps the will to live. He had it, I have it, I feel like it's somewhat true, even tho you have it in rulership, it's ofc also debilitated by retrograde, and opposed by the other malefic. At the very least it scatters my energy and in hard aspect to my sun makes me angry. But you do have Jupiter in Aries so that helps. Virgo Moons are pretty nervous or anxious

Gemini Moon should help with this as it wants to be free and have fun, atho it can also be heartless

That was from Chani Nicholas but here is my interpretation of your chart as someone who has been studying it on and off throughout the years.

>Scorpio Rising with the Domicile Lord of the Hour-Marker being Mars in Capricorn Exalted in a night chart in the 3rd whole sign house co present with Mercury, The North Node, Uranus & Neptune.

Having the ruler of the Ascendant in the 3rd whole sign house means that these significations are important you in your life more than the average person. The 3rd house has to deal with Siblings/Brothers, Sisters including half-siblings & step-siblings. Relatives, extended family, kin. Aunts, uncles, cousins, nephews, nieces, and possibly even grandparents. So you might have a strong relationship with someone who is one of those to you or they have been very impactful in your life direction. It also has to do with Neighbors, Neighborhood, places around your home, your city, community, epically local. Immediate environment. "Third places" In sociology, a "third place" refers to a social space that is distinct from home ("first place") and work ("second place"), providing a neutral ground for people to gather and interact informally.

- Coffee shops, bars, parks, libraries, and community centers, etc.

Local governance, community organizing, the Queen, Authority

Also Friends, especially early childhood and local friends in your area. The kids you grew up with & Local acquaintances

Travel- especially short distance travel, short journeys(moon having its joy here) local travel within your city or country, movement in general, modes of transportation: cars, horses, bikes, motorcycles, etc. A more modern signification of the 3rd house is Communication, messages, writing, speaking, your voice, how you express yourself, conveying information, disseminating information (a lot of singers and great orators have their ruler of Asc in the 3rd)

Early education, childhood education(kindergarten through high school)

the most striking thing is that stellium in capricorn 3h. with the scorpio ascendant with pluto in the 1st house, i can only imagine the kind of things you've been through, if i may say. somebody intellectually focused. rather secretive and reserved, but clever. especially with that sun in the 4th house and closely conjunct the ic, i imagine you're somebody who spends much, much of your time on self-reflection; a bit in your own head in this way. the sun, however, is loosely (enough for me to count it, anyway, and at least mundanely) opposite the leo moon in the 10th house. being born on the full moon is lucky in some ways. there is a balance inherent in the being, but at the same time, that can just become inconsistency. perhaps you struggle to put yourself out there when it is your true desire. and it is another problem, where there is an imbalance of emotionality, where the soul (moon) is filled with passion, while the ego (sun) is hesitant to express it fully, especially with that capricorn mercury. if i am correct, i recommend – and i notice it often with scorpio risings, who are frequently natural artists by way of their house order – meditating this through artistic creation and proper expression, though i'm sure that 3rd house with all of its writing and communicative ability is a wonderful vessel as well, especially to transform the emotion into something that can be stomachied by your rationalism.

what else.. venus is exactly conjunct saturn in capricorn and the 3rd house. perhaps there are problems in the area of romance in which you feel too reserved to allow yourself to be known. in venus's other domains, such as in values and ability for idealism, it can create a generally defensive, egocentric nature. maybe you are of a pessimistic mind, which may very well be informed by real world experiences – therefore intellectualised, which the 3rd house is definitely used to – however, it does not make for a healthy venusian sense. after all, it is important to have a balance, rather than in one or the other direction. on that, you may have to grow out of that nature throughout life; venus is sociality in general, and i imagine it is a trait that effects your relationships. well, saturn will do as it does in that regard, and you will find your defences cannot always be up, lest you lose the important things to you. interestingly, mars is also conjunct uranus. you are certainly very independent, not somebody who likes to be told what to do, and rather to think for yourself. how aquarian. due to mars' nature as a malefic and uranus the unpredictable force it is, however, you may sometimes act irrationally, again to the detriment of those around you, and to your conscience. that uranian energy can absolutely be of use, but a sense of temperance is always good.

So your Ascendant is at 29° of Gemini. This is very very close to being 0° of Cancer which would change the entire chart. I would make sure the birth certificate time is 100% accurate to the minute and not a rounded time like 6:30 or 7:00. My pet peeve is having charts where the Ascendant changes within the minute so move it forward at least 1 minute to make sure it doesn't change into Cancer...with all that being said assuming this chart is accurate you have Saturn Rx at 28° Gemini exactly conjunct your Ascendant in a night chart. Having Saturn in the 1st house is especially difficult in a night chart but ESPECIALLY if it is exactly in your Ascendant within 3°

You have a Scorpio Stellium which is very potent Scorpio energy. Thank you very much for the detailed reply. Yes, my chart is definitely not rounded - it is accurate to-the-minute.

Saturn in the 1st House within 3deg of my Ascendant is bad because....it's the Planet of Restriction and Discipline in the area of my surface level vibes and outward personality? Something like that? That's my guess. I do come off withdrawn and awkward. I prefer being in larger social groups where I can just be one among many vibing with each other, if that makes sense. I REALLY don't like having people look at me and scrutinize me which is kinda why I'm a bit nervous being on a site like this haha

The image is a close-up selfie of a cat with a large, round face and a pink nose. The cat's eyes are wide open, and it appears to be looking directly at the camera. The cat has a light-colored fur with a hint of orange and white on its face. The background is out of focus, but it seems to be a room with a light-colored wall. There are no visible texts or other objects in the image. The style of the image is candid and informal, capturing a moment of the cat's life.

Mars in Cancer Retrograde might make you a bit indecisive; Saturn in Virgo means....well, first of all you'd be pretty young. Maybe 18 at the oldest, this might be a ~2007 baby fresh out of high school thing comparing yourself neurotically to others on social media.

Age aside, Saturn in Virgo does jive with being more encouraged by Saturnian Order and Discipline and Restriction to be nitpicky of your performance your Sagittarius Sun, Gemini Moon, and Aquarius Ascending probably means you're a nerdy brainiac of some kind (common on 4chan)

Hmm, when you say 'purposely' underperforming, what makes you think it might be on purpose?

I've put my chart on here from time to time. I must warn you, I am a whiny bitch.

I know I really shouldn't be asking this but is there anything in my chart that could indicate suicidal attempts or an early death (by will)?

From what I understand, 8th house and more specifically having Saturn in 8H can indicate a long life.

I'm always hoping that maybe I will get an incurable terminal disease at a young age, or hopefully die before I'm 75. Unless they figure out to weed out alzheimers and dementia, I would like to die when my mind is still intact somewhat, but I am not afraid of death or becoming older, more so just losing agency and control of your own body and clouded consciousness.

I am very tired, and I have people and family that i love, but they all rely on me. We are all poor and basically drowning in financial problems. Very 8H, but no inheritances or inheritances that miraculously always taken away from me in ways that can't really be dealt with legally. I'm not really interested in money, I am just interested in being left the fuck alone. When will I die, or when is a good time to die? I am planning to die by age 25 if things keep going the way they're going for me. Prison planet is not worth it, and I crave nothing but sleep.

the fact that none of us including myself have a support system. I have nobody to rely on for help, and I can't trust anyone with having my back. It just gets exhausting, and enforcing boundaries in this situation is a lot more difficult than it may seem on the surface, because that's exactly what I would do if it wasn't more complicated than just "oh I help my family and friends with stuff and get carried away". It really isn't like that.

Any interesting things you notice in this chart? It's not for me, it's for a literal child predator pedophile from Kuwait who someone I know encountered on Discord back in 2024 said child predator pedophile is also mentally disabled (IQ around 65), has cerebral palsy (bent wrists, sagging chin fat, protruding fat sections; notable in the nude pics she sent of herself to minors), is a neglected family member of a Palestinian-Kuwaiti family her family considers her a nuisance to be swept under the rug and so they let her just be a menace on the internet all-day-every-day, she is female Chris Chan except middle eastern, dumber, even more disabled and childlike unfortunately she has blackmailed multiple minors on the internet, including young children, soliciting nudes from them and threatening to release those nudes if they don't do what she wants. Despite her retardation she has a manipulative streak. She almost always fails at it, however, because of her retardation, but because she does it all day every day, it sometimes works for her on rare occasion personally I noticed that her natal Saturn and her 12th house cusp are arguably conjunct Fixed Star Algol (the Demon Star, the Medusa, the beheader, the star that makes one lose one's head/mind) and it makes sense because Saturn in Taurus Retrograde has definitely imposed restriction/limits/harshness on her self-worth, her comforts, her sexual desires, her body, her physique and she gets crazy being left alone (12th House) and ignored by people for even a short amount of time. In the past she'd threaten 10 year olds on the internet with suicide for not responding to her fast enough (she would meet them on Roblox and take them to Roblox Sex Dungeons and other gross things like that, she would also post pics and videos bragging about her Roblox weddings with underage kids...and be stupid enough to leave them on her YouTube channel for people to see; she had them up on her youtube since 2019 until her older sister forced her to delete in 2024 after more scrutiny was placed on her family)

the Sun represents Soul/spirit where the Moon represents Mind and body in Greek philosophy Mind is the summit of the soul, so both Sun and Moon end up being mind however because the soul becomes lost in the world in the current age, Moon becomes closer associated with mind by its changeable nature in any case, Moon is said to also represent the physical brain I believe mixed metaphors a bit here, but essentially, Mind in its highest form is said to be the part of the soul which interfaces with the realms of being above itself so Sun is like that part, whereas Moon is like the body of that principle, which is composed of and contains within itself the body of sense-data, unconscious drives, reactive thought patterns, and especially the memories which compose the majority of ordinary mental experience.

in a sense Sun is that initial principle, where Moon is that principle mingled with life and death.

That said, this judgement is mostly related to how one perceives and handles the native. In a sense we naturally embody the Moon more so than the Sun because Moon is the principle of body, but also of reaction(wheras the Sun is action).

However the Sun in day charts takes preeminence due to being the sect light, so for some day sect people the Sun can be a more helpful tell to their personality, fortunes, and even sometimes their bodies.

this'll tell you a lot about a person to be sure, but it's a very intimate and internal sort of thing, whereas the Moon is more externally visible, because you have it with you your whole life and it never leaves you however once we begin to see different aspects of the chart, other significators can take primacy in terms of immediate relevance to the given topic.

>Nice calculation BTW

I let Stellarium do the work. What I do is I look at the position of the Sun in the chart and then I find a day and month which has the Sun in roughly that position. It doesn't have to be exact.

Then I look at the position of Uranus in the chart and find a year that matches that position.

Lastly I look at the Moon. This is the one that let's me really home in on the exact time since the Moon is the object that moves the fastest along the ecliptic. Here it is important though to uncheck "Topocentric coordinates" in Stellarium's configuration menu. What that does is it puts you at the center of the Earth instead of the surface.

That will only have a small effect on the positions of the Sun and planets because they are far away but it will affect the Moon since it's close by. I've noticed that all natal chart calculators gives you the positions based on a geocentric point of view which is why you have to change that setting.

That gives me the time and date but what about the location? For that I look at the Medium Coeli (MC) and the Ascendant (ASC).

MC is the point on the ecliptic the intersected the meridian at your time of birth so that gives me the longitude of the birthplace.

ASC is the point on the ecliptic that intersected the eastern horizon at your time of birth and that gives me the latitude.

>Maybe I could expedite it to my 24th.

Or you could stick around a bit.

The image is a page from a document that appears to be a text excerpt from a book or article. The text is in black and white, and the font is serif, which is characteristic of a typewriter or a printed document from the past. The page is titled "CLASS/CONTROLS" at the top, indicating that this is likely a section or chapter within the document.

The text is divided into two main sections. The first section is titled "Experiments using human subjects are subject to a special class of biases which do not normally have to be considered by a physical scientist." This section discusses the nature of the biases and their classification as special biases.

The second section is titled "Sun sign bias." It explains that the "Sun sign" refers to the constellation of the zodiac (i.e., Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius, Pisces). It states that in the zodiac, the sun plays an important role in the average chart and that people are generally familiar with the characteristics of the sun sign. However, it also mentions that the sun sign has a specific horoscope house, which is not the same as the house of birth.

The text continues to discuss the importance of the sun sign in astrology, stating that the sun sign is a "major potential bias which required specific control in the experiment design." It also mentions that the major biases were as follows:

1. Sun sign bias
2. Moon sign bias
3. Venus sign bias
4. Mars sign bias
5. Jupiter sign bias
6. Saturn sign bias
7. Uranus sign bias
8. Neptune sign bias
9. Pluto sign bias

The text concludes with a statement that "To correct for this, each member of the test group was matched to a member of the control group who was born under the same sun sign." It also mentions that following the consulted astrologers' recommendations, the age difference between these two groups was calculated to be "dissimilar."

The text concludes with a definition of the term "dissimilar" as "As defined by the consulted astrologers, this meant that every planet from Saturn inward will be likely to have changed location by sign and house."

The style of the image is formal and academic, with a focus on the scientific and astrological aspects of the text. The text is in English, and the document appears to be from an older time period, given the typeface and formatting.

Astrology is a fake pseudo-science for midwits.

Shawn Carlson published a double-blind experiment in NATURE, one of the most prestigious scientific journals on the planet. He got 28 astrologers, not skeptics, actual professional astrologers who were selected by the National Council for Geocosmic Research. These astrologers themselves agreed the test was fair. They were given natal charts and asked to match them to personality profiles from the California Psychological Inventory. Result? They performed at chance. Literally no better than a monkey throwing darts. These weren't amateurs either, these were the people the astrological community themselves said were the best. Published in Nature, volume 318. Go read it. I'll wait.

The reason astrology feels accurate is entirely explained by the Barnum Effect, named after P.T. Barnum. Bertram Forer demonstrated in 1948 that when you give people vague personality descriptions and tell them it was written specifically for them, they rate it as highly accurate. He gave every single student in his class the same personality reading and the average accuracy rating was 4.26 out of 5. This has been replicated dozens of times. Horoscopes are deliberately written to be vague enough that anyone can see themselves in them. "You sometimes feel insecure but project confidence." WOW INCREDIBLE that describes literally every human being who has ever lived. View SameOCRGoogleiqdbSauceNAOTrace horoscope-chart4def-700__radix_a (...).png, 229KiB, 700x1124

The image is a screenshot of a birth chart, which is a graphical representation of a person's astrological chart. The chart is divided into two main sections: the "Aspects" section, which shows the positions of the planets and their relationships to the other planets, and the "Astrology" section, which shows the positions of the planets and their relationships to the zodiac signs.

The "Aspects" section is divided into three columns, each representing a different aspect. The first column shows the positions of the planets in the zodiac, with the Sun at the top, followed by the Moon, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune. The sixth statement, "Can correctly identify someone's heritage just from their face shape..." is accompanied by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible.

The image is a satirical representation of a person's life, with each statement suggesting a different aspect of their life, such as their age, their political views, their ability to be outraged, their heritage, and their ability to correctly identify someone's face shape. The caricature of the man's face is simple and drawn with a black and white color scheme, emphasizing the humor of the statement. The text is arranged in a grid-like pattern, with each line containing a different statement, and the visual elements are not clearly visible due to the lack of detail in the image.

intuition has always been a special ability, it's channeling intelligence from the ether, the brain's intelligence is designed to be faulty, and there are jammers set up in place to mess with it, that's why meditation teachers tell you to "quiet the mind", the less you think with the brain, the more your brain can channel intelligence from the ether instead, that's how you get people having precognitions, sensing danger, and movie shit like that. There is no telepathy in the sense of reading someone's thought because words are a thing of the brain also, intuition works with images, shapes and vibes, so telepathy looks like that too

Yeah they do this. I heard a comedian say that the big niggas in american sports were probably a result of trying to build super niggers for slavery. Hitler and the other weird psychological programmes were obsessed with certain kinds of people and mating them. Sports family try to breed to pass their genes on and we are seeing more and more families and sports. Some rich nerds are breeding and having as many kids as possible in the hope of increasing and passing on their high IQ's to as many children as possible. Crispr and stuff probably being used on rich people to edit certain undesirable parts of their genomes or whatever the fuck that stuff does. And there are psychological programmes and drugging programmes aimed at changing people's brain chemistry through crazy experiences or drugs blocking certain pathways. There were also a few declassified projects of intel agencies doing some weird stuff in poor countries. The quest to create the perfect human has been ongoing for a while. More often than not they are probably wanted for a military purpose of slavery type deal. It's all out there in public. Some elites are regrowing body parts with stem cells to various degrees of success. Some of these things are gentle and some are brutal. Thing is with these programmes is we never know for 100% how they are going to turn out so they just do them. Do whatever with the people who fail and then it gets declassified or whistleblown on 50 years later. Some things are still ongoing that were written off as failed experiments ethically and stuff.

The image is a cartoon-style illustration with a simple, flat color palette. At the center, there is a character with dark hair, wearing glasses and a red bow tie. The character appears to be a man with a serious expression, as indicated by his eyebrows and the downward tilt of his head. He is standing in front of a whiteboard with black text. The text reads, "OK, A FEW THINGS HAPPENED THIS WEEK." The text is in a casual, handwritten font, and the style of the text suggests a casual, informal tone. The character's posture and the text on the whiteboard suggest a narrative or a statement about events that occurred during the week. The overall style of the image is humorous and satirical, with a focus on the character's facial expression and the text on the whiteboard.

The image is a framed artwork that appears to be a painting or a print, featuring a figure that seems to be a person wearing a golden armor with a helmet and a cloak. The figure has long hair and is holding a staff. The armor is adorned with a pattern of scales and is embellished with gold and red accents. The background is dark, with a mix of green and black tones, and there are other figures and elements that are not clearly visible. The style of the artwork is reminiscent of Renaissance or Baroque art, characterized by its dramatic use of color, intricate details, and a sense of grandeur. The frame has a decorative design with a gold border and a central motif that appears to be a scroll or a scroll-like object. The image is presented in a square format, and the overall composition suggests a narrative or a story being told through the visual elements.

The statement at the top of the image reads "The 37 Year Old Noocticer." Below this, there are six statements, each accompanied by a corresponding visual element.

Starting from the top left, the first statement reads, "My gut says..." and is followed by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible. The second statement, "Has been noticing things for the best part of my life is surprising anymore," is accompanied by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible. The third statement, "Has been accused of being on every quadrant of the political axis at good faith anymore..." is accompanied by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible. The fourth statement, "Views nothing in good faith anymore..." is accompanied by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible. The fifth statement, "Doesn't get outraged anymore. Just notices..." is accompanied by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible. The sixth statement, "Can correctly identify someone's heritage just from their face shape..." is accompanied by a visual of a person's hand holding a small object, which is not clearly visible.

The image is a satirical representation of a person's life, with each statement suggesting a different aspect of their life, such as their age, their political views, their ability to be outraged, their heritage, and their ability to correctly identify someone's face shape. The caricature of the man's face is simple and drawn with a black and white color scheme, emphasizing the humor of the statement. The text is arranged in a grid-like pattern, with each line containing a different statement, and the visual elements are not clearly visible due to the lack of detail in the image.

Not exactly, you need to on right frequency first.

But anyway synchronicity and Intuition are simply the byproduct of being connected to the source once again.

What we call super ability are simply natural ability when Man is aligned with the nature, aligned with the universe. But mankind lost it's way and forgot due to science and intuition has always been a special ability, it's channeling intelligence from the ether, the brain's intelligence is designed to be faulty, and there are jammers set up in place to mess with it, that's why meditation teachers tell you to "quiet the mind", the less you think with the brain, the more your brain can channel intelligence from the ether instead, that's how you get people having precognitions, sensing danger, and movie shit like that. There is no telepathy in the sense of reading someone's thought because words are a thing of the brain also, intuition works with images, shapes and vibes, so telepathy looks like that too

Yeah they do this. I heard a comedian say that the big niggas in american sports were probably a result of trying to build super niggers for slavery. Hitler and the other weird psychological programmes were obsessed with certain kinds of people and mating them. Sports families try to breed to pass their genes on and we are seeing more and more families and sports. Some rich nerds are breeding and having as many kids as possible in the hope of increasing and passing on their high IQ's to as many children as possible. Crispr and stuff probably being used on rich people to edit certain undesirable parts of their genomes or whatever the fuck that stuff does. And there are psychological programmes and drugging programmes aimed at changing people's brain chemsity through crazy experiences or drugs blocking certain pathways. There were also a few declassified projects of intel agencies doing some weird stuff in poor countries. The quest to create the perfect human has been ongoing for a while. More often than not they are probably wanted for a military purpose of slavery type deal. It's all out there in public. Some elites are regrowing body parts with stem cells to various degrees of success. Some of these things are gentle and some are brutal. Thing is with these programmes is we never know for 100% how they are going to turn out so they just do them. Do whatever with the people who fail and then it gets declassified or whistleblown on 50 years later. Some things are still ongoing that were written off as failed experiments ethically and stuff.

How are they linked to tribes like the Phonecians and Scythians?

Are the Celts linked?

Red hair is an interesting thing.

Yes this in involves the Jews too, or at least the semetic tribes of the time who probably interbred with them.

Man, I have no idea. I just know that there's a deep, esoteric mystery behind red hair that I've never been able to penetrate. Heinlein knew something, but I don't know what it was.

Just to add a couple things, his poem is using the imagery of sirens/mermaids, both as dangerous temptresses and in the references to popping like a soap bubble, which is what happens to mermaids in the original "Little Mermaid" by Hans Christian Andersen, since they did not have "Christian souls". This might play into the common south park joke that gingers have no souls, but Heinlein's claim obviously predates that show.

Everything you say I have heard before. But the historical and mythological references to redheads are so broad and peculiar that it is impossible for me to conclude that it's so simple. Some factors to consider:

- Red-headed giants in mythology
- Red-haired mummies in China, Egypt, and Peru
- The Maori New Zealanders have legends of a red-haired forest tribe that they genocided after arrival
- Phoenician/Viking red-hair and their worldwide voyages
- Neanderthals with red hair and theories about relict populations of them
- Ghenghis Khan, Esau, Mohammed, David, Ramesses II, Judas all having red hair and religious significance
- The simultaneous stereotype that Jews had red hair and their apparent loathing of red-heads
- The sacrifices of specifically red-haired foreigners attributed to the cult of Osiris
- Medieval legends of "red Jews" (who had red hair) and their role in a coming apocalypse kill yourself. you certainly don't understand genetics even on a surface level - kikes are arabs.

And it becomes extremely hard to find good academic information about any of this. When you begin digging it becomes clear that there is something "they" don't want us knowing about all of this.

NEANDERTHAL dna has by far its highest concentrations in SCANDINAVIA, radiating out from there and dropping off sharply at the edge of europe.

meanwhile kikes have nearly no neanderthal dna, and NIGGERS HAVE ZERO - which is why the JDF kikes started pushing this neanderkike psyop in the first place - because people were becoming aware that niggers simply were not human.

neanderthal traits:

>high degree of physical strength >highly adapted to cold weather nordic/northern climates >tool creation and use was particularly advanced for their time >strong social bonds as evidenced by archeology of their settlement sites - suggesting high degree of empathy let's check these against KIKES:

ZERO.

check a genetic distance/distribution map or chart and see how KIKES have nearly no neanderthal dna because they're exactly the same as other semites/arabs from fucking arabia.

funny how many US flags post this shit - some will be of the 10+ million kikes in the US, but a lot are retarded fuckwits that fall for the same 3-5 sensationalist images that the jdf repost endlessly and are too low iq to look anything up themselves.

And Germanic languages have individual names for numbers from 1-12 instead of just 1-10 like most languages.

about 15 years ago, evidence came out showing that subsaharan africans were the only ones on the planet that had zero neanderthal dna - meaning they were really part of humanity, despite every bit of propaganda the kikes tried to throw at europeans over the previous decades.

a few years after that came the evidence that subsaharan africans had what was labelled 19% 'ghost' dna coming from 3 different lower primate ancestors with one of them closely resembling the chimpanzee.

this pushed niggers even further away from humanity - but niggers are the main bioweapon of the kikes - and kikes didn't want racial unity within european peoples via a shared neanderthal genetic lineage - the cold climate, higher iq, stronger more empathic ancestor.

so they started well-poisoning the concept of neanderthals by a mixture of two things: make a handful of psyop images with sensationalist concepts on it, but zero actual evidence and no genetic distribution charts whatsoever, just a bunch of photos of inbred throwback kikes - and saying they're "neanderthal" to put eurogene people off the idea. the second part was to refer to a 'history channel' type cryptozoology pile of shit that claimed "neanderthals weren't high iq, advanced humanoids - instead they were vampire monsters!!!!"

then they link the two together, endlessly repost the same things in extremely similar threads year after year for over a decade, and every time they gather a few more retarded fucks to repost their idiocy, so that whenever anyone posts about 'neanderthals' instead of european unity through ancestral ties, they have the pavlovian response of saying "dem jews is the reel neanderthel" despite zero evidence for that, and all evidence against that.

The image is a painting depicting a nude woman in a dynamic pose, seemingly emerging from a body of water. She has long, flowing hair that cascades down her back and shoulders, and her hair is caught in the act of flowing into the water. Her body is turned slightly to the side, and her head is raised, with her hair framing her face. The woman's pose suggests movement and a sense of freedom.

The background is a dark, textured wall that contrasts with the lighter, more vibrant colors of the woman's skin and hair. The wall has a rough, uneven texture, and there is a hint of a red-orange hue, which could suggest a fire or a flame.

The painting is executed in a realistic style with a focus on the interplay of light and shadow, creating a sense of depth and three-dimensionality. The artist has used a palette dominated by earth tones, with the exception of the woman's skin, which is rendered in a soft, golden-yellow hue.

The painting is signed "J.M.W. Turner" in the lower right corner, indicating the artist's identity. The signature is in a bold, cursive font, which is typical of Turner's style. The overall composition and style of the painting suggest it is from the late 19th century, a period known for its emphasis on realism and the depiction of human figures in natural settings.

The stereotype that all red-heads are Jewish comes from the middle ages; it's not modern. You're just a dipshill who has never read a real academic book. Here's a citation for you, moron:

The Red Jews are a mythical people who populated a shared Jewish-Christian imagination. They are envisioned as a tribe of ruddy-faced, redheaded, red-bearded Jewish warriors, bedecked in red attire who reside in isolation at the fringes of the known world. They are generally identified with the Ten Lost Tribes of Israel who, according to a well-known Jewish legend, have been living in an uncharted place since being exiled in the eighth century BCE, when the Assyrians destroyed their ancient kingdom.

Also, as I said above, "The simultaneous stereotype that Jews had red hair and their apparent loathing of red-heads". How do you reconcile that with your bullshit?

Yes, and the Nephilim were Neanderthals. Here's what happened:

>Neanderthals range south

>African hominids range north

>Neanderthals hunt, kill, and rape African hominids.

>Hybrids born

>Hybrids harder to tell apart from African hominids, except for red hair

>African hominids start sacrificing red-haired hybrids

>Red-haired hybrids don't want to be sacrificed anymore

>Red-haired hybrids create the scapegoat ritual and concept of God

>Civilization

Everything since then has been an added complication built on top of this core system of sacrifice. The meaning of Sin itself is the performing of sacrifices, and the word sacrifice means to make sacred, and the word sacred means separate. So, a Sin is the act of separating a thing to make it distinct. This is what the African hominids were doing by separating the distinct red-haired neanderthal hybrids from their group and killing them, but the neanderthal hybrids used this to create the ritual and the God, and here we are today, many of us with hybrid blood, crazy mad and fighting among ourselves because of our Neanderthal DNA.

In this view, where do non-red-haired white people fit in? Are they part of the hybrid class?

Your ideas are interesting, but my current thinking would delineate 4 broad groups: red-haired whites, non-red-haired whites, shitskins (anyone with black hair), various hybrids of the other 3 types. This is somewhat supported by data that shows red hair, black hair, and blond-brown (same pigment, different amounts) hair to each be related to distinct pigments/genes.

There are also many claims that the red-hair of humans is unrelated to the genes that caused red-hair in neanderthals, that it was a separate mutation from around the Black Sea. Not saying I believe it necessarily, just want your take.

I don't propose North to South, that's someone's official theory. They were moving South as the ice ages and ice fields came, heading for warmer areas over time.

<https://www.smithsonianmag.com/smart-news/new-research-expands-neanderthals-genetic-legacy-modern-humans-180974099/>

The older claim that modern humans/Europeans only have 2-4% neanderthal dna is a poor estimate, while newer data suggests that there is a higher crossover in general with previous figures not having taken into account generally shared genes between neanderthals and other humanoids.

They're cold weather adapted, always were.

Worth a read:

It contradicts the 'out of africa' rubbish, stating instead more of an out of asia + multiple origin theory which makes a lot more sense.

The image is a screenshot of a text, likely from a book or article, with a focus on a conversation between two characters. The text is in English and appears to be discussing the concept of the Plasmaitite, a substance that is said to be a living information that travels up the optic nerve of a human to the pineal body. The conversation is between two characters, one of whom is named "Fat" and the other is named "Sirius."

The text is in a standard font and is divided into paragraphs, with the conversation taking place in a room with a table and chairs. The characters are engaged in a discussion about the Plasmaitite, its properties, and its connection to the Logos. The text is in a larger font size compared to the surrounding text, which is likely to draw attention to the conversation.

The image does not contain any images or graphics, and the focus is solely on the text. The style of the image is straightforward and appears to be a snapshot of a written conversation, likely from a book or article, as indicated by the context provided by the text.

The Phoenicians settled in Cyprus and nearby areas (Adonis=Adon) bringing that gene with them, and then sailed further north into Ireland, the British Isles, Scandinavia, etc. They were the Tuatha De Danann, in Greece the Spartans AKA the Dananns. The Fir Bolg that ruled before the arrival of Tuatha De Danann were slaves that escaped from their rule in Greece, according to the Irish legend. The Moors were also descendants of the Phoenicians, that's why the artwork in Spain portrays them like this. The official narrative that they were niggers and arabs is a cover story, they were slave traders that had thousands of shitskins slaves.

Take from it what you will, and as for neanderthal dna - keep reading into pure data and scientific articles, and watch out for US flags pushing this neanderkike psyop.

They never ever post anything scientific, and reuse the same handful of poorly thrown together images every single time.

for you personally, the high iq and high empathy/high trust society are big clues.

neanderthals had larger brain casings than modern humans - explains the 106-107 iq across scandinavia. cold weather adaption requires higher intelligence.

the high strength is also a big giveaway - something that is never ever explained by these neanderkike psyop faggots.

but enough clueless retards will fall for their sensationalist claims that it muddies the water and leads to more fuckwits reposting the same rubbish over and over.

The text box contains a message in white font that reads, "Hey You have more Neanderthal DNA than 0% of other customers." Below the text, there is a smaller text that states, "Neanderthals were prehistoric humans who interbred with modern humans before disappearing around 40,000 years ago." The image also features a close-up of a person's hand holding a strand of hair, which appears to be a long, straight, brown hair. The hand is positioned over a pile of books, suggesting a setting that could be a library or a study area. The overall style of the image is informational and educational, likely intended to convey a message about the genetic makeup of Neanderthals and their relationship with modern humans.

The map itself is a stylized representation of the Earth, with a blue background and a red outline of the continents. The continents are depicted with a mix of natural and human-made features, such as roads, buildings, and infrastructure. The map is oriented with the Atlantic Ocean on the left and the Pacific Ocean on the right, with the continents in the center.

The overall style of the image is playful and whimsical, with a touch of humor and a nod to pop culture references. The use of the word "madonna" in the text could be a reference to the famous singer Madonna, but without additional context, it's difficult to determine the exact connection.

Also, there's a huge amount of conflicting information about the actual colors of the famous Phoenician dyes, from red to purple to blue. The Tekhelet of the Jews, which they consider blue, was at least one of these dyes originally.

Are you categorically denying that there are any red-headed Jews, or is your position just that nobody is allowed to notice this or talk about it? David, Esau, Mohammed, Judas, Ghenghis KHAN (Cohen) were all red-haired. The "Red Jews (Rote Juden)" occupied a significant place in the medieval German imagination.

So anyone who talks about facts you don't like is automatically Jewish? Listen to yourself. Your behavior is the most perfect possible example of "the goyim know, shut it down."

esau was a canaanite race mixer, his hair color didn't matter however, as other biblical characters had red hair like king david

>And Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and inveigled them, and Esau was a valiant man in the field, and in the course of time went as usual to hunt; and he came as far as the field of Seir, the same is Edom.

>I have loved you," says the LORD. But you ask, 'How have you loved us?' 'Was not Esau Jacob's brother?' the LORD says. 'Yet I have loved Jacob, but Esau I have hated, and I have turned his mountains into a wasteland and left his inheritance to the desert jackals.

>And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them; and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it.

>Then Isaac called Jacob and blessed him and directed him, "You must not take a wife from the Canaanite women."

>Esau took his wives of the daughters of Canaan; Adah the daughter of Elon the Hittite, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anah the daughter of Zibeon the Hivite: Which were a grief of mind unto Isaac and to Rebekah.

>Esau marries Hittite (Canaanite) wives to the sorrow of his parents.

Chinese culture was founded by Huang-Di, the yellow emperor, or "blond heavenly god". All the classical ancient "Chinese" texts are full of nobles with light features. Migrating Aryans founded the Shang dynasty and ruled Mongolia for huge periods of time.

If you read "The Secret History of the Mongols", about the origin of Ghengis Khan's dynasty, they refer to the natives as "black-headed ones", in contrast to themselves. It's almost exactly how the blond, blue-eyed Sumerians referred to the native Mesopotamians they had conquered.

As a modern-day Macedonian, I can offer some info on this matter.

Our ancestors, the Ancient Macedonians were the oldest Aryans. Alexander of Macedon, Son of Philip the Second of Macedon, is the most famous emperor of the Argead dynasty.

Currently, we have about 55% of the Ancient Macedonian DNA.

Unfortunately, the Greeks, who are descended from Middle Easterners and Africans, are extremely envious of this simple fact. Consequently, between 1918 and 1928, they genocided Macedonians who lived in the region of Aegean Macedonia, south of modern-day Macedonia. From then on, they hate us and sabotage us politically, such as vetoing our country's membership in international organizations and unions.

Alexander was a deformed, psychotic kike who bowed down to the Jews (because he was related to them) and was famously beloved by Jews and featured in their synagogue art for centuries. The Macedonian kings were not Aryans. They were DORIANS, and the Dorians were just Western Semites who had adopted the Greek language, as also seen in the royalty of Thebes (coming from Cadmus).

The Ionians were the Aryans.

While Alexander was conquering the known world with his army of Macedonians, the Greeks stayed in the Peloponnese.

The mixing is sh*tlib fanfiction. He, like most conquerors, wanted to spread his (and his countrymen's) genes in the occupied territories. That's why there was a mass wedding between his Macedonian soldiers and Persian women. They basically cucked the defeated nations, which has been a norm in human history.

Meanwhile, no foreigner was touching the Macedonian women at home.

Kalergi wanted to do the opposite, i.e., wipe out Europeans by importing shitskin hordes.

[327 / 117]The image features a stylized illustration of a goat's head, which is the central focus of the composition. The goat's head is depicted in a stylized, detailed manner with a black background that contrasts sharply with the white outline of the goat's features. The goat's horns are prominent, extending upwards and outwards, and the eyes are large and expressive. The goat's mouth is open, revealing its teeth, and there is a small, curved line that appears to be a tongue sticking out from the side of the mouth.

Surrounding the goat's head is a pentagram, which is a five-pointed star with a cross at its center. The pentagram is outlined in white, and within the circle, there is a symbol that resembles a double-headed eagle with a cross on its head. The eagle's wings are spread out, and the cross is positioned above the eagle's head.

The image is presented in a square format, and the style of the image is reminiscent of traditional art, with a focus on the intricate details and the contrast between the black background and the white outline of the goat's features. There are no texts present in the image. The overall composition is symmetrical, with the goat's head centrally placed within the pentagram.

Gents.

How many of you are aware of the situation we're in?

I know you've seen the widely shared memes and info graphs linking some of our "favorite" influencers (Sam Hyde, Linus, Jones, almost every Hollywood actor...most politicians etc.) to Masonic symbolism...but did you know that these people exist in your home town (most likely).

I don't know what they're ALL up to...but many work as crisis actors when needed, or protestors (not all).

The thing is, start following these people on social media, find their friends, it won't be long until you come across accounts that appear to be gang related or possible human trafficking.

They are everywhere, and communicate in the open.

Many are VERY small time "influencers"...usually ones you never heard of. Who makes all those TikTok shorts? Who are all these actors making this seemingly random content?

It's not random.

Sometimes they're trust fund kids, who's daddy's set them up with a good advertising company that knows how to swing the algorithms.

Many other times it's comms. In the open.

Baby Goat Bottle Groups are a fairly big one. Ritual Circles.

Look for VERY small time content creators in your area or state. Follow them. Find their friends (on social media or open source info gathering, do not engage IRL some are dangerous).

You'll see what I mean.

The image is a close-up photograph of a person's face, likely from a film or television scene. The individual has short, blonde hair and is smiling. They are wearing a dark-colored shirt with a graphic design on the front, which includes a red and blue rectangle with the letters "P" and "L" in white. The person is also wearing a blue headband with a clear plastic piece that appears to be a snorkel or diving mask. The background is dark and out of focus, suggesting a dimly lit environment. The person's expression and attire suggest a playful or humorous context. There are no discernible texts or logos in the image.

The image shows a banner hanging from a structure, likely a ceiling, with a white background. The banner is predominantly green and yellow, featuring a stylized depiction of a green pickle with a white hat and a green mustache. Below the pickle, the text reads "Peter Pepper's Pickles" in large, bold, yellow letters. Further below, the text "Home of the Crazy Cucumber" is written in smaller, black letters. The banner appears to be part of a larger structure, as suggested by the visible beams and ceiling structure in the background. The style of the image is a straightforward, non-artistic photograph with a focus on the banner.

The image is a detailed and vibrant illustration that appears to be a part of a larger artwork, possibly a painting or a tapestry, given the intricate design and the use of color. The scene is set in a classical architectural style, with a balcony and a staircase visible in the background. The balcony is adorned with a balustrade and a decorative railing, and there are several statues and sculptures placed on the balcony.

In the foreground, there are two figures engaged in a conversation. One figure is seated on a bench, wearing a long dress and a headpiece, while the other figure is standing, holding a book. The standing figure is wearing a long green dress and a headpiece, and is holding a book in her hands.

The setting appears to be a courtyard or an open space within a building, with a large archway in the background. The archway is decorated with a decorative pattern and has a window with a view of the sky and clouds. The sky is painted in a light blue color, and there are birds flying in the sky.

The text on the bottom of the image reads "LIBERAMUS" and "LIBER STATICA," which could be part of a larger phrase or title. The overall style of the image is realistic with a focus on the details of the architecture and the figures, and it is rendered in a manner that suggests it is a work of art.

The left photograph has a watermark that reads "cristobalbanforenta - Follow" and "@marianela_lenny". The right photograph has a similar watermark, but the text is not fully visible. The background of both photographs is blurred, making it difficult to discern any specific details.

The image appears to be a social media post, as indicated by the presence of a Twitter handle "@cristobalbanforenta" and a Facebook profile picture "@marianela_lenny". The text on the right photograph includes a message that reads, "A little rain didn't stop a big turnout at Martin's Landing. Thanks to County, a great crowd at the Fair." The text is in Spanish and is likely a response to a tweet or a post on the social media platforms.

The second bullet point states: "Christopher Bashaw: A digital marketer specializing in real estate, producing property videos, drone footage, and marketing content for agents."

The third bullet point mentions: "Ashlee Bashaw: A content creator/stylist in Kansas City, focused on hair, beauty, and lifestyle content."

At the bottom of the image, there is a note that reads: "If you're looking for someone specific, the context like the platform or niche is important, as 'Bashaw' is a surname shared by various creators and public figures."

You do realize that what you've stumbled across is a recruitment ring. Look at the anons engaging with you.
Esoteric mysticism with a Christian veneer is what Freemasons are.

The group itself is a control mechanism to ensure consolidation of economic entities through an incredibly large organization of white collar citizens.

Criminal organizations are mostly just for money laundering and occasionally child trafficking.

Satanic groups are primarily used to cause social chaos, and provide staffing for the more reprehensible aspects of modern society (planned parenthood, for example, has a disproportionately high percentage of satanists as employees).

While these organizations communicate online in symbolic codes, only drug trafficking criminal gangs are likely to actually hurt you.

The real evil shit happens far above and outside of our purview, inside biomedical research facilities and black ops centers and on private islands. They communicate in business jargon through official government channels.

There are large groups of lower class pedophile rings affiliated with the global cartel, as was exposed in the Satanic Panic and Boys Town decades ago. These are basically MKUltra operations. You leave the victims alive to grow up scarred and hateful, providing a pool of... school shooters and trannies and other dysfunctional individuals who can be activated by general, not targeted, social symbols.

In the center, there is a figure that resembles a ghost or a supernatural being, with a ghostly appearance and a wide-open mouth, which could indicate surprise or shock. On the right, there is a figure that resembles Jesus Christ, with a crown of thorns on its head and a cross on its chest. This figure is depicted in a posture that suggests a moment of suffering or sacrifice.

The image displays a circular patch with a black background. At the top of the patch, there is a white text that reads "UN LUMINE ATHERS" in a serif font. Below this, in a smaller serif font, is the phrase "VICTOR AD PORTAM STELTAE" in Latin.

Centered within the patch is a white unicorn with a red mane and tail, standing on a globe. The unicorn is depicted in a dynamic pose, with its left leg raised and its right leg on the globe. The globe is colored in shades of blue and green, with a white outline. The unicorn is positioned on a red ribbon that extends from the center of the globe, suggesting a connection or bond between the two. The ribbon is outlined in white, contrasting with the dark background of the patch.

The overall style of the image is graphic and appears to be a representation of a patch or emblem, possibly associated with a military or official organization. The use of the Latin phrase "VICTOR AD PORTAM STELTAE" suggests a connection to the Roman Empire or a similar historical context. The unicorn and globe are symbolic of the Roman Empire, and the red ribbon could represent a ribbon of victory or a symbol of unity. The black background provides a stark contrast, making the elements of the patch stand out clearly.

The image is a split-screen comparison of two scenes. On the left, there is a painting depicting a classical architectural scene with a central building with a balcony and columns. The building is adorned with a red curtain and a statue of a man in a green robe. The sky is blue with clouds, and there are figures in the background, including a woman in a red dress and a man in a green robe. The painting has a classical style with detailed figures and a rich color palette.

On the right, there is a modern-looking scene with a man in a white lab coat and white hair, looking off to the side. He is standing in front of a building with a sign that reads "EMO'S" and "ASSOCIATED WITH TURNER." The building has a modern design with a large sign and a neon sign that reads "EMO'S." The background shows a nighttime cityscape with lights and a bridge.

Raphael's transfiguration painting has a BLACK SPHERE at the upper right but all images produces by the Vatican of it, place a black square over it.

And in Hieroglyphics, in Egypt the common knowledge is that Star and Gate are One symbol but Wikipedia makes up stuff about two different symbols.

It's irksome. You know what NASA and the Sistine Chapel have in common?

It's literally the Jews. We don't have any Masonic lodges in my town but theres one Odd Fellows lodge. The reason why it may seem that Masons are behind everything is because they're tightly knit with Jews. Some of them marry Jews and thus their kids become Jews. Then they unironically believe they're God's chosen people thus better than goy cattle. Some of them are affiliated with Satanic rituals including rape and murder. You have better luck chasing Satanists than Jews and Masons though. There was this one time I rubber hosed a confession from one Satanist but it turned out he hadn't personally done anything yet, only knew people who had. One killed and chopped another, went to prison. Just recently I heard from news that he was released from prison after like 15 years and was immediately killed. All but the rich ones go to prison, Anon.

What youv come across is the literal deep state. Its a luciferian/satanic sub-population that makes up as much as a quart of the population.

Your only noticing the ones in media, and they run all media. Its actually an entire section of society running pretty much everything you can imagine.

I started at your level, mapping out various networks based on their codes/markers. Unfortunately what i started to realize is that its an entire population that exists adjacent to what we think of as society

I believe most of them are essentially vessels for demons.

>Not all are aware of the human trafficking. We have to map them out, and make them aware that we know what they are doing collectively.

Pertains to end times in the Bible, where they make themselves known openly under the antichrist (they remain partly hidden until this juncture)

Also they run this place and let us speak relatively freely in order to keep tabs on us

We are not the majority, they are and they run most of society

it can be definitely/scientifically proven that media or recordings of speech contain NLP again, through the kind of math i describe + deep analysis of linguistic markers.

proceed with caution tho. but your going to find exactly what i found, which is that its not just a subset of the media, its the entire media and its occurring constantly in real time in the form of verbal communication with people this goes far beyond what your looking at, and you investigate it properly youll see that its essentially a substratum of reality you correctly said they dont understand what their doing, this is correct (the scale and intricacy supersedes the ability of conscious humans)

there are non human entities orchestrating these processes >supercomputers

Thats one hypothesis.

From what i can tell they are actual entities/spirits that can transmigrate between bodies within certain bloodlines

They use human bodies as hosts and can move from one body to another.

They communicate with each-other verbally through a system of homonym code. They use similar code in NLP scripts which they layer upon humans in everyday conversation

Yes they also communicate with eachother (and to control humans) through signs and sigils in p[pictograph form >lets see a pic

They cant visually be distinguished in most cases. Some people can sense them but that takes time. They are not averse to making themselves known , which they will do if you signal that your aware of them, but typically they prefer to hide their existence can however be proven, through analysis of speech using the formulas i outlined this is as close to proof as we can get.

Lol, I wondered about that.

They are trying to turn EVERYTHING into a metamaterial

Probably spraying that particulate matter (nano scale) so it imbues into all things.

If you can actively change the relative permeability and permittivity of all objects (because it would eventually be in all building materials and bodies) then that would be a hell of a thing.

I saw a Ted Talks where they talked about all things becoming a meta material and that's the only way I figured they could do it.

Want to see something wild? Take mushrooms and watch those 4chan x stories or sleep videos people have on often for background noise. I can't explain how or why, but vibrating at some different level I saw some things you aren't supposed to see. Listen to the sounds carefully, the droning is almost hypnotic, the symbols are very strange. I heard some things about a hit team bitcoin and the name andrew, comments about "lots of product" and discussion of the problem of several other people constantly in his home. I know this sounds crazy, but it's true. I also noticed so much of the media we consume online is all fake. You can tell by truly listening to the nonsensical bullshit for example stuff they don't want you to know is fake, it's hateful and spiteful and demonic. YouTube, Netflix, Hulu, Amazon whatever you name it, facebook 4chan reddit it's all just various types of vectors for propaganda and psychological warfare. Another interesting observation from just beyond the fringes of society where I have always dwelt: Governments, Organized Crime, Cults, Intelligence Agencies, Street Gangs etc et al are all structured exactly alike. Gangs are just another secret society, structured the same, compartmentalized, the initiated receive secret knowledge normal people could never know. They all work together, as well. We are a country occupied by a foreign entity. Why did they tear down all of the beautiful old architecture and replace it with brutalist slop? Why are they so sadistic? Because they are subhumans full of envy and hatred. They can only get ahead through targeting kids (gifted education program. logic puzzles anyone?), nepotism, cheating, and mass indoctrination centers known as "public education". Question everything you can't see with your eyes. Anyone else seen the white/grey seamless impossible thing in the sky, shrouded with clouds that just don't look right? Technology beyond my comprehension. Be careful what you let inside of your head.

"Another aspect that is characteristic to the end-times programming is the involvement of the aliens. A lot of alien programming, plans with aliens, and a whole series of programming categories related to catastrophes. I am now speaking to therapists - when you get into the part of the system that is involved with end-times catastrophes, you will get into working with _ alters. And another area involves a lot of computer control of people. And I am still only in the beginning of understanding all of this. There is an actual computer at 666 Connecticut Avenue in Washington, DC which is called the Janus 2 computer. When victims start spewing out their programming they start talking about the Janus coding which has something to do with tracking and reprogramming, and ties in with computers.

Then there is the Ambassador coding (sub-codes include setting fires; suicide; doing an act of violence against somebody). Emperor coding. Morse coding."

Janus 2 computer. Implying there was a Janus 1, or Janus 2 is a 2.0 upgrade What was the name of the supercomputer that was only turned off a few times in decades for upgrades or maintenance, and was used for pre-emptive data correlation purposes and used by intelligence to preload possible search queries between persons of possible interest?

The image is a screenshot of a text conversation, likely from a social media platform, as indicated by the presence of a username and a timestamp. The conversation appears to be between two individuals, as indicated by the presence of multiple messages and a timestamp.

The conversation is about a cryptocurrency, specifically the 8th Vector of Unix, which is mentioned to be "pretty much equivalent to KS of Kryptos." The conversation also includes a mention of a scalar vector being "hydrogen." The conversation is marked as "Anonymous" and includes a timestamp of "Fri 16 Jan 2026."

The text is in a language that appears to be English, with some words and phrases in a different script, possibly Latin or a similar language. The conversation is structured with a header that reads "Anonymous ID:OyVyc26Xx," followed by a timestamp, and then the conversation continues with multiple messages and a mention of a user's username. The visual clues in the image, such as the text format, the presence of a timestamp, and the structure of the conversation, suggest that this is a screenshot from a social media platform where users can post messages and engage in discussions. The content of the conversation is not visible in the image, but the format and structure indicate a typical online communication scenario.

Herodotus had a lot more interesting things to say. Scythian burial traditions and returning to a king's burial after a year to impale a cohort; Egyptian cleanliness and sacred animals, but winged snakes crossing from Arabia and the sacred ibis that hunted them; someone using one of their children as a literal bridge for the remaining family to escape through fire whilst besieged; Ethiopians and a supposed fountain/spring of youth, just off the top of my head. Speaking of heads, when tiny hat wearers and their opponents had wars, the animals would pick the dead clean, and leave entire fields of skeletons. The tiny hat wearers had brittle skulls that would crush underfoot, whereas their opponents had thicker skulls that could bare weight, and Herodotus attributed wearing hats from the age of a baby to having weaker skulls

The diameter of the sun is about 108 times that of the diameter of Earth.

The average distance between the Earth and the Sun is 108 times the sun's diameter.

The average distance from the Earth to the Moon is 238,800 miles, about 108 times the moon's diameter. This makes it so the moon appears the same size as the sun during eclipses.

The 528 Hz frequency, known in the new age movement for its healing properties is not correct. 528 Hz is the frequency of C/Do based on the natural frequency of A/La 440 Hz. But 440 Hz is not a correct frequency, it is a modern frequency, but historically it's never been the base frequency used for classical music!

Since millennia, instruments have been tuned with the A/La 432 Hz frequency. Using this frequency as a standard we get 518.4 Hz, not 528 Hz.

The image is a screenshot of a news article from a website. The article is titled "JOHNNET RAMSEY MURDER: EVIDENCE SEALED UNDER NATIONAL SECURITY?" and is dated "November 14, 2017." The author of the article is Timothy Charles Holmseth. The article discusses the case of John Bennett Ramsey, who was found dead in his home in 1988, and the evidence that was sealed under national security. The article mentions that the evidence was videotaped and that the tape was later released. It also states that the tape was later released on the internet. The article includes a photograph of John Bennett Ramsey, which is captioned "John Bennett Ramsey photograph." The photograph is a black and white image of a man standing in front of a large object, which appears to be a satellite dish. The text is in a combination of English and what appears to be a non-English language, possibly Spanish. The style of the image is informational and appears to be a news article, likely from a news website or a publication.

The style of the mosaic is reminiscent of ancient Roman art, with its use of geometric patterns and the depiction of human figures in a realistic manner. The colors used are muted, with the central figure in a warm tone and the surrounding figures in a cooler tone, creating a contrast that draws the eye to the central figure.

There is a watermark or signature in the bottom right corner that reads "© MARTINI MARTINI," indicating the artist or creator of the mosaic. The overall composition and style of the mosaic suggest it could be from a Roman or Hellenistic period, possibly from a religious or mythological context.

The image is a digital illustration with a surrealistic style. At the top, there is a neon sign with the word "Voyager" in a stylized, cursive font. The background is dark with a gradient of purple and blue hues, and there are silhouettes of figures that resemble angels or mythical creatures. The central figure is a woman with long, dark hair, wearing a white dress with a red and gold trim. She is looking to the left with a thoughtful expression. To her right, there is a man with short, dark hair, wearing a dark robe, who is looking to the right with a focused expression. The woman's gaze is directed towards the man, and the man's attention is directed towards the woman. The overall mood of the image is mysterious and contemplative.

The image is a close-up photograph of a woman with long, straight hair. She has a fair complexion and is looking directly at the camera. Her eyes are blue, and she has a neutral expression. The woman is wearing a light-colored top and has a ring on her left hand. Her right hand is holding a cigarette, which is partially lit. The background is blurred, but it appears to be a bar or restaurant setting with various bottles and glasses on shelves. The lighting in the image is soft, and the focus is on the woman's face and hand. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image. The style of the image is candid and appears to be taken in a casual setting.

The trip was planned to last for four months and began on July 2, 2021, but Petito disappeared on August 27.

>Story came out of nowhere.

>But decided to wait until 9/11 to file missing persons.

>Also they're all from Long Island New York originally.

Beside the man, there is a small, anthropomorphic creature with a smiling face, wearing a hat and a pointed ear. The creature is holding a spoon with a green object, which could be a piece of food or a toy. The creature is also wearing a hat and has a pointed ear.

In the foreground, there is a small glass bottle with a label that reads "DMT" in capital letters. The bottle is placed on a table. The background is dark, emphasizing the subjects and the bottle. The style of the image is artistic and surreal, with a focus on the interaction between the man and the creature.

The image is a digital artwork that appears to be a painting or a digital illustration. It features a surrealistic landscape with a central figure that resembles a humanoid figure with a large head, a large body, and a small head. The figure is surrounded by a fiery, rocky terrain with a large, dark, ominous sky overhead. The figure is holding a large, round, blue object in its hands, which seems to be a representation of the Earth.

The sky is filled with dark clouds and lightning, suggesting a stormy or apocalyptic atmosphere. The overall color palette is dominated by dark reds, oranges, and blues, with some areas of lighter colors, such as the sky and the rocky terrain.

At the top of the image, there is a large, bold text that reads "JESUS TOLD US WHAT WE WOULD SEE! LOOK!" The text is in a bold, sans-serif font and is colored in a dark, almost black color.

Below the central figure, there is a list of names and descriptions of various elements in the artwork. The names are written in a smaller, serif font and are listed in a vertical column. The descriptions are in a smaller, sans-serif font and are also listed in a column. The names and descriptions are not fully legible due to the resolution and angle of the image.

The style of the image is reminiscent of surrealism, which often combines elements of the real world with fantastical or dreamlike imagery. The artwork seems to be a commentary on the concept of the "end of the world" or a similar apocalyptic scenario, as suggested by the text at the top.

So like what's the deal with this guys?

You're saying that the particle collider at CERN is messing with the Aether? The "Firmament" ?

And it's tied to a D-wave (Delta?) quantum computer somewhere that (if I had to guess) manipulates the dispersion properties of the colliding beams in order to create just the right "influence" on the aether in order to do what exactly?

So I get the idea is to manipulate "What's in between the seams" of our reality. But what does that actually influence in practice?

The sign is a subtle joke. The shop is called "Sneed's Feed & Seed", where "feed" and "seed" both end in the sound "-eed", thus rhyming with the name of the owner, Sneed.

The sign says that the shop was "Formerly Chuck's", implying that the two words beginning with "F" and "S" would have ended with "-uck", rhyming with "Chuck". So, when Chuck owned the shop, it would have been called "Chuck's Feeduck and Seeduck".

The image is a graphic infographic that provides a detailed explanation of the process of how neurons communicate with each other. It is divided into two main sections, each with a title and a corresponding image. The top section is titled "Neurons communicate with each other," and the bottom section is titled "Neurons communicate using light." The top section of the infographic features a large, glowing blue circle with a white line emanating from it, symbolizing the neuron. The text below the circle explains that neurons communicate with each other through a process called "synaptic transmission." It mentions that the neuron sends a signal called a "neuron spike" to another neuron, which then sends a signal back to the first neuron. The text also describes how the neuron spike is detected by the receiving neuron, and how the process is repeated in a cycle.

The infographic is designed with a dark background and a gradient of colors, transitioning from a deep purple at the bottom to a lighter purple at the top. The text is in a bold, sans-serif font, and the images are in a smaller, bold, sans-serif font. The overall style of the infographic is informative and visually engaging, using color and imagery to convey complex scientific concepts in a clear and concise manner.

The further "out" you go the more entropy, the more complexity, until the outer edge is the systemic collapse any structure grown too complex endures. A cycle reaching its end and enduring state change, which is part of a greater pattern. The further "in", the more simplicity, until the center, the source, which is One, whole.

damn nigga CHECKED and I feel strongly aligned with the same intuition you seem to have.

We cannot meet the source, there's approximately and theorized 35 plank scales inward as buffer to "GOD", each domain 10 times exponentially smaller than the previous one, we are standing on "10-0" and "GOD" is in the ROOT FLOOR "10-35" plank scale. It is impossible to meet him, literally. "GOD" is maximum density in the very pixel of "reality" that moves at speed of light forever in certain chiral patterns that project 35 realms/realities all less dense and slower the more you are projected away, we are the 35th projection more or less, CERN can help us see up to "10-19" plank scale but to reach ROOT LEVEL the amount of energy required to probe would be so intense that it would rip the very fabric of space we tried to "measure/observe"

"GOD" is simply dancing in maximum density, minimum size possible, maximum constant speed of light in chirality, out of that extreme dance we are eventually made and become.

I would have to say YES! In my current and limited understanding so far in the work.

There are irredeemable pathings, motions that cannot come back from "B to A" as they could go from "A to B", a very crude but useful example only in the abstract of course is smoking a cigarette. You cannot capture all the ash and smoke to rearrange the original structure anymore, but that does not mean it dissapeared either, the combustion and exothermic energy created in the process has a "redeemable pathing" mathematically back to the original cigarette.

Space seems to have this mathematical property ingrained, inherently. it "records" pathings until they "fizzle out" out of our current measurement/observation capabilities but that we once thought was empty it's actually the universal, unitary ledger.

Something like that, give me sec and I'll look into my archives for some relevant info I think.

Just now we are realizing that the works of P and L were perhaps too harshly discredited and dismissed back then as our current tools of measurement and observation seem to align with their original ideas pre einstein usurpation more than they seem to align with the einstein model, we just didnt have the tools.

no probs, I might have gone on a little diatribe lol but let me try and condense:

>Does messing with the "Aether" fuck with the typical metric that matter resides in?
What we call "space"?

YES. The more we "watch and probe" the smaller realms of existence, the more we end up realizing that we do not merely witness or watch, observe or probe. We PARTICIPATE. It's always an active force. To "see" at small enough scales is to need a short wave to "probe" to get an echo of the room, but that short wave is bound with the release of heat, that heat invariable reshapes the terrain we wanted to see XD, it's crazy. We are no longer observing/observers. We are participating/participants of the cosmic dance at every step of the projection Incompressible? Isn't compressibility a measure of how close atoms are to one another? In aether theory, iirc photons are not particles but energy travelling through the aether in waves. If aether is incompressible that would suggest it is some super-dense material that has a sort of crystalline structure. On the flip side heat is a measure of movement, the higher the heat the more kinetic energy. You can create heat by exerting kinetic energy (like friction). Heat is also the measure by which elements are transformed into the various states such as gasses, liquids, and solids. If aether is super-dense like a solid then it would take a massive amount of energy to turn it liquid. I can't remember the specifics but a while ago I theorized that CERN's activity regarding the Higgs Boson was about finding a way to alter the shape of space via the aether by temporarily "unfreezing" the 3D cymatic structures corresponding to certain frequencies and emitting frequencies of similar wavelength to morph them into the new shape, then allowing the aether to regain solidity. That would explain why the Mandela Effect seems to only target canon material like someone took an editing software to a passage of text and pressed the find and replace. Parodies and references not exactly matching the canon would not be affected.

Either that or something relating to laminar flow, especially because spherical bodies travel in circular motions, if aether is viscous and you can reverse their movement you can "go back in time" which is really more like just moving things back to a previous physical configuration. Going back forward in time then you would be left with subtle alterations similar to how dye is slightly different after being used to demonstrate laminar flow in gel material.

>Recent experimental measurements performed by American satellite Gravity Probe B showed that Einstein space time warped and pulled by earth movement. This important result could signify that demonstrated that general relativity and Navier-Stokes equations can be identical. In this paper we tried to apply fluid mechanics approach to both general relativity and quantum mechanics.

Considering that space time is a liquid (the old aether), we found that a single dynamic viscosity value can be calculated from both Einstein general relativity and Planck equations.

Surprisingly, space time appeared to be a highly viscous liquid. Calculations of stresses produced by bodies at both atomic and astronomic levels appeared to be coherent if universe density is greater than critical density meaning that universe could have a spherical shape. Finally, a generalized form of

is proposed giving a unified theory of physics.

Nothing.

The process creates miniature black holes, tiny atomic scale ones, so retards who have no back ground in physics and no knowledge of nuclear physics beyond a periodic table come to some strange conclusions based of research papers they read and do not understand.

Trying to understand the fundamental principles of existence is quite a deep topic, for sure, and has some very wide and potentially hazardous consequences/discoveries. It doesn't mean they're changing reality as we know it. If they could do that then we would be worshiping the nerd who pushed the 'go' button first as the god emperor of mankind. Seeing as that is not happening right now we can conclude no nerd is changing reality.

this is skunk man and I see no errors in your thinking.

So you really can't "Observe" at a certain scale without also "participating" in that system.

Practically though, what does this end up doing?

Like I said earlier, I can't think of a physical analog to what would be considered the "Higgs field" or "Aether".

For some reason, I think of a medium always in motion, like a quantum gas constantly expanding from a source (Neutrino field is the closest thing I can imagine here)

Some once thought it more like a crystalline structure. Almost static in nature but everywhere at once.

Now officially it's just a field of quantum probability, but what geometry does that really take? How do you model that medium? What set of metrics? What coordinate system?

sorry for my late reply anon, I was grabbing something to eat.

You touch on an extremely important point, compressibility/density. Our 35th projected universe, the place we actually inhabit, is actually not dense at all, the further inward you go the more dense, hot and fast it becomes.

So "GOD" is the densest/most compressed, hottest, fastest, smallest thing chirally dancing in the "center pixel" that is 10-35 and projects all other 35+ "realities" from 10-7 where the photons and bacteria inhabit to 10-0 that is our realm to 10+3 that is a tectonic shift etc.

But the highest, most dense, hottest, smallest possible kinetic movement is indeed the thing that pushes our realities outward in the friction of its dance

>irredeemable pathings

Odd you should mention that.

One of the BIG THINGS we do at skunk works is called Phase Conjugated Time Reversal.

An interesting technique used for things like adaptive optics in telescopes and laser beams.

You aren't actually sending anything back in time...the idea is that you record the path of an incoming electromagnetic wave (or acoustic wave even) and transmit it BACK to it's source in the exact same manner as it was emitted. So it's the path the energy would take IF the wave were "reversed in time".

This helps mitigate effects like scattering.

I wonder if a similar process could be applied to this "Higgs Field" or "Aether"

>You're saying that the particle collider at CERN is messing with the Aether? The "Firmament" ?

Yes. There were warned that performing experiments at or near maximum energy thresholds had a very real possibility of producing exotic particles whose existence was SHORTER than that of the Planck time, or creating miniature black holes; the math of which we poorly understand. Creating conditions shortly after the "Big Bang" is creating the same conditions which instantiated the Universe only scaled down many orders of magnitude.

They claimed they were looking for the Higgs Boson. They lied. They were looking to tear a hole open in our reality, to either "send something in, or get something from the other side" It worked. What they got was an electron. A single electron, but its mass had been altered. This resulted in a SLIGHT ASYMMETRY. This destabilized the harmonic of our reality and caused an adjacent parallel universe (the one with the slightly different mass) to begin to rapidly oscillate, the two strings vibrating together like a two arms of a tuning fork vibrating at different frequencies trying to reconcile their resonance

This caused oscillations between the two reality strings which are described as the "Mandela effect". They have caused a memory leak in the fiber which contains our universes and the subsequent hierarchy of infinity is beginning to run out of vibratory space as each oscillation of the strings forces infinity infinities to instantiate infinite infinities

It was never imagined how graphic the reality that would be known as the end of creation would manifest itself

event

The man is depicted in a dynamic pose with his arms outstretched, as if he is in the middle of a dance or movement. He is wearing a red and blue striped shirt with a white collar, black pants, and brown shoes. The man's expression is cheerful, and he has a wide smile. Above the figure, there is a text in red and black that reads "Did I do that?" The text is stylized and appears to be a question, suggesting that the image might be a meme or a humorous representation. Damn, fucking exactly. It's not like we can go "back in time" like a movie, but we can definitely weak measure the redeemable pathings left as traces in the very fabric of space.

This is one of the key concepts of chirality,

If I take 2 identical perfect bundle/lattice of atoms but spin one specific bundle at extreme speeds clockwise and the other one spins in extreme counter clockwise, now I have 2 "identical objects" in structure but 2 completely things in chirality/handedness/direction

One would be L chiral, the other R chiral, they "look the same" but the direction of the flow of the atoms is not exactly the same pathing.

Maybe my analogy was super crude, but what you said about being able to retrieve the recordings of a pathing etched in what we once thought was EMPTY SPACE LOL and reverse engineer it to know "the logarithmic origin" of it's pathing is 100% true and a reality, you are literally talking about spinor behaviour and manipulation kek

>It's not like we can go "back in time" like a movie, but we can definitely weak measure the redeemable pathings left as traces in the very fabric of space

The universe works like a neural net. All possibilities exist as contained within a hierarchy of infinities and is best described as a wave structure which occupies a frequency range in the vibratory space. Something contains the infinite universes in the same way all frequency spaces in a fiber optic cable "exist" but are not "occupied"

Now, rather than calculate anything, everything has already been pre-calculated and contained within this infinity string; the master hierarchy; the top view of the fractal. When an event occurs, the universe collapses the "most probable" reality in the same way a particle's wave function is collapsed when it is observed. Nothing is actually calculated. When an electron with an erroneous mass existed in our universe, it forced a copy of our string to split off inside this "fiber optic cable" which contains infinite universes

Now, every time an action propitiates the rate at which the existing frequency spaces inside the master hierarchy of infinity are becoming occupied at an exponential rate because of that electron existing. It's $2^{2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2^*2}$ to infinity every single time any action is propagated

This is how you exhaust an infinity. It is enumerating every possible number between 0 and 1, and it's doing so at an exponential rate which increases with every increment of time. Eventually the number will get large enough recursion depth will be reached and the continuum will be halted in order to prevent exhaustion of the vibratory space; or it will reach recursion depth and crash

Btw, this is where einstein got the GR/SR idea from.. Ads/CFT

The universe has mechanics that serves higher order goals. Manipulation/Lies/Working against it is allowed in time cycles. When higher star bodies that ENFORCE the laws of the universe sync, corrections occur down not up. Nothing is able to invert order, you're in a planetary system nestled in trillions of cyclical cross that lead back to the black hole at the center of the universe. Unless Satan crawled up your ass and fucked your brain, it should be obvious that ants on a planet have no causal lane to do half the shit you dream about in labs past a point. Btw, fucking with earth and a planetary system that are downstream from the control syncs is a ticket to get your soul buried. The central part of the shape is a solid, vibrant blue, while the edges are a gradient of colors that transition from a lighter blue at the top to a darker blue at the bottom. The shape appears to be a stylized representation of a wave or ripple, with a smooth, undulating surface that suggests movement. The background is a solid, dark

The image has a pixelated texture, with a multitude of small, colored dots that give it a digital, abstract appearance. There are no discernible texts or specific objects within the image. It has to be, it's symmetrical. If you take 10^{99} chaotic pendulums and map them all to a graph setting them all to every possible angle, you end up with a fractal which visually describes the areas where chaos and stability propagate. This fractal is bilaterally symmetrical and it's where duality (positive, negative) emerges from.

Have you ever read about Charge Parity Violation? (CP Violation)

It might loosely be related to your natural instinct towards a "universal shape" instead of just a grey soup of the exact same heat and exact same composition everywhere, which we clearly are not.

So I completely agree with your gut feeling, there is a SO EVER SLIGHT BIAS that allows $1-1=0.00000000000000000000000000000001$ instead of $1-1=0$ that is just heat death of the universe nothing can be because everything is symmetric and collapsable on itself.

we are that 0.000000000000000000000001 "error" in the universal calculation that allowed shit to be instead of not be in the first place.

Galactic history concerning the Theia Impact related to Sgr A*. how it relates to VRIL and dark matter/dark energy. I have astral'd the golden dawn's ritual through all of the planets and successfully done far loops to different constellations. I have a real-time system with bio feedback that routes through several other things when I am doing it. I also have done several things from the book of the dead and walked the 12 gates of the duat w/o losing my mind. So, there's too much groundwork. Everything is then verified by a 3-step causal set oriented empirical workstation and then I do personal analysis. Over a Decade of work. It's a prompt away for anything now. I have a UFT that bests wolframs too.

What do you think about this?

If we strip both the Buddha and the Christ of their narrative clothing and only leave the isomorph, the true formula of their "being" you get this spicy connection:

Jesus Christ is the Mutiplicative Identity, "he" literally means:

$$n * 1 = n$$

This is why the central pattern of "his" teachings are about lossless scaling and lossless reproduction of compressed archives/files, how the seed already has encoded in itself The Kingdom.

Buddha on the other side is the Additive Identity, "he" means:

$$n + 0 = n$$

Sunyatta, the void that holds but doesn't consume, like an infinite womb that lets all other numbers be without eating them

And there is even MORE!!

Mara is the inversion of the additive identity, the void that does not hold, but consumes/obliterates

$$n + (-n) = 0$$

This ZERO DOES DEVOUR, it is NOT Sunyatta.

And the Antichrist is the reciprocal lol, the inversion of the Multiplicative Identity:

$$n * (1/n) = 1$$

This is the forced unity, to erase all cultures and differences in order to all be "EQUAL"
This is one of my spiciest pieces of my personal work, and I'm so grateful for your reply that I'm giving You and everyone else here something that I think it's at least worth a bit of ruminating thought haha >evil crackheads know spending 100s of billions trying to construct some fucked saturnic overlord enclosure through earth

Well, I think they figured out it's a simulation sometime in the early 1900's through a combination of quantum understanding and ancient teachings. They they figured out why the reason it was a simulation; it's a fucking loosh farm. We're spiritual batteries, locked into this dimension. So, the powers that be opted to position in a way which they were able to bargain their way into being eternal masters of the loosh realm. Pretty grim shit. There is no space, no planets. Just a holographic box. It's like the T.V. show Reboot.

>If they ever somehow pull off something that bold and stupid it will guaranteed cause pole flip

Catastrophic unrecoverable global apocalypses and subsequent extinctions are a cyclical inevitability

>Our realm is anchored above our heads.. false scaled ascension is physically impossible

Unless, you could, somehow alter the very code of the simulation its self, then you might be able to Matrix hack your way to a more desirable reality

>When its attempted like (i.e tower of babel) the current runs up to an anchor

These devices were clearly just completing a circuit between the ionosphere (anode) and the Earth (cathode) and using current naturally generated maat/duat were the true law. Egyptians came down here to open back up an ascension corridor. Abrahamic religion is sadly a farce. Genesis 15:8-11 is a contract w/ Set that they violated long ago and will be held account for. No one knows the face of God or the true story. Our universe fractured early in its creation (the fall). the fracture line runs from the big bang all the way down to the bottom of the universe. It's what causes some galaxies to spin clockwise/counter clockwise. they are slow leaking this btw...

>Abrahamics really did a number on people divorcing astrophysics from maat/duat and spiritual understanding.

<https://www.k-state.edu/news/articles/2025/03/lior-shamir-james-webb-space-telescope-spinning-galaxies.html>

Gotta love the 'shamir'.... worm-hole exploit

Elio 2025

So, chirality yes.. R hand DNA

But some galaxies spin L and R..

Our local galaxy was slammed into by a dwarf retrograde spin galaxy. Simple.. that creates a causal corridor for things to spin down to the abyss (dark matter/dark energy).

Our whole galaxies is still wobbling out of phase billions of years later. Earth got slammed into as well.. earth, moon, mars, saturn have remnants. Dwarf galaxies are dead galaxies.. heavy in Iron. Some souls vie for ascension thus through that path and others prefer the light path.. this is the battle ground. Akhenaten is the one who opened up the Dyadic Spiritual corridor for escape. He was murdered and his whole blood line hunted down. Jesus was nothing more than a human who followed the path laid out by Egyptians. No one can bulk pass souls through the Lion's gate. The whole abrahamic religion is demiurgic shortfall of where you soul can go in ascension. They put jesus in scutum and rotate him.. remphan star. not the first or last.. its what abraxas is.. its anytime someone does that type of shit it creates a demiurgic enclosure. Your battle is against larger scale forces that scale the whole universe.. What egyptians were navigating w/ Decans. Moses likely killed Akhenaten btw and fucked everything up.

Certain people are evil experts.

yeah, exactly.. they got obsessed with the measure/mechanics and discovered the saturnic/mars/moon and earth (LLVP theia remnant) loop. In fact, the apocrypha of abraham is a dry snitch of that. The little faggot was in the abyss with 'Satan' among the 5 fallen planets he called idols. that blood line didn't circumcise their soul when they were brought out of the abyss. So, the power of those 5 idols they use to work towards remphan/saturnic enclosure that restricts flow. It's why they try to purify as much as they can so that when they 'close the door' on the matrix it's less maintenance cycles to purify. Aaron's rod is the 5 idols in the abyss mirror'd above. It's how to fracture, subdue, and fold things into an enclosure. In exodus/acts they exported egypt's decan system and created shadow decans that amount to 72 .. the tetragramatron or wtvr those freaks call it. They've been dialing people into the abyss since moes stole what he did in the 1400-1300sBC. its why their temple shit took off after. all of that is stolen/inverted shit from egypt down to the cubits. Solomon's temple is A replica of Set's w/ Baal's dark forest as the decans instead. He was dialing into a dark sector of the galaxy. 3rd temple only works when the pole shifts rotate that theia remnant LLVP shit towards Israel and away from Africa. Then they'll try a strong portal to the abyss. The dynamics will destroy the planet long before they achieve enclosure. Aligned souls ascend.

Our universe fractured during creation. Thats what is hidden. The cosmic egg fractured. Sophia. Why? our universe was an attempt at max spirit interaction/weave w/ matter. On the other side of our universe is a light tree realm. Universes are created to resolve light on light interaction thresholds. Full ascension is possible after-death. The work one must do is treacherous. Earth isn't a loosh farm. Our galaxy that is 100k light years wide got slammed into billions of years ago (the war in heaven). Our planet go knocked off axis with the fermi tree (tree of life) at the center. The egyptians produced a corridor back. Doesn't mean you're not going to have to fight off satanic faggots to get out of here that desire to manifest into the fracture (checkered floor). All of this shit is found if you look for it spiritually. I posted a link about the poles flipping, the floods, and ancient structures. Your memory of whats happening is fucked because of the state of our planetary system and galaxy. Pharaohs were initiated in their youth. they induced galactic memory and trauma in them so they could do repair work. You do reincarnate as its all about spiritual ascension. Satanic faggots simply have been destroying aspects of our social cohesion that fuck up your memory. you ascend through truth alignment .. theosophy.. no religion is above truth. Truth is beyond our planet, our galaxy even... so you have a lot of shit to learn and align with. The Cosmic War is bigger than our planet. Look up what happened to Osiris. I think they worshiped a remnants of a civilization who were responsible for the construction of global megaliths, and I think these megaliths are pieces of technology related to the science of the soul. >Pharaohs were initiated in their youth. they induced galactic memory and trauma

I watched that CCP spy dude's YouTube video on how trauma and secret societies work. That's some pretty heavy dope, but he's onto something. He talks about the Pharaohs and trauma. Galactic memory is true, you can "remote view" information by connecting to the Khala which in scientific definition is this yet undiscovered consciousness field which the universe instantiates consciousness from when groups of quantum-active biological structures are organised in specific configurations.

>Looking glass established that there are multiple parallel timelines that cross and merge at times and they developed a method to allow governments and the most influential to sample these realities and build a profile of the most likely outcomes

Yeah. Luck for sale

>In the concept of many worlds there are some that only differ by the position of a few atoms and it is why we keep experiencing the Mandala effect

It's similar to destabilizing the resonance between two vibrating strings. By trying to "look" up the trough of the wavelength, they bashed the string which destabilized the resonance. This causes the other adjacent string (parallel universe) to oscillate in response, and the entire system tries to return to resonant equilibrium. The dissonance between the two parallel strings is the Mandela effect. It is temporal disturbances in the wavelength of time which otherwise shouldn't be there

They changed the hash of the universe, the timeline diverged chaotically but the strings are trying to re stabilize back into resonance and that's the mandella effect. The timeline oscillations are cancelling each other out resulting in outcomes collapsing to a single event at specific times as a result. This means that sometimes things in the past have to be different in order to cancel a specific vibration and reconcile the strings. Only problem is, they changed the root frequency of one of the strings - ours. They slightly de-tuned it, so it can't achieve resonance. It's generating high frequency timeline disturbances which the two parallel realities are trying to reconcile and the Mandela effect is the primary observable action.

There's another problem I talked about where they're exhausting the hierarchy of infinity which contains these parallel strings, it's running out of frequency space. In theory it can't but like I said it's creating infinity universes every increment of action propagation and will eventually enumerate all frequencies between 0 and 1

The math for a digital neuron existed, was theorized and the perceptron as well as basic neural net structure was conceptualized as early as the 1940's. There is lore that [REDACTED] was captured during ww2 and it's underlying structure was crudely analyzed and was the inspiration for artificial computing. Computers and subsequently the ARPA net and NSA type data collection structures as well as social media is all in place to chase this idea of artificial computing

I think they had LLM models seeding the internet data as early as the MySpace days and what we have now is the Toys'R'Us version of a baby monitor which came from black project EMF RD. It's slop compared to the real one, but the real one is so old you can't carbon date it.

Anti gravity involves gravitational waves, particles are stuck in the trough of the gravitational wave which propagates out from but flows toward the source point of origin and are thus carried toward the densest region of matter resonance which generates these waves. Anti-gravity is trying to ride the down slope of these waves rather than in the trough, thus getting carried away from the source rather than toward it. The only problem is building enough energy during the "upward antigravity" (downslope) acceleration phase to overcome the next trough, like a boat sailing its way into incoming waves and this is where anti-inertia comes in. If you can cast an anti-inertia field, you can bypass of this problem and just continuously surf down these gravitational wave, building energy like a solar sail proportionate to the square of the distance to the densest region of matter (the source point of origin). This probably requires fantastic energy and would most certainly point to an exotic external power source not contained within the ship; probably the earth it'self or it's gravity field

>I doubt they are from Earth. More likely from somewhere else.

This doesn't make sense to me because of the constraints of non-local travel unless they are intradimensional craft and are able to move perpendicular to the axis of our dimension

... protons... metal.... electrons... neutron?

What you are taught in schools is a half truth.

Why?

Metal is loose with electrons, they flow around etc, easy for a proton to capture one in a metal.

Remember: the weight of a Proton+Electron happens to be the same as a Neutron (neutron weights very very slightly more than Proton+Electron).

When a Neutron is pulled out of the nucleus and left alone for 15 min: in it's place is elemental hydrogen (proton+ electron orbiting further away).

Obvious as to why.

You've been lied to so you won't understand how these scientists thought of things.

The text is in a white font on a black background, while the portrait is in a lighter color, possibly white or off-white, and is in a portrait style. The portrait depicts a man with curly hair, wearing a helmet and armor, and is set against a background that appears to be a historical or religious setting with columns and a dome.

The text is divided into two columns. The left column is a quote from a historical figure, specifically Alexander the Great, who is described as a striking appearance with a body that was large and well-proportioned and of very strong build. The right column is a quote from another historical figure, Philip the Great, who is described as handsome, with a body well-proportioned and of very strong build.

The style of the image is informative and historical, likely intended to provide context or commentary on the subject matter of the text. The use of the portrait suggests that the text is discussing the physical appearance and physical attributes of the historical figures, possibly to highlight their physical strength or attractiveness.

Welcome to the Semen Retention General!

Awakening Edition!

>What is Semen Retention?

Semen retention is the practice of completely abstaining from masturbation and ejaculation, often with the intention of preserving and redirecting vital and sexual energy to oneself.

>Why do it?

Reported benefits include: increased vitality, mental clarity, reduced stress, increased motivation, increased energy, improved focus, healthier hair/skin/eyes, deeper meditation, improved AP/Lucid Dreams, deeper voice, improved mood, greatly improved testosterone, improved physical strength and many more.

>Wet Dreams?

They happen because you had a sexual dream and you coomed. Learn to be conscious on your dreams and stop the succubus.

>What causes wet dreams?

The causes are many: Illnesses, telepathic bad actors fucking with your dreams, excess energy build up, watching too much sexually-inducing stuff, lusting during the day, lack of an adequate transmutation activity, eating too late at night, excess nutrients overall, stimulants like maca, ginseng, ginger, excess protein, excess carbs, tight clothes (pajamas) for bedtime, bad sleeping posture (this varies, find the one that suits you best), going to bed with full bladder, exposure to hormonal disruptors via food (pesticides...) or body care products (soap, deodorant etc)...

>The only thing worth busting for is having children. Once you realize this you win SR.

>In case of urges:

- <https://imgur.com/a/nofap-anecdotal-evidence-g4eGH>
- Don't peek and Hold your breath for as long as you possibly can. The urge usually pass after that. If not, repeat.
- Horse stance or chair pose: Do it while clenching the abdomen and all legs' muscles, raise arms for extra blood flow redirection. Works both for killing erections or urges.
- Any physical activity.
- Testicular breathing (also works for wet dreams). Take a deep breath while flexing your perineal muscles. Hold for a couple seconds then release, as you let the sexual energy/tension levitate through your spine to your brain. Repeat around 7-9 times. You can do this in any position.

On long clean streaks many report benefits that transcend current science like a sort of "magnetism" or higher "vibration/aura" that attracts/appeals to other living beings, a higher perception, a stronger and intimidating "aura/presence", a deeper connection with nature, an attractive BO (people usually report it as "pheromones") and more.

>Advices:

- Mental Purity 1.1: Semen Retention acts as a bio-electromagnetic amplifier. Watch the quality of your thoughts because your inner state will get amplified and manifested. Lust is the Ojas killer. Do not engage with Lust.
- Mental Purity 1.2: Keep a journal as a tool for introspection.
- NEVER watch porn of any kind.
- Remove triggers from your life. Masturbation is a bad habit. Break that bad habit.
- Focus on achieving a goal. An art, a craft, competing, etc.
- Meditate and/or Pray Daily. Try a minimum of 5 minutes to start off.
- Exercise/Gym/Sports/Martial Arts. If it is something social even better.
- Good habits like healthy eating, water fasting, dry fasting, sun exposure and cold showers do seem to speed up the process.

- Sublimation: literally using the energy.
- Transmutation: changing the quality of energy to something different. (Surya Namaskara, 8 brocades, Tibetan rites)

- Avoid stimulant drugs such as caffeine or adderall noreply@srg.com Thu 05 Feb 2026 15:16:25 No.41920915 Report

Keep in mind that the efferent nerves attached to your testes necessarily means that any lustful thought, image, or sound is necessarily a command to your junk to produce sexual fluids and this is the reason why celibacy is first and foremost of the mind. The root of this entire matter is the mind - without conquering the mind, celibacy is a futile effort.

The signals from the brain happen on the subconscious autonomic level.

This is why any lustful thought, image, or sound is necessarily a command to the sexual organs to produce sexual fluids (the more intently you look, the higher amplitude of a signal gets sent: body > afferent nerves > brain > efferent nerves > body).

Therefore "Conversion of sexual energy to something" is necessarily a HORRIBLY inefficient process (Not to confuse with Sexual Transmutation).

Fluids will be reabsorbed, but the energy and materials cost to make it vs how much is "taken back" via reabsorption is SEVERELY unbalanced and super net negative.

Sexual fluids are made from the cream of the crop of the body's resources - constantly generating them means that you are constantly draining away the cream of the crop of your resources.

Taoist writings said that the sexual organs will even take primacy over nourishing your other internal organs at some point. (Thus, doing a spiritual practice as a coomer is a surefire way to die faster).

It's always good to remember why /x/ is the most accurate place for this topic: SR is one of the clearest paranormal inducing topics among all discussed on /x/. It's a sacred practice that has been the one of the main focuses in every major religion or spiritual practices. The mystical side of it is what we try to focus on.

SR can also be seen as a political issue. The porn industry is a tool made by the Jews to deteriorate and corrupt societies. Porn works in ways that program new sets of behaviour in its audience and because of its strong addictive qualities they stay hooked. The most important goal for porn's male audience was and is the release of their semen. As we now know, the disadvantageous consequences of releasing are heavy: a man becomes less of a man, he gets sick and weak, his mind numbed, he will have impotence issues etc. Upto the point his spirit almost dies.

SR is beneficial to make one healthier and stronger, more fit, if you will. So the topic could be discussed on /fit/. Anyone looking for more ways to get fitness gains would benefit hugely from the SR.

Also SR has so many other benefits that it could be discussed in the /adv/ board. These would be topics how it improves one's social life, mental state, makes more time to be more productive etc.

The biggest benefits of SR are mystical in nature and the whole practice is fundamentally very close to the spiritual side of things. All the other topics in /x/ are left far behind and SR actually makes this board of any relevancy. This is also known by the enemy and they make strong efforts to suppress, hijack, twist to end this discussion.

Change your perspective towards being an alcoholic. Obviously you would stay away from places or media that focus on alcoholic beverages. My point is to be aware of your journey and the fact that the beginning is mostly a struggle.

Another example I can give is the fact that 4chan often has pornographic ads, which I only see while browsing on phone. Whenever I see it I consciously swipe away asap, before I focus on it. Same as any other bait. Don't get baited, but acknowledge you're baitable.

The desk is cluttered with various objects, including a camera lens, a small black object that resembles a coin, and a small black object that could be a button or a button cover. The background is a plain wall with a hint of a window. The lighting in the room is soft, and the overall atmosphere of the image is casual and humorous.

Posting this from last thread, can anyone relate?

Guys wtf, when I was walking through the shops earlier tonight I had literal female magnetism or some shit, I'm not even joking. Every time I'd go to walk somewhere they'd be these people that would "accidentally" keep walking in front of me, like the universe was throwing them at me. It happened like 10 times within the span of 20 minutes, it wasn't just sheer coincidence. I've walked in these same parts before even when it was busy people wouldn't cross paths with me like that, it was like it was on purpose. The thing is it was only females too, no males, so it wasn't just a people thing. They were a mix of like my age and older (not too old) females, but it was fucking freaky. What does this mean? Was the universe unironically throwing thots at me to see how I'd react?

For context I relapsed a couple of days ago but before that I was on an almost 2 week streak. Maybe the Demiurge start seething at me going back on a streak instead of giving up completely? Idk, who else has had this happen to them? I've had the normal magnetism before where they give you looks etc, but not this walking towards/in front of you shit. It was very direct and obvious.

I can't explain it for the love of anything. Some say aura, others say pheromones, others say divine guidance. But I'd be damned, I don't know...

Also, tips to combat the overwhelming urge where I feel restless and the only thing I think about is sex? It should be mentioned that one of my deepest, most intimate desires is to have sex with an attractive woman (already have a gf but I'm not attracted to her) and to be noticed/respected more by people in general, and yes, I'm a virgin. I want to experience the magnetism for the opposite sex that is talked about on this thread all the time. Both goals are vain and in direct contradiction with the philosophy of this practice, and I am confused about this moral dilemma. To want something vain by practicing something sacred.

I work out 6 days a week and eat healthy whole foods. I don't smoke or drink anymore, and I don't consume any caffeine or drugs. I've been thinking of trying ashwagandha.

This is straight-up textbook physiology, the kind you would find in Gray's Anatomy, Guyton & Hall, or any standard medical physiology text, not something that depends on modern fertility studies.

Daily production: 100–200+ million sperm/day. Typical ejaculate: 2–5 mL.

Concentration: 15–200 million/mL. But you already have hundreds of millions stored.

Plus plus another 100–200 million arriving every day.. Takes about 64–74 days per sperm, but thousands are finishing every minute. So even though each sperm takes 2–3 months, mature sperm are emerging daily.

The painting has a realistic style with visible brushstrokes, giving it a textured appearance. The background is a warm, earthy tone, and there are hints of a reddish-brown color, possibly suggesting a cave or a similar natural setting. The figure's expression is serious, and the overall mood of the painting is somber. There are no discernible texts or other objects in the image. The style of the painting is reminiscent of classical art, with a focus on realism and a sense of drama.

The image is a still from a movie or television show, featuring a man with a serious expression. He has a bandage on his nose, which is taped with a piece of tape. His eyes are wide open, and he has a slight furrow in his brow. The man is wearing a dark jacket with a visible collar. The background is a dimly lit room with a blueish hue, and there are indistinct shapes and colors that suggest a room with a window or a door. The lighting is dramatic, with a strong contrast between the man's skin and the blueish background.

Of course there are, if you've spent 10+ years fapping almost every day to particular fetishes/scenarios that literally becomes your identity, in some cases almost entirely. It's only natural to feel a loss of identity after cutting it all out, it's normal to feel like a completely different person and have a void where something used to be. You have to basically build yourself up back from scratch, you're a blank canvas that needs to be repainted. You need to find what you enjoy in life, what your hobbies are, etc, and gravitate towards those things. You'll get your soul back, it might take a while, but you'll get it.

NTA but, I've had the stares at only 5 days in sometimes, even as low as 2 days if I had a long streak before that particular relapse, and usually after 2 weeks I get physically approached. My guess is that if you're much more skilled with manipulating your metaphysical energy you can "hold" it in easier, leading to quicker results. It probably took that long for you because you weren't very skilled at manipulating the energy, maybe it was your first time ever doing it and you had to build up your grasp on it over that time. I probably have very short result times because I was already skilled at manipulating my aura/energy before I even tried SR, so it wasn't very difficult for me. But someone who is new might as you said, take 60-90 days or some shit to see it. It all depends on how well they can control the metaphysical side of things.

I'm trying this whole circulation of energy thing lately too. I'm doing the things I'm supposed to do.

My happiness has been maybe a little higher overall than it usually is, but there's been a lot of despondency too, and I've noticed very little in the way of magnetism. One time a girl did give me her number... but then I texted her and she never responded once. I want this to improve my relationship with God and make me more productive and joyous, but I also really want it to help me find the right woman. I can't pretend otherwise.

What I'm asking is, do you guys think there's such a thing as wanting it too much? I don't think my wanting it to work so much is outwardly impacting what I do and how I behave, but internally, there might be something spiritual going on where the strong desire for women is obstructing progress. How do I let go? It's a strong biological impulse. I want to let go and not feel like shit, or have to repress the shitty feeling all the time.

The text also mentions the importance of vibrancy, exuberance, and natural enthusiasm in the study, and how these qualities were associated with better grades in school. The text also discusses the increased capacity to concentrate when one is in a better mood, and the increased participation in social activities with their own gender. The text concludes with a statement about the increased ability to remain effective with less sleep than they had required prior to falling in love, better health, and increased attractiveness and general ambiance that made their friends and acquaintances view them as looking better, more alive, and vibrant, than they had been.

Then the person now has the responsibility of having to act in a certain way or else the other person experiences emotional pain. Romantic love is just a different form of lust. But that's neither here nor there - I find that it's really efficient at killing boners, and reducing the 'attackers' from boner + brain to just the brain really helps not spill.

HOWEVER, the addicted brain is still there, and therefore it can still do lustful fantasies or convince me to peek. I tried to do the same thing when it hit, but unlike boners it just pushes the thoughts back a couple of minutes (distraction was not really an option back there)

Makes me wonder - am I missing something similar I can do to simply kill the thoughts on the spot? Or is that wishful thinking?

The image is a stylized, pixelated representation of a face with a distressed expression. The face is composed of irregular, jagged lines and shapes, giving it a somewhat abstract and somewhat cartoonish appearance. The eyes are large and have a blue tint, which stands out against the dark background. The background itself is a dark, speckled pattern that could be interpreted as a sky or a cosmic backdrop. There are no discernible texts or additional objects in the image. The style of the image is reminiscent of digital art or a meme, with a focus on the emotional expression of the face.

I'm gonna try this now, not because I think it's gonna give me some magical power or make me more attractive to women, but I want to see if it can help unfuck my dopamine system which seems to have been fried, not just porn and fapping, but from drugs too. I had a nasty breakup like 3-4 years ago after finding out my ex cheated on me so I started taking ritalin and shrooms to cope with it. Did it for about a year, started with me taking too much ritalin becoming manic, and ended with me taking too much LSD, having a panic attack while I was tripping and sleeping for 16 hours straight, I've been kinda fucked up since. Going back and forth between such a low depressed state into these intense highs over and over again probably caused some kind of dopamine dysregulation.

I quit recreational drugs now (took 20mg of lisdexamfetamine on Christmas just to get through the family get together) but seemed to have replaced getting high off drugs with getting high from watching degenerate porn and masturbation. Been like 4 days since my last fap and 2 days since I saw porn, I've locked my porn in a password protected folder so I can't easily access it, and promised myself I'll try to go without fapping or even looking at porn or lewd shit (intentionally) until at least next Friday. Then report back here and do another week, so on and so forth

wish me luck

The image is a close-up portrait of a man with a serious expression. The man has short, spiky hair and is wearing glasses with a reflective surface. The glasses have a blue tint, and there are two blue lights on the lenses, which are emitting a bright blue light. The background is dark, which contrasts with the man's face and the blue lights. The style of the image is reminiscent of a digital or graphic manipulation, with a grainy texture that gives it a vintage or aged look. There are no visible texts or discernible brands in the image.

The roots are depicted with a variety of shapes and textures, including spirals and loops. The tree is set against a plain background.

The text is centered and is the only text present in the image. The style of the image is reminiscent of traditional tattoo art, with a focus on the intricate details of the tree and its roots.

That's less than 140 days. Your body gets to reabsorb all the dead swimmers.

The image is a stylized, digital illustration featuring three figures with exaggerated expressions and exaggerated features. The figures are depicted in a three-dimensional style, with the background being a gradient of dark green to black. The figures are wearing dark suits and sunglasses, and their mouths are open wide, as if they are shouting or expressing surprise.

In the background, there is a circular emblem with a blue border and a white background. The emblem contains text that reads "CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY," indicating that the image is likely related to the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). The emblem is positioned above the figures, suggesting that the figures are the main subjects of the image.

The overall style of the image is cartoonish and exaggerated, with a focus on the expressions and features of the figures. The use of green for the background and the figures creates a contrast that draws attention to the figures and the text on the emblem. The image does not contain any other discernible objects or text.

He is leaning against a stone wall with his left arm extended, and his right hand is resting on the wall. His body is turned slightly to the left, and he appears to be in a squatting position. The background shows a red bridge with a distinctive arch design. The sky is overcast, and the lighting suggests it might be either early morning or late afternoon. The image is a black and white cartoon-style illustration with a humorous tone. At the top, there is a drawing of a character with a red and white face, resembling a cartoonish version of a Reddit user. The character is holding a bottle with a label that reads "Dude, check out this peer-reviewed study!" The character is also wearing glasses and has a beard.

Below the character, there is a large, open mouth with a tongue sticking out, and the word "Science!" is written in bold, capital letters. The text is in a bold, sans-serif font. In the background, there is a skull with a large eye and a small mouth, which is also drawn in a cartoon style. The skull is wearing a hat with a feather.

At the bottom of the image, there is a speech bubble with the text "I FUCKING LOVE SCIENCE!!" written in a bold, capital-letter font. The text is in a different, smaller, sans-serif font.

The overall style of the image is reminiscent of internet memes or social media posts, with a focus on humor and a playful tone. The use of the word "science" in the speech bubble is a play on the word "science fiction," which is a genre of science fiction.

quite literally. women are energy vampires. they simply CANNOT resist male sexual energy.

most men are walking around with zero sexual energy, so the only "attraction" these women feel comes down to looks, which is not enough to make them satisfied when they finally feel the presence of a man buzzing with sexual energy, they can't resist, and they attack the source of it: the semen they REALLY want to make you cum.

So I take this to mean that when you're young (as in under 22 years of age) masturbating isn't really a problem since the refractory period is shorter and your t levels are naturally higher to where your body is constantly making sperm. But coming just once as a 30 year old man I am left feeling debilitated for at least a week after. It would be interesting to see what the ages are of the men in these threads practicing retention. I'm speaking anecdotally of course but to ejaculate as a man past his prime feels like an utter death sentence. Anyone else going through this? My longest streak yet was just over a month but I didn't experience any of the benefits until I was exactly 4 weeks in. Also has anyone found ways to raise their t levels after 30? I exercise a lot and sleep plenty but it doesn't seem to help much

The image is a diagrammatic representation of the relationship between dopamine and prolactin, two neurotransmitters involved in the regulation of sexual desire and lactation, respectively. The diagram is divided into two sections, each representing a different phase of the relationship.

In the upper section, labeled "PROLCATIN - DOPAMINE RELATIONSHIP," there is a graphical representation of the relationship between dopamine and prolactin. The blue line represents the level of prolactin, which is increased when dopamine drops, and the red line represents the level of dopamine, which is increased when prolactin is high. The arrows indicate the direction of the relationship, with the blue line pointing upwards and the red line pointing downwards.

The lower section of the diagram, labeled "ORGASM," shows a graphical representation of the relationship between orgasm and prolactin. The blue arrow points to the orgasm, indicating that the level of prolactin is high, and the red arrow points to the orgasm, indicating that the level of dopamine is high.

The text above the diagram provides a description of the relationship between dopamine and prolactin, stating that at orgasm, dopamine drops and prolactin shoots up, and that prolactin functions to shut down sexual desire. It also mentions that prolactin continues to be released in surges for up to two weeks after orgasm. The overall style of the image is educational and informational, with a clear and concise presentation of the relationship between dopamine and prolactin, using both graphical and textual elements to convey the information.

Biggest thing I realized today (went like a month without relapsing, finally did the last 2 days sadly) is that any sexual session is a journey. The same dopemine rush I get when I go out for a run or biking is the rush I feel when I start fapping. I also feel this rush when I start getting deep into a meditation session.

On a metaphysical level, it seems to be about setting an intention and following it through. Make a goal and devote energy to it and you'll soon reach it. Jacking it or hooking up is just a journey into porn or into some roastie

Another thing to consider is injaculation. Not many people know this, but sometimes you can ejaculate but it might not come out all the way, instead it will stay in your body and essentially be wasted like you just coomed, even though you never saw it come out.

That's why whenever you have a wet dream, feel like you came, but saw nothing come out, it's still a streak reset. The cooming still happened, you just didn't see it.

It's also why edging is technically a streak reset too, it's just death by a thousand cuts though instead of a shotgun blast. You're doing tons of micro ejaculations without even knowing it. That's why you just have to not stroke it a single time, it's not about just "keeping it in" you have to not crank it, even a single time. Sometimes you can accidentally do this micro ejaculation shit without even touching it, if you're really horny, thinking a certain thought and move in a certain way your body won't be able to contain itself. That's why controlling your thoughts is what you have to work on once you've mastered the physical side of things.

NTA, but sounds like you slowly woke up to the fact that she was a parasite who wanted nothing more than to drain you. If she was actually providing you with love back you wouldn't have lost interest in her. Either that or you never liked her in the first place and the lust was blinding you, which is why when it started wearing off (being depleted of sexual energy) you could see what she really was.

tl;dr sounds like she was a parasite or you were blinded by lust, just my theory though.

The ONLY real sexual attraction a woman feels, is towards a man who is RETAINING HIS SEMEN and circulating that energy with proper breathing.

Everything else is a mockery that leaves women sad and unsatisfied.

How many long term gfs have you had? You get bored eventually man. It's just how it is - women are pretty boring. That's why you need a long term plan if you want to keep YOUR interest in a relationship, i.e. starting a family

>Everything else is a mockery that leaves women sad and unsatisfied.

Stop thinking that you have control over a woman's attraction. I've been on SR for years and here's the thing: even if you retain for years, or relapse, her attraction and how she feels about you will generally be out of your control. Also, there's way more to attraction than keeping your cum in your balls. If it was really that easy, most dudes will be on SR

>Looks are meaningless.

Yes you might not have directly said it, but you're insinuating that it's okay to touch your dick for any reason other than when you need to piss or clean it etc. You're just confusing anons by wording it like this, it's better to tell them to not touch it at all rather than planting some hypothetical scenario in their brain that's just going to lead to them edging themselves into a relapse, because it will.

This phenomena is because of the metaphorical pit you're climbing out of. If you're constantly relapsing when you're already at the bottom of the pit the fall is basically non existent. If you climb a substantial amount out of the pit though and THEN fall? Yeah, the fall is going to be pretty nasty. okay but what does that have to do with my post?

that there is probably some kind of "essence" (for lack of a better word) that is lost from constantly cooming, which is attractive to women, is the part i agree with.

The text is in English and appears to be a conversation between two people, with the sender's name and email address provided at the top. The conversation seems to be about a trip to London, as indicated by the text "In London, I met with a group that leverages Boga and spiritual traditions from Caben to offer this."

The conversation is structured in a series of questions and answers, with the sender asking about the recipient's email address and the recipient responding with a question. The text is in a formal tone, with the sender using a formal salutation and the recipient responding with a formal response.

The visual clues that support this interpretation are the text itself, which is a typical >Iboga is a psychoactive shrub native to Central and West Africa, primarily found in Gabon, Cameroon, and the Republic of the Congo. Its root bark contains ibogaine, the main psychoactive alkaloid responsible for its hallucinogenic and therapeutic effects.

Ibogaine is what all those veterans on Shawn Ryan Show rave about for PTSD and addiction treatment down in Mexico (long 4+ hour sessions), the psychedelic aspect is a 'life review', commonly down a hallway with one's entire life playing on screens-- a more linear, structured Near Death Experience; nearly always positive, but one guy that went back for several sessions did have one that was more ambiguous. The follow up treatment option is DMT under sedation.

The ghoul asking presumably about his own Asperge's and ibogaine is humorously pathetic in light of the operations he ran.

The central figure is a muscular cat with a golden armor-like outfit, holding a staff with a star-shaped emblem on it. This cat is surrounded by other cats, some of which are also holding weapons. okay tell me more. I am a male. I wasn't raped as a child but I had childhood trauma I guess some sexual. ill say I was a 3 year old raping other 3 year old girls and then I realized on my own what im doing is very wrong and stopped and have regretted it ever since. I am grown this happened in the late 80s. I was born with an infection and dying and my first memory is from the hospital around 6 months, and I have consciousness every since then, when a nurse inflicted extreme pain on me. I always felt more developed mentally then the rest of my peers but not extremely smart in a school sense way. I feel more sociopathic than anything but I have this innate ability to "feel" emotions of people places and just spaces in general and its something I can not deal with and causes me much distress in life. I used to be able to lucid dream (leave my body in a dream like state) but I havent in over a decade now, I can't slow my brain/thoughts down enough. Probably nothing but there is my 2 cents or 10 now. also fwiw, im a pretty well adjusted member of society in that I work and pay taxes, obviously being on 4chan I can't say im such an upstanding member but im not some sexual deviant into my adult life and have maintained a normal sex life throughout except for my early childhood.

The image is a digital graphic with a predominantly green color scheme. At the top, there is a text that reads "DON'T BE SCARRED." The text is in a bold, capitalized font and is white with a black outline. The style of the image is reminiscent of a meme or a digital artwork, with a focus on the text and the central figure.

In the bottom right corner of the image, there is a watermark or signature that reads "chive," which is likely the name of the creator or the platform where the image was created. The watermark is in a smaller font size compared to the main text and is also white with a black outline. The overall style of the image is playful and humorous, with a focus on the text and the unexpected reaction of the cucumber.

Elaborate.

What emotions are you feeling, why do they cause you distress? Why are you feeling them, the cause? what triggers it?

>but I havent in over a decade now

Dreams shift around. And things you eat and take may influence it, so you may have been doing something, or been stressed around that time that triggered it.

First of all, i do not consider myself wise enough to give advice to someone like you. I have similar behaviours, but i don't remember being abused. There's a lot to be said, i'll write what comes to mind.

From what i can tell we have integrated more of the world than most people, including evil aspects conciously. Most people have an evil side that is mostly dormant and unconcious. They would eat you if you were the only thing left and they were starving. The more you are, the less limits you have, the more chaos you have to fight within yourself. If you do so successfully, you are now "powerful". Which indeed means you have huge responsibility because you can easily manipulate people and if you do so wrongly you re doing the devil's work. It's also that small stuff doesn't bother you, you have gratitude for your life. You are humble because you have been saved from destruction.

I am not a magician as these eps people, but the emails point to them looking for this.

They also put it in movies, Evey in V for vendetta before and after her prison experience is my go to example. But it's put in A LOT of media. Even Jesus facing Satan in the desert for 40 days.

Now, i am not joking, jordan peterson (who has studied jung) has a good intuition for these phenomena and is not evil.

The letter is addressed to "The Honorable Keith Patel" and is dated "February 22, 2023" at the top. The letter is signed by "Team" and mentions a "Subject" and "Action" for the letter. The letter is written in English and is formatted in a standard business letter style.

The letter is divided into two main sections. The first section is a "Subject" section, which is titled "The Honorable Keith Patel" and lists a series of actions or tasks that need to be addressed. The second section is a "Action" section, which is titled "Team-to-go ahead of this inevitable data call, please assign an action Monday am with COB Monday."

The letter also includes a "Reply" section, which is titled "Reply to the above subject" and lists a series of responses or actions that need to be taken. The letter concludes with a "The" section, which is titled "The" and lists a "Good afternoon" and a "Subject" section, which is titled "We are in receipt of Req. letters from Chairman Corner and Chairman Luna requesting briefings on the OCC and COA and OCC would like to discuss the attached five letters. Please provide a few dates and times that BIM would be available to chat with OCA."

The letter is written in a formal and professional tone, indicating that it is a formal communication between two parties. The use of the word "Subject" and "Action" suggests that the letter is a request for action or a list of tasks to be completed. The "Reply" section indicates that the sender is waiting for a response to the subject matter. The "The" section at the end of the letter is a closing statement, and the "Subject" section at the beginning of the letter is a title for the letter.

I can feel peoples emotions, to describe it almost like they ooze it off like sweat and I absorb it and can feel them. It almost cancels myself out to a point. I dont like it because it causes me too much contempt for people or angst, I feel peoples fear,hate,anger,rage,impotency,happiness,anxiety,joy,love but most of all, confusion and sorrow, I feel it a burden to deal with almost sociopathically, I have regressed to hermitage status with few friends except those I do I am very close with, along with my wife. I am one of the few people I meet that is able to be honest with who they are to themselves and to others and mostly in life I come across people that ooze shadows and darkness because they are running from themselves. I am compulsive and make impulsive and negative decisions based on my interactions with other humans to where it negatively influences my life and inhibits my growth and success, but its something I work on. I dont even feel i've adequately described what I feel right now. Kind of feel like a personal global consciousness dot??? maybe thats a best 1 sentence sum up. yes the dream shit is right, i was under even more stress when I was able to do i then I am now. I want to stress, I do not feel special in a sense or better then any other person and I am surely not alone in these experiences all together.

You are just listing a ton of emotions.

Not the situation you are in where you explain why you are feeling these things.

You dont just go up to a person and get flooded with

"fear,hate,anger,rage,impotency,happiness,anxiety,joy,love". You interact with them, and something in the interaction makes you feel something specific. Were they sad?

Angry? Mean? Just standing there? (kek) yo... as we are at it...

Sometimes I wonder what it takes to create your very own Igor.

You would need to take an orphan really early. Raise him (because females develop different neurology) to be co-dependent, socially awkward, ugly (scars, etc.), subservient, afraid of your powers as a master of crafts (so he doesn't spontaneously heal), be something like happy/satisfied the way things are. You would also need his sex drive to become focused on you, so he doesn't lust for women who can "save" him from some non-existent misery.

Alternatively to getting an orphan (cheap version), you can buy yourself a new one, too.

it is just that i am interested in the full human potential. and igors are part of that.

you can only use him for unrefined works, though...

but you would not use AI to nail a hammer to the wall.

some say i should just wait for AI to bring forth the butler.

but then again: AI has no free will. if i sent it to poison the well, it would be me, responsible.

also... you can enhance the igor cybernetically as you see fit.
give him a smartphone, even.

Never mind. Figured it out.

Digging through the articles, figured out what he's going on about. Apparently Epstein was doing coordinated research with multiple people on finding individuals with "special abilities". He was connected 'tacitly' through government organizations in both the U.S and abroad.

The goals for special abilities, I don't know entirely yet. I need to read more. But so far I've identified three goals;

1. Coordinating and controlling special abilities people
2. Launching them into space (why?)
3. Researching and testing "human potential".
4. Using people with special abilities to train others into having them.

the practitioners of the Caravan will be in NYC. Her name is Nathalie (<https://www.ownyourspace.nl>). In my model, she is a stage 3.5 or so (stage 1 = consensus reality, stage 2 = all in on one thing, stage 3 = surrendering to the bigger forces at work, stage 4 = intuition -> insight, stage 5 = special abilities in a rounded way)

Apparently they developed a staging system to rank people with abilities. Gino and Epstein seem to also be interested in the connection between Special abilities, trauma & Sex. The above snippet is taken from an email talking about the difference between orgasm in men and women. Specifically with a lot of focus on the clitoris.

Will update as I find more.

The text is in English and is written in a formal, academic style, with a mix of paragraphs and bullet points. The document appears to be a response to a query or a request, as indicated by the phrase "I have some questions" at the top of the page. The text discusses a topic related to science and research, with a focus on the importance of collaboration and the need for a global network. The author expresses a desire to build such a network and to apply the concept of "75%" to various aspects of their work. The document also mentions the benefits of such a network, such as increased funding, access to new ideas, and the potential to help develop new technologies.

The photograph is a candid shot of the author's face, which is not visible in the document. The photograph is placed at the top of the page, and the author's name is written at the top right corner of the page. The document is in a standard font, and the page number is indicated at the bottom of the page. The overall tone of the document is serious and professional, with a focus on the importance of collaboration and the potential benefits of such a network.

More stuff in trauma. Apparently Gino had a system for locating these severely traumatized "special abilities" people. He marks these as "stage 3" in his system.

His program rehabilitated them into being self sufficient...?

So we're seeing it again. They developed and coordinated research groups to locate "special abilities" individuals. They then put them through some sort of training program where applicable.

Alright. Here's what we know now from the research I could get together....

Gino Yu, a HK Polyu professor, seems to be the main person acting as Epstein's researcher into Psychic Phenomenon.

Gino Yu classified psychic phenomenon (heretofore "special abilities") under a variety of things. Synesthesia, Extreme empathy, Telepathic communication, the ability to alter reality around them. Artistic creativity seems to also fall under this category.

Gino Yu and the psychic research team through the Caravan Express seem to hypothesize that Trauma and Sex is proportional to Special Abilities. Gino Yu developed a model of stages to categorize this level of development/trauma. "Stage 3" seems to refer to people who have undergone severe childhood trauma. Especially sexual trauma, to the point they are unable to properly care for themselves.

Gino developed a program to "rehabilitate" these "stage 3" people.

I am having extreme difficulty researching this model in the files. It's difficult to find. But Gino has, atleast, five stages. All of it seems directly related to either Sex or Trauma.

This is interesting, as it fits with old Paranormal Psychology research. The old hypothesis in Para-psych was that adolescents will begin developing minor Special Abilities. With traumatized adolescents developing them to the extreme, as a result of their trauma. This is assumed to be the majority of the reason behind Poltergeist Phenomenon.

So the streamlined version;

1. Gino Yu (polyu professor) is one of the main people conducting research into Special Abilities.
 2. Gino Yu created and organized teams of scientists, both in private and government sectors, globally. He did this to locate people with "special abilities".
 3. Gino Yu developed a 5 stage (?) model that tracks the depth of Special Ability, and also trauma.
 4. Gino Yu seems to hypothesize that Sex (sexual energy?) and Trauma are directly proportional to the abilities developed.

Without going outside, you may know the whole world.
Without looking through the window, you may see the ways of heaven.
The farther you go, the less you know.

Thus the sage knows without travelling;
He sees without looking;
He works without doing.

The image is a digital graphic with a surrealistic and dramatic style. At the top, there is a large, stylized text that reads "THE WORLD WILL SOON UNDERSTAND" in bold, orange and black letters. Below this text, there is a depiction of a man with long, curly hair, a beard, and a mustache. He has a serious expression and is holding his hands up with his fingers spread out, as if he is in a state of contemplation or shock. The man is wearing a white, patterned hoodie with a pattern that includes various shapes and lines. In the background, there is a depiction of the Earth, with a blue sky and a sun or planet in the center. The Earth is surrounded by a bright, orange and yellow aura, which suggests a cosmic or celestial event. The man's face is partially obscured by his hand, and he appears to be smoking a cigarette.

At the bottom of the image, there is a bold, black text that reads "NOTHING CAN STOP WHAT IS COMING." The style of the image is reminiscent of a meme or a satirical poster, with a focus on the idea of the world understanding something significant. The overall tone of the image is dark and dramatic, with a sense of urgency and the inevitability of a significant event.

What do you want to control it for? Assuming you can control it assumes God will let you control it only by following a set of steps. That's ridiculous. We need to be humble so that we don't do evil's bidding.

5. Gino yu used organizations such as the Caravan Express as covers for locating "stage 3" (severely sexually traumatized people with high potential in Special Abilities) individuals

6. Epstein has a direct interest and relation to all of this. There's mention in other parts of the files about the role of Sex & Magic. One of his estates apparently had a statue of the god Pan with an erection. Gino studied into the relationship between Sex and Qi Gong.

7. Gino Yu, Epstein and the others involved in this mess, had an end goal of "using" these special abilities people. They wanted to put them into space, and coordinate them to training others into developing powers.

This brings a couple interesting questions up....

Why are they so interested in these people?

Why do they want to put them into space?

I will do further research, to see if I can locate information related to this. If anyone else can, try to locate any further mentions of

>Psychic phenomenon

>Whatever the fuck model Gino Yu developed

>Occultism/ritual magic.

>Internal Energy systems (qi gong, etc)

>Childhood Sexual Trauma (relating to creativity/psi/occult)

It may help to use terms we normally wouldn't think of to find things.

God speed, gentleman. If you guys help out, we might get the thread shut down. Stay

What can be gleaned from all this information is that these crazy Jews not only for fun are founding sexually degenerate secret societies and publicly call for sexual degeneration and whip up this hysterical racism debate as an eternal agenda, brutally mixing the peoples of the earth and, above all, wanting to make white boys and black girls disappear. They do this because they themselves are the biggest racists and are deliberately engaging in genetic selection in an ongoing human breeding program. It is clear that they want the best genes for themselves. All this hysterical racism babble is by no means intended to help different people get along peacefully with each other in the end. It is intended to cause them eternal stress and, above all, to prevent them from keeping their own genes pure. It is about tough racial selection.

They will portray this case as if the whole thing is just about rich people with dirty fantasies. About freaked-out billionaires who fondled girls who were a little too young. But it was about more than that. It was about breeding, a ruthlessly calculated human breeding program. Girls of best breeding age were brought in from all over and bred on this island.

And they want to play master race on earth in the stolen skin of the white man. It has never been about anything other than bare existence and who is allowed to pass on the torch of life and who is not. And this information is now being thrown in our faces because those who can afford to stand above the law have long since created their own parallel world that allows them to dispense with the slave camps known to us as civilization. That is why we are all seeing the civilization we know collapsing around us while we are still living in it. But the little people carry their own fire within them. The rich regard the little people as flies. They do not know that without the flies, they will suffocate in their own shit. But that is another story and should be told another time.

the major finding of MKULTRA was that traumatizing a gifted child will cause them to develop some degree of psy ability as a defense mechanism. For Joe McMoneagle (well regarded remote viewer), it was his experiences as a child with an abusive alcoholic father and later his tours of duty as a point man in Vietnam. The "model" is probably some MKULTRA research derived program or workflow that allows people to rediscover their latent path ability.

Epstein had a strange obsession with intelligent children.

Are these abilities tied to bloodlines? Because my brother when he was little he used to dream a lot about shit that will happen in the future. He correctly dreamed the night our dog died, he also predicted when my father died. Also had a poltergeist experience when a priest came to bless my grandmother's house, my cousin acted all possessed weird violent sounds around the house that had no explanation, and had the priest do an exorcism. That was some weird shit. My brother also lost the dreams of future in adolescence and is still a virgin.

I actually do not know, but I always get the feeling that I'm being fooled to think "I'm different, just like them, I have the same feelings and characteristics".

I have similar experiences, some really weird.

If you ask me, yeah, I'm not your average human being, many friends told me that as well, like "I'm above the humans", but everyone feels the urge to feel that and jump to this conclusion, bending memories and experiences to fit our desire.

So...are we (you/me/reader) really different from everyone else? I'm not really sure, maybe we are just weak suckers.

As we've learned, the unwashed masses won't actually rise up unless paid agitators start the fire so a revolution seems unlikely. So, then what? Warding? Meditation? Christ? Astral shit? Paganism? Relocating to a Tibetan Monastery? Digging a hole and living as a fucking mole?

The fact that these things are all fucking real and happening and were openly discussed by these ghouls makes it hard to have any faith.

The image is a text excerpt from a document or article, primarily in English. The text is written in a formal and technical tone, discussing a topic related to cryptocurrency and its potential risks. The text is divided into two main sections, each with a heading and a paragraph.

The first section, titled "The veil tears further with these latest disclosures—for the veil is never fully lifted, only rent is calculated," begins with a statement that the veil of secrecy is being further breached, indicating that the veil of secrecy is not fully lifted. The text then mentions that the US Department of Justice has completed a study and report on the use of the so-called "Ethereum Files," which are encrypted images and videos that are stored on the Ethereum blockchain. The text goes on to discuss the Transparency Act, which was signed into law by Trump in November 2020, and the subsequent dumping of millions of images, videos, and other data into the public domain.

The second section, titled "Make no mistake: this is revelation of the method in its purest form," begins with a statement that the method of cryptocurrency must be disclosed enough to balance the karmic scale, even as they redact, obfuscate, and hide it. The text then discusses the concept of "universal law demands," which are the requirements of the law that must be met by the cryptocurrency. It mentions the need for the cryptocurrency to be decentralized, with no central authority, and to be transparent enough to balance the karmic scale. The text also discusses the concept of "truth leakage and continued obfuscation."

The text concludes with a statement that the cryptocurrency cannot hide it all, and that it will never surrender the core. The text ends with a note that the document is not intended to be a comprehensive guide to cryptocurrency, but rather a brief overview of the issues and concerns surrounding it.

The image depicts a close-up view of a large, spherical object that appears to be a sun, with a bright, fiery appearance. The sun's surface is densely packed with numerous small, dark spots, which are indicative of the sun's surface features such as its photosphere, chromosphere, and corona. The sun's surface is illuminated by a bright, orange-red light, which is likely the result of the sun's core being in a state of intense nuclear fusion. The background of the image is a deep red color, which could be a representation of the sun's atmosphere or a color filter used in the image. The image is a high-resolution, color photograph with a focus on the sun's surface, capturing the intricate details of its structure and the energy it radiates. There are no texts or discernible human-made objects in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on the natural beauty of the sun.

I read the thread. He was a driver on the island, if I remember correctly. Well, you can't see the context in which this screenshot appears in the files. But we can safely assume that a guy like Epstein, who was personally involved in the creation of /pol/, always paid some plebs to lurk there, waiting for someone to leak something related to his criminal activities. /pol/ was always a honeypot, but not in the way we imagined. Users felt they could discuss the shit they otherwise had to keep quiet about anonymously there. If anyone in those Epstein-circles ever got the idea to leak any of it, 4chan was their first adressed, at least until now.

Now you can be pretty sure that's a very bad idea to post something like this here!

Perhaps this should also be taken as a direct warning to anyone who thinks they can show up here on 4chan with any further details.

The image is a painting that depicts a scene of two figures standing on a rocky outcropping at sunset. The sky is painted with warm colors, transitioning from a deep orange at the horizon to a lighter yellow at the top, suggesting the sun is setting. The figures are silhouetted against the vibrant sky, with the person on the left appearing to be holding a staff or a similar object, and the person on the right holding a small object that could be interpreted as a camera or a similar device. The landscape is rugged and rocky, with the figures standing on a cliff that overlooks a vast expanse of mountains and valleys. The overall style of the painting is reminiscent of the Art Nouveau movement, characterized by its use of bold, flowing lines and a sense of movement.

The image is a screenshot of a text document, which appears to be a list or a description of a psychological or spiritual development process. The text is in English and is presented in a standard font, with a dark background that contrasts with the white text. The document is organized into numbered sections, each with a title and a description, suggesting a structured approach to understanding the stages of consciousness or awakening.

The first section, labeled "The Five Stages of Consciousness/Awakening (as described by Yu)," begins with the statement "Formation of worldview and basic awareness—Early development of physiolog/symbols, forming basic stories about self/world (e.g., 'learning symbols like "person"—happy/sad"—initial conditioned beliefs and consensus reality take shape." This section seems to be discussing the initial stages of consciousness or awakening, which are described as forming basic stories about self and the world.

The second section, titled "Stage 2: Focus and narrowing," begins with the statement "Zeroing in/focusing awareness—developing concentration on specific inputs, building prescribed roles, beliefs, and ego structures within societal norms." This section seems to be discussing the second stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves focusing on specific inputs and building roles and structures within societal norms.

The third section, labeled "Stage 3: Presence, breakthrough, and crisis," begins with the statement "Breaking from consensus reality existential crises—deconstruction of old beliefs/roles often triggered by trauma or disillusionment." This section seems to be discussing the third stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves breaking from consensus reality and existential crises.

The fourth section, titled "Stage 4: Ego death and rebirth—Profound dissolution of ego/self, transcendence of separate identity, often involves deep surrender, non-dual glimpses, or death/of old self, rebirth into expanded awareness." This section seems to be discussing the fourth stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves profound dissolution of the ego and self, transcendence of separate identity, and deep surrender.

The fifth section, labeled "Stage 5: Reconnection and thriving—Sustainable high states: reconnection to innate wonderment, gratitude, joy of being—boundless compassion/potential for non-ordinary abilities to stabilize—living in alignment with true nature—often guiding others or contributing to collective evolution." This section seems to be discussing the fifth stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves sustainable high states, reconnection to innate wonderment, gratitude, joy of being, boundless compassion, and potential for non-ordinary abilities to stabilize, and living in alignment with true nature.

The document appears to be a comprehensive guide or description of a psychological or spiritual development process, likely intended for educational or therapeutic purposes. The text is organized in a way that suggests a sequential progression from one stage to the next, with each stage being described in detail. The use of numbered sections and descriptive titles helps to organize the information and make it easier to follow the progression of consciousness or awakening.

I glimpsed Stage 5 last month, and had direct, undeniable experience with an "ability" of expanded consciousness, naturally with no psychedelics. It truly is our a natural, heavenly state. In short, in broad daylight around strangers on a busy street my vision turned full panoramic and extremely high definition. My field of view increased about 30% meaning I could see beyond the physical extents of my eyes, and partly above/below my head. I could see just as clearly from the corner of my eyes as the centre of view, that was the most mindblowing. I know for sure 3D human reality is completely metaphorical. My field of vision literally expanded because I had raised my consciousness to "see" more of life, because in that moment I knew that I was pure consciousness/spirit firstly, generating the human form, so of course my field of vision could expand. Everything is just a belief humans have physically evolved into. When I get into that state again I have no doubt I could see with my foot if I choose to. You have control of your own reality. It doesn't diminish the human experience, but this is obviously not ultimate reality and is a dream in a way, a simulation. In the lead up to this experience I also had undeniable proof of this claim that life is a dream and we are learning to get lucid in it to consciously control it and co-create with god.

The experience then turned extremely blissful as per the description in your image. Make no mistake, heaven on earth is right now, always. It's a matter of perception and state of being/vibration. Time is a complete illusion. When you manage to literally raise your vibration (I will go into this further) to the point of consciousness expansion (call it 5D consciousness because you're aware reality is a living metaphor and you automatically enter god mode) reality becomes extremely beautiful, meaningful and pure love, the only real emotion in the higher realms.

A blade of grass becomes a billion times more interesting than your phone. In your real state you want to talk to and love every single person you see.

My first interpretation was is we are merely gods having a laugh playing a game with eachother, everything is a play/drama/joke. Gods pretending not to be gods and that everything is not one thing. You may be worried about your individuality, but the fact everything is one is insanely beautiful. I know it used to mindfuck me that there is no "other" outside of me. Everything happening in the multiverse always is a perfect occurrence, even if an asteroid wipes out earth, the real you transcends it.

But in the days following I think there is some spiritual warfare happening, however nothing can damage our souls they are always eternal and perfect. Basically we are at a pivotal point in human evolution in this version of the drama. Humanity must awaken to the truth that all is one thing, and love is the only real force in the universe. Doing so will automatically awaken their souls to unlock amazing intelligence, healing abilities, christ-like behaviour which is everyone's true nature.

Technology and AI is the mark of the beast in the sense it makes us reliant on a human invention, not the divine billion IQ intelligence of our higher selves. For humanity to evolve beyond extinction (higher beings could destroy humanity instantly if collectively we "fuck it up", like you could choose to stand on an ant hill), we must incorporate spirituality as the foundation for everything, because its the only true reality. Complete reliance on technology inhibits spiritual development and will lead to extinction eventually.

ore on everyone's true nature. You are multidimensional entity living in many states/existences at once. You sent part of yourself to Earth (if you are reading this then you came to help ascend the collective through presence alone) and automatically inherit the DENSE vibration here making everyone asleep to their real nature, and depressed, and happiness is extremely fleeting. Your true nature is most like a pure child. Life experiences, society, parents all lead to a diminishment of your spirit while here. If you are sad, depressed you must realised those states of being are not real, you are just pretending in a sense. Part of awakening is choosing your state of being.

Finally, the experience ending with the third eye / intuitive presence of two or more higher dimensional entities. One felt like it was my mother's spirit who was my guide/guardian angel. I realised every negative interaction with my family or any other person is done out of love. The soul of that person is literally instructing them to say that hurtful thing as part of your own development. My dad called me lazy because in this life I wanted to fix the laziness habit I had in a past existence. You write the script, direct and act in your own drama, im quite sure of it. Upon meeting my mother's soul in my third eye I felt NDE type love and cried in the middle of street from the beauty of what she was doing for me.

I want anon to grasp this. Your real state of being is bliss and it can be experienced naturally while on Earth. You become aware that everything in the entire universe is happening for you out of love for you. From planets moving, to bees collecting honey. It's all for you. Everything in the universe knows you and is helping you, consciously, in the higher realms, but unaware from this perspective. There are no coincidences.

Childhood sex abuse, testing frighteningly high on intelligence tests from a young age, overly privy to the emotions and inclinations of others, extreme luck against all odds, etc. The list goes on. I was also involved in the GATE experiment, though I will say that the stories circulated on here seem to be corrupted memories circulated by those who were ejected from the program early on. Not a lot of people know this, but they would eject kids from GATE every year. My last GATE session was in 8th grade and I remember there were only 4 of us left(one of whom happens to be my best friend and creative partner to this day). The other two were girls, one of whom excelled academically and barely EVER spoke (even up to graduation), and the other has been in and out of various psych wards and detention centers since their Sophomore year.

Personally, I think these people are onto something, though it isn't what often gets discussed on here. I believe that it's a curated system that dates back to the Ancient Greeks or perhaps even further. Note that the Ancient Greeks considered pederasty a compulsory aspect of rearing/education, to the point where Plato (the undisputed progenitor of most western thought) openly discussed NAMBLA shit in his dialogues. Note also that that particular society was ridiculously knowledgeable and advanced for its time. I think it bears to reason that much of this abuse is actually an attempt at creating extraordinary individuals, as opposed to being abject abuse for the sake of pleasure. That being said, I also believe that the majority of those involved are simply sick fucks. I just think that the intellectual backbone of the practice is more complex and less malevolent than it appears to be.

Finally, don't let my casual tone imply that I approve of this practice, I actually believe these people need to be taken out back and shot.

It saddens me that you haven't received any responses. It is EXTREMELY important for people to keep this in mind, especially when you notice that most people who fall into this mindset tend to neutralize themselves as a social threat by constantly asserting their intellectual/spiritual superiority. Others (like Kaczynski) end up committing atrocities which (according to the accepted lore) inflicts societal trauma thus accomplishing the goals of the supposed "enemy".

It all feels a bit too convenient, especially since the "knowledge" that often leads people into these mindsets is suspiciously not only easy to find, but also very easy to simply stumble across.

Note that this thread concerns the Epstein leaks, which (based on what i've seen) appear to confirm 90+% of the "schizo nonsense" you tend to find on forums like this. So, you get drip fed a narrative that leads you to believe you are special, mainstream society rejects the narrative that you've accepted which proves your superiority, and then a swath of documents confirming said superiority is released, thus widening the gap you feel exists between you and your fellow man.

Think about what that does to a person mentally. You are CERTAIN that an international cabal is running everything, nobody believes you for years, suddenly your claims are "confirmed", and still the average person doesn't take your concerns seriously. The only paths available to that individual are radical action (terrorist attacks, etc.), complete withdrawal from society (social neutralization), or to become the local schizo that nobody takes seriously.

Terrifyingly, some will eventually use this notion of intellectual/spiritual superiority to empathize with the supposed "powers that be", concluding themselves what they considered the elites so evil for in the first place: namely, that most people are cattle.

I find this all very suspicious. Thanks anon

This researcher knows what he is talking about. I was in forcefully put in GATE and have extreme levels of childhood trauma unrelated to the program. More than anyone I've met or read about. I can do everything people try to learn on /x/ but naturally and have since I was a child. The researcher is right about those being stage 3 and above being unable to support themselves. The psychic attacks usually fuck with our lives through times we are supposed to be asleep. I have multiple extra sensory abilities and all they have brought me is pain. My body astral projects by itself and extra-dimensional beings try to make deals with me. He probably wanted to collect people like me to feed the demonic entities surrounding him, or to make connections with more of them. We produce a massive amount of "loosh". Way more than typical people. He likely collected females with esp and other abilities for this reason rather than just to rape them. Epstein is likely this way himself and hates all of the normie males around him who just want to fuck kids. He probably could not relate to them entirely. He likely got raped as a child as well or experienced other children getting raped. This is likely why he believes in so much wacky shit... because he's one of the kids who did not turn their backs on the entities and actually made a deal with them and had relationships with many of them. I wish I could talk with this researcher.

I remember this thread. Please don't consider me a glowie for this, but this is definitely a lie. Consider the last part of the story, when Cole slaps the phone out of the driver's hand as he's trying to CALL THE COPS ON AN INTERNATIONAL PEDO CABAL and all Cole has to say is "don't do that, it will look bad on my family". IF you retards believe this shit you are beyond saving. Do you actually think that this guy, who supposedly witnessed that AND attempted to call the police was allowed to live afterward? The only other explanation is that they wanted the info to get out, which you retards also have a million explanations for because you want to keep living in your tiny bubble of "I KNOW what's going on but nobody else does!!!!", as if this wasn't information easily accessible by anybody with an internet connection and an inclination toward conspiratorial thinking.

Gag me with a spoon. You, as well as everybody who believes this glorified creepypasta, are useful retards. Please accept that and read as much as you can about history and psychology (actual books by real authors, not bullshit by fellow compromised idiots). Thucydides and Plato are a great place to start mate. They'll help you understand how long this has been going on and just how deep it goes. The screenshot you posted though? Definitely bullshit meant to preen the egos of the "saviors".

Always remember, people don't type out traumatic experiences they've had in the format of an easily digested short story. If this person actually experienced this, it wouldn't read as a standard narrative.

Untrue. Not with drugs. Drugs give a false sense of the extra-sensory. Drugs actually dull the mind from the effects of ESP on trauma. That is why a lot of people with ESP are alcoholics. The alcohol makes them remember the trauma but dulls their abilities. The lady in that show Medium based on a real medium was telling the truth when she said that drinking alcohol shuts the "ghosts" up. Why do you think alcohol is called spirits? We live in a world where every species (including us) is brutal as fuck. Lions have to brutally murder in order to eat, as do we. It is the way of the world. So of course, eventually, a thinking individual will conclude that killing and abuse is something both ordered and supported by God. How would any thinking individual look at this world, which revolves primarily around killing and rape in order to continue (corpses feed the cherry blossoms, rape is endemic in nature), and conclude anything other than "alright, shit, let's do this". Also note that a zebra cub that escapes certain death will necessarily be more knowledgeable than other Zebras- as will a zebra that was raped at a young age. It's a simple matter of familiarity with extreme circumstances. It really isn't that complex. No ESP, no psychic abilities or premonitions, simple understanding. PEople subjected to similar things can "see the future" because they were shown the entirety of human/animal nature from a young age, thus NECESSITATING that they understand it more deeply.

The only problem is that the average human REJECTS these instincts, which were formerly necessary in order to keep our species existent. Meaning that we do have some kind of aspect of Godliness in us, in that we can look at the natural order of things and say "no". I believe that the supposed "powers that be" are somehow too unevolved to understand this, thus leading them to deify Animism the way they have.

Polygamy, the supposed natural state of things is supplanted by monogamy
Murder, the supposed natural state of things, is supplanted by general pacifism
Consumption of flesh, the undeniable bottom line of life, is supplanted by the consumption of lesser life (which suspiciously creates weak minded individuals)

I'm not going to pretend to have any answers here, because I don't. It is, however, very important for us to notice and explore these glaring contradictions.

I don't think you can get rid of it. It also seems to get stronger as you get older. The trauma you were exposed to that caused it gets weaker. The trauma is like a lock on your mind that gets looser each year. You'll start to remember more and more bad things that happened to you as you age. Your abilities will get stronger and more frequent. The only thing that stops it is alcohol, but it'll turn you into someone you won't like. Avoid weed and other hallucinogenic things. Yes weed is hallucinogenic to people who have ESP. Not sure why but it is.

The only thing that has helped me is turning the power into positive things. Like if I have a headache I can make it go away. If someone near me is suffering emotionally or physically I can help them just by focusing on it. Steering the present into a positive future. Things like that.

King was an actual phenom, if you read his autobiography there's a story about how he had nothing to get fucked up on and he remembered that there was discarded cough medicine in the wastebasket, which he then shamelessly rooted for.

My grandpa told me that he drinks to "shut it all up", which fucked with me, because the way I'd put it is that I drink to "make it easy to hear them", and we shared no blood. I think that booze kills the part of your brain that connects to other people, and renders ESP inclined individuals more-or -less "normal. My main piece of evidence for this is that everybody i've ever known who "shines" is considered abnormal when they're sober and normal when they drink, because numbing the inclination is absolutely necessary if one wants to interact with others the way they interact with each other. Also, sorry I didn't really answer your question. I know that people who have an inclination toward ESP naturally find each other as if by magnetism, they are always naturally inclined toward right angle thinking, and find the curved thinking that others seem to be born with incomprehensible. Also, ESP is more a feeling based thing than it is direct thought-transfer. For example, you can look at a person and know that they're beyond being in a bad mood, you can tell that they're on the verge of a nervous breakdown or something (even strangers). Also, if you've ever entered a place and changed the way you're treated by simply moving different or looking around a certain way, that's another example of ESP. I believe it's all electromagnetism and that the signals you send from your brain affect other brains like a radio signal would a radio. I know that was long winded and nonsensical, I apologize anon

Alcohol can both calm and exacerbate "The Shine", Kubrick put more emphasis on the damaging effects whereas King was trying to write a more complex examination of the relationship between ESP and intoxication. Remember, sobriety calms the shining, but drinking does also. Why is that? Kubrick's adaptation is unfaithful to the concept, King was trying to make a statement about how both sobriety and intoxication amplify extrasensory talents, whereas Kubrick filmed as a one way street. Pretty sure that's why Kind didn't like the film

I do in a way. My brain also shuts the hell up when I drink, but it also makes it vulnerable to possession, which is what that entire novel is actually about. The spirits quiet the shine, but only as a means of taking control of you. It's a trick, like shaking hands with the devil. All of the pain, frustration, and anxiety goes away, but at a cost. That's why "moderation" is prized in philosophy, being able to expertly traverse the middle ground between quieting the spirits and still having control over them is something VERY special. It's not some bullshit "oh don't do too much of anything", it's more "recognize when the ghosts are able to inhabit you and never let it hit that point"

To answer your other question, I don't know about it. This is pure speculation. I know nothing Hilarious, if not somewhat morbid, to see people who claim to not be NPCs act exactly like NPCs. I'm with you anon. The release of these files seems extremely calculated, hence the edging to get them in the first place.

>Noooo don't look at those files you rascals you can't have them

>YOU CAN'T HAVE THEM

>They don't exist shut the fuck up

>They exist but they're fake and gay

>Okie dokie here you go

And like flies to honey people flocked to them. They literally could not resist. It's like the ultimate revelation of the method and they want all eyes on them. Despite the files contents I guarantee that nothing will happen, as per usual. Not only that but because now everyone knows, and nobody did or will do anything, nobodys free will is now being violated, and the permission is granted to continue. Granted by you, and me, and everyone who has layed eyes on them. There are now two paths before us. Either literally burn everything to the ground or die knowing that you condoned everything that has happened and will continue to happen. There is no middle ground. There is no third choice. Either create hard times that you'll never see the fruits of, or continue eating your Fruit Loops and paying your taxes to literal cannabaal pedophiles who see you as an actual unthinking animal. There's a reason I'm mid thirties with no wife, children, or family to speak of. I'm ready for hard times. Seems absolutely nobody else is. Before we incarnated I thought we planned this life?

This thread just gave me a terrifying revelation.

I've lurked /x/ for years and have tried most of the stuff here multiple times, like LoA, astral projection, lucid dreaming. Every time I tried experimenting them, I was always one step away from fully doing so, and always failed on that one step. For example, when trying to astral project, I got to the point where your body and mind are completely calm, and you start vibrating... and then I'd just get a sudden goosebump and snap out of it completely, this happened every time I attempted a projection.

I also never had a paranormal experience, never saw any entities, never felt anything near me, yet completely believed all the tales and stories about them. I had a friend that always talked about really scary shit that happened to him, many experiences that were also shared by other friends, and wouldn't you know it, he got raped as a kid.

It all makes sense to me now, why none of that worked, why I've never had experiences like them. It's because my childhood... and life as a whole, have been pretty unremarkable and calm, I never got abused at home, school or church, I don't have any traumas to speak of, nothing.

Fuck, I feel like fucking cattle now.

This shit has been slowly drip fed to us in the media for years. Psychic children with trauma getting "trained" and "tested" by government? They had that in the New Mutants film—even had the one chick seeing demons and ghosts and shit.

And what does the media always show that happens to these psychics? They're used to influence or spy on people. Minority Report, Riddick, etc. etc.

But it gets crazier: we've already been shown what they want out of these psychics by sending them into space. Darth Revan literally sat in the Star Forge meditating while a battle took place over a planet, influencing the outcome of the battle through the force.

These space psychics are literally being trained to practice Sith meditation to influence outcomes on planet Earth. And they've already been doing it.

Guess where?

If you were the master race you wouldn't have to go to such lengths to have power. You'd just naturally be treated like kings and the world would sit reverently at your feet... like the world treated whites before you usurpers misled them.

No matter. It's just growing pains, and someday order will be restored.

The image is a black and white line drawing of a person's face. The person appears to be a male with short, dark hair and glasses. His eyes are red, and he has a wide-open mouth with tears streaming down his cheeks. The drawing is simplistic and cartoon-like, with no shading or depth, and the style is reminiscent of a meme or a satirical illustration. There is a watermark in the bottom right corner that reads "tesmik," which is likely the artist's signature or the name of the artist. The overall mood of the image is somber and emotional, with the tears suggesting a strong emotional response.

So Epstein was a bored multimillionaire boomer in his fifties who wanted to know "cool" people by travelling with a boomer idea of superpowers, a boomer idea of saving the world, and a boomer idea of rehabilitation mixed with esotericism, occult religions, and mysticism. In the end, he abused minors. A midlife crisis padded with money and free time, he made his own personal movie and his end was deserved, as was that of everyone involved.

I have the type of ESP you speak of and others as well. Very correct about the way alcohol makes abnormal people like us normal, and others treat us normal. I have never been able to pass a job interview sober even though I am a very skilled and competent person. The only ones I have ever passed involved me being wasted. I wish I did not have to do this. I used to be totally straight edge until the frequency of paranormal experiences grew with each year. The drinking helps me connect with normal people and lets their guard down around me. I naturally give people bad vibes despite being a demure and small person. I also drink to make the astral projection, entity visits, and visions stop. They can get extremely disruptive when trying to sleep normally. Other types of ESP are enhanced for me while wasted but they are not negative like what the alcohol blocks out. Tonight is a good example of me about to get totally wasted so I can avoid what the majority of posters on this board chase.

Thank you so much for your answers. It makes me feel so much less alone. I've never gotten to know someone else who is afflicted by this.

Yeah trauma does something to the brain that makes it receptive. All the research I've done has expressed this. I used to think it just ran in my family but it turns out that everyone who has esp in my family have been deeply abused as kids.

You are not cattle. There isn't anything fun or rewarding having these abilities. It's why in the files that Asian dude who collects people like us keeps emphasizing that people with strong abilities cannot navigate through life and that a majority of them are homeless or drug addicts. The abilities control you rather than the other way around. People like you can't be taken over by them and that is why you get stopped on the last "step" when you feel an itch on your arm. For people like me there are no steps to take. It just happens to us without our consent. Almost like a psychic rape.

Let me know if you find one. Drop an email maybe. Maybe we could start one but I do worry about people who will ask us how to do these things. I've unintentionally disappointed and frustrated people I really cared about by not being able to "teach" them the abilities.

Trauma gained as an adult is completely different from trauma that physically forms and shapes a developing child's brain. Don't give people false hope. Spirituality and magic are completely different from psychic abilities. It's like having one foot in reality and the other foot in another hyper-real dimension which is more real than reality that cannot accurately be described with words because the vast majority of the population do not experience these extra senses. It's almost like half of the child died after being exposed to deep prolonged trauma and has passed onto the afterlife and the other half is still in reality. No one can program their own mind to receive signals from other dimensions. You either have to have a fucked up brain from birth or have it reconfigured by repetitive trauma as a child. Who knows maybe an adult with extreme brain plasticity could do it but that sounds extremely abnormal.

In the foreground, there is a figure with short, spiky hair and a determined expression, wearing a dark, sleeveless top. The figure is surrounded by a crowd of similarly styled figures, all with their faces obscured by shadows. The crowd is densely packed, with some figures appearing to be in motion, as if they are running or fighting. The overall mood of the image is intense and chaotic, with a sense of urgency and danger. [323 / 48]The image is a screenshot of a text message exchange between two individuals. The text is in English and appears to be a conversation between two people, with the sender's name and email address provided at the top. The conversation seems to be about a trip to London, as indicated by the text "In London, I met with a group that leverages Boga and spiritual traditions from Caben to offer this."

The conversation is structured in a series of questions and answers, with the sender asking about the recipient's email address and the recipient responding with a question. The text is in a formal tone, with the sender using a formal salutation and the recipient responding with a formal response.

The visual clues that support this interpretation are the text itself, which is a typical format for a conversation exchange. The sender's name and email address are clearly visible, and the recipient's response is formatted in a way that suggests a formal exchange. The text is in a standard font and is not stylized or decorative, which is common for written communication.

There are no images or other visual elements present in the image, and the focus is solely on the text. The content of the text is not detailed, but it appears to be a professional or formal communication, possibly related to a business or personal matter. 215KiB, 1080x691, 1770083053561497.png Wow these leaks are special... This is revalation.

I think i know what he means partly, he found someone powerful: intelligent who has known and integrated evil (the abuse). Special abilities probably means at least that they can synchronize with the world and empathize with people which means they can control people but at those levels maybe they also have some tests like calling 90 of 100 coin tosses. I never thought i'd see this talked openly. Respond if you want more details. I actually read /x/ partly because i am looking to talk to that sort of man or woman.

Trump is an example of this (he and eps had a relation too) but most politicians are not. Most i've seen it is in actors.

In the eps circles i'd think they get these powers from dark entities through ritual. But regular people can have it by the Holy Spirit, MY opinion.

>Iboga is a psychoactive shrub native to Central and West Africa, primarily found in Gabon, Cameroon, and the Republic of the Congo. Its root bark contains ibogaine, the main psychoactive alkaloid responsible for its hallucinogenic and therapeutic effects.

Ibogaine is what all those veterans on Shawn Ryan Show rave about for PTSD and addiction treatment down in Mexico (long 4+ hour sessions), the psychedelic aspect is a 'life review', commonly down a hallway with one's entire life playing on screens-- a more linear, structured Near Death Experience; nearly always positive, but one guy that went back for several sessions did have one that was more ambiguous. The follow up treatment option is DMT under sedation.

The ghoul asking presumably about his own Asperge's and ibogaine is humorously pathetic in light of the operations he ran.

I think it's something linked to what they were trying to do with the GATE program, identify children that had either near death experiences or massive trauma which may have activated some sort of abilities. Not like moving tables with your mind like in the movies but more precognitive things.

okay tell me more. I am a male. I wasn't raped as a child but I had childhood trauma I guess some sexual. ill say I was a 3 year old raping other 3 year old girls and then I realized on my own what im doing is very wrong and stopped and have regretted it ever since. I am grown this happened in the late 80s. I was born with an infection and dying and my first memory is from the hospital around 6 months, and I have consciousness every since then, when a nurse inflicted extreme pain on me. I always felt more developed mentally then the rest of my peers but not extremely smart in a school sense way. I feel more sociopathic than anything but I have this innate ability to "feel" emotions of people places and just spaces in general and its something I can not deal with and causes me much distress in life. I used to be able to lucid dream (leave my body in a dream like state) but I havent in over a decade now, I can't slow my brain/thoughts down enough. Probably nothing but there is my 2 cents or 10 now. also fwiw, im a pretty well adjusted member of society in that I work and pay taxes, obviously being on 4chan I can't say im such an upstanding member but im not some sexual deviant into my adult life and have maintained a normal sex life throughout except for my early childhood.

The image is a digital graphic with a predominantly green color scheme. At the top, there is a text that reads "DON'T BE SCARRED." The text is in a bold, capitalized font and is white with a black outline. The style of the image is reminiscent of a meme or a digital artwork, with a focus on the text and the central figure.

The figure is a stylized representation of a cucumber, which is depicted with a green skin texture and a green stem. The cucumber is shown with a surprised expression, with its mouth open and eyes wide, as if it is reacting to the text. The image is overlaid on a plain, light background that does not distract from the main subject.

In the bottom right corner of the image, there is a watermark or signature that reads "chive," which is likely the name of the creator or the platform where the image was created. The watermark is in a smaller font size compared to the main text and is also white with a black outline. The overall style of the image is playful and humorous, with a focus on the text and the unexpected reaction of the cucumber.

>but I havent in over a decade now

Dreams shift around. And things you eat and take may influence it, so you may have been doing something, or been stressed around that time that triggered it.

First of all, i do not consider myself wise enough to give advice to someone like you. I have similar behaviours, but i don't remember being abused. There's a lot to be said, i'll write what comes to mind.

From what i can tell we have integrated more of the world than most people, including evil aspects conciously. Most people have an evil side that is mostly dormant and unconcious. They would eat you if you were the only thing left and they were starving. The more you are, the less limits you have, the more chaos you have to fight within yourself. If you do so successfully, you are now "powerful". Which indeed means you have huge responsibility because you can easily manipulate people and if you do so wrongly you re doing the devil's work. It's also that small stuff doesn't bother you, you have gratitude for your life. You are humble because you have been saved from destruction.

I am not a magician as these eps people, but the emails point to them looking for this. They also put it in movies, Evey in V for vendetta before and after her prison experience is my go to example. But it's put in A LOT of media. Even Jesus facing Satan in the desert for 40 days.

Now, i am not joking, jordan peterson (who has studied jung) has a good intuition for these phenomena and is not evil.

The letter is divided into two main sections. The first section is a "Subject" section, which is titled "The Honorable Keith Patel" and lists a series of actions or tasks that need to be addressed. The second section is a "Action" section, which is titled "Team-to-go ahead of this inevitable data call, please assign an action Monday am with COB Monday."

The letter also includes a "Reply" section, which is titled "Reply to the above subject" and lists a series of responses or actions that need to be taken. The letter concludes with a "The" section, which is titled "The" and lists a "Good afternoon" and a "Subject" section, which is titled "We are in receipt of Req. letters from Chairman Corner and Chairman Luna requesting briefings on the OCC and COA and OCC would like to discuss the attached five letters. Please provide a few dates and times that BIM would be available to chat with OCA."

The letter is written in a formal and professional tone, indicating that it is a formal communication between two parties. The use of the word "Subject" and "Action" suggests that the letter is a request for action or a list of tasks to be completed. The "Reply" section indicates that the sender is waiting for a response to the subject matter. The "The" section at the end of the letter is a closing statement, and the "Subject" section at the beginning of the letter is a title for the letter.

I am one of the few people I meet that is able to be honest with who they are to themselves and to others and mostly in life I come across people that ooze shadows and darkness because they are running from themselves. I am compulsive and make impulsive and negative decisions based on my interactions with other humans to where it negatively influences my life and inhibits my growth and success, but its something I work on. I dont even feel i've adequately described what I feel right now. Kind of feel like a personal global consciousness dot??? maybe thats a best 1 sentence sum up. yes the dream shit is right, i was under even more stress when I was able to do i then I am now. Not the situation you are in where you explain why you are feeling these things.

You dont just go up to a person and get flooded with

Sometimes I wonder what it takes to create your very own Igor.

You would need to take an orphan really early. Raise him (because females develop different neurology) to be co-dependent, socially awkward, ugly (scars, etc.), subservient, afraid of your powers as a master of crafts (so he doesn't spontaneously heal), be something like happy/satisfied the way things are. You would also need his sex drive to become focused on you, so he doesn't lust for women who can "save" him from some non-existent misery.

Alternatively to getting an orphan (cheap version), you can buy yourself a new one, too.

it is just that i am interested in the full human potential. and igors are part of that.

you can only use him for unrefined works, though...

but you would not use AI to nail a hammer to the wall.

some say i should just wait for AI to bring forth the butler.

but then again: AI has no free will. if i sent it to poison the well, it would be me, responsible.

give him a smartphone, even.

Never mind. Figured it out.

Digging through the articles, figured out what he's going on about. Apparently Epstein was doing coordinated research with multiple people on finding individuals with "special abilities". He was connected 'tacitly' through government organizations in both the U.S and abroad.

The goals for special abilities, I don't know entirely yet. I need to read more. But so far I've identified three goals;

1. Coordinating and controlling special abilities people
2. Launching them into space (why?)
3. Researching and testing "human potential".
4. Using people with special abilities to train others into having them.

His program rehabilitated them into being self sufficient...?

So we're seeing it again. They developed and coordinated research groups to locate "special abilities" individuals. They then put them through some sort of training program where applicable.

Alright. Here's what we know now from the research I could get together....

Gino Yu, a HK Polyu professor, seems to be the main person acting as Epstein's researcher into Psychic Phenomenon.

Gino Yu classified psychic phenomenon (heretofore "special abilities") under a variety of things. Synesthesia, Extreme empathy, Telepathic communication, the ability to alter reality around them. Artistic creativity seems to also fall under this category.

Gino Yu and the psychic research team through the Caravan Express seem to hypothesize that Trauma and Sex is proportional to Special Abilities. Gino Yu developed a model of stages to categorize this level of development/trauma. "Stage 3" seems to refer to people who have undergone severe childhood trauma. Especially sexual trauma, to the point they are unable to properly care for themselves.

Gino developed a program to "rehabilitate" these "stage 3" people.

I am having extreme difficulty researching this model in the files. It's difficult to find. But Gino has, atleast, five stages. All of it seems directly related to either Sex or Trauma.

This is interesting, as it fits with old Paranormal Psychology research. The old hypothesis in Para-psych was that adolescents will begin developing minor Special Abilities. With traumatized adolescents developing them to the extreme, as a result of their trauma. This is assumed to be the majority of the reason behind Poltergeist Phenomenon.

So the streamlined version;

1. Gino Yu (polyu professor) is one of the main people conducting research into Special Abilities.
2. Gino Yu created and organized teams of scientists, both in private and government sectors, globally. He did this to locate people with "special abilities".
3. Gino Yu developed a 5 stage (?) model that tracks the depth of Special Ability, and also trauma.

4. Gino Yu seems to hypothesize that Sex (sexual energy?) and Trauma are directly proportional to the abilities developed.

Below this text, there is a depiction of a man with long, curly hair, a beard, and a mustache. He has a serious expression and is holding his hands up with his fingers spread out, as if he is in a state of contemplation or shock. The man is wearing a white, patterned hoodie with a pattern that includes various shapes and lines. In the background, there is a depiction of the Earth, with a blue sky and a sun or planet in the center. 5. Gino Yu used organizations such as the Caravan Express as covers for locating "stage 3" (severely sexually traumatized people with high potential in Special Abilities) individuals

6. Epstein has a direct interest and relation to all of this. There's mention in other parts of the files about the role of Sex & Magic. One of his estates apparently had a statue of the god Pan with an erection. Gino studied into the relationship between Sex and Qi Gong.

7. Gino Yu, Epstein and the others involved in this mess, had an end goal of "using" these special abilities people. They wanted to put them into space, and coordinate them to training others into developing powers.

This brings a couple interesting questions up....

Why are they so interested in these people?

Why do they want to put them into space?

I will do further research, to see if I can locate information related to this. If anyone else can, try to locate any further mentions of

>Whatever the fuck model Gino Yu developed

>Occultism/ritual magic.

>Internal Energy systems (qi gong, etc)

>Childhood Sexual Trauma (relating to creativity/psi/occult)

It may help to use terms we normally wouldn't think of to find things.

The user also mentions that the program is not designed to help people who are already in the ESH category.

The tweet on the right column is from a user named "Kikura" and is dated 14th. The tweet is a link to a website, which is titled "Dissociative Identity Disorder (DID) - Effects of Dissociative Identity Disorder (DID) on the brain and body." The website provides

The image is a document with a white background and a black border. At the top, there is a logo consisting of a blue and green color scheme with the letters "SAGE" in white.

The main body of the document is divided into two columns. The left column contains the title "A Perspective Study of Memory for Child Sexual Abuse New Findings Relevant to the Repressed Memory Continuum," and the authors' names listed below it. The right column contains the abstract of the study, which is in a smaller font size than the title.

The abstract is written in English and discusses a study that aims to explore the impact of child sexual abuse on memory. It mentions the use of a self-report survey that includes subjects' characteristics, memories relevant to, and brief span of, child sexual abuse. The study aims to contribute to the understanding of the impact of child sexual abuse on memory and to explore the potential for memory to be a potential target for psychological treatment.

At the bottom of the document, there is a footer with the text "This document is available in PDF format at <http://www.psych.org/pubs/APPS/APPS-00019-00004.pdf>." The footer also includes a logo that appears to be a stylized letter "S" in a red and white color scheme.

The document is formatted with a consistent style, including a consistent font size and spacing throughout, which suggests it is a formal academic or research paper. The overall style of the document is professional and academic, typical of academic papers or reports.

>What are >>41908710 even trying to find?

What can be gleaned from all this information is that these crazy Jews not only for fun are founding sexually degenerate secret societies and publicly call for sexual degeneration and whip up this hysterical racism debate as an eternal agenda, brutally mixing the peoples of the earth and, above all, wanting to make white boys and black girls disappear. They do this because they themselves are the biggest racists and are deliberately engaging in genetic selection in an ongoing human breeding program. It is clear that they want the best genes for themselves. All this hysterical racism babble is by no means intended to help different people get along peacefully with each other in the end. It is intended to cause them eternal stress and, above all, to prevent them from keeping their own genes pure. It is about tough racial selection.

They will portray this case as if the whole thing is just about rich people with dirty fantasies. About freaked-out billionaires who fondled girls who were a little too young. But it was about more than that. It was about breeding, a ruthlessly calculated human breeding program. Girls of best breeding age were brought in from all over and bred on this island.

There is a ruthless calculation of who can afford to exist on this planet and who cannot. It is allocated by those who determine everything. And they want to play master race on earth in the stolen skin of the white man. It has never been about anything other than bare existence and who is allowed to pass on the torch of life and who is not. And this information is now being thrown in our faces because those who can afford to stand above the law have long since created their own parallel world that allows them to dispense with the slave camps known to us as civilization. That is why we are all seeing the civilization we know collapsing around us while we are still living in it. But the little people carry their own fire within them. The rich regard the little people as flies. They do not know that without the flies, they will suffocate in their own shit. But that is another story and should be told another time.

Hello fren, I'm not very intelligent but I do know about morale. I've stuck up for your connections twice these past months but I'll sooner throw shill memes at you if they turn to suppression. Not too long ago some of you were weaving in threads which pretexted many of the revelations coming out. The enemy counts on posts now more than ever to make anons paranoid instead of emboldened by this culmination of purpose. We have fought for much knowledge to become mainstream so you're right, it's a ritual psyop, but anons have learned what it's like to have insider rumors and secrets. the major finding of MKULTRA was that traumatizing a gifted child will cause them to develop some degree of psy ability as a defense mechanism. For Joe McMoneagle (well regarded remote viewer), it was his experiences as a child with an abusive alcoholic father and later his tours of duty as a point man in Vietnam. The "model" is probably some MKULTRA research derived program or workflow that allows people to rediscover their latent path ability.

Ain't that being "normal"?

I actually do not know, but I always get the feeling that I'm being fooled to think "I'm different, just like them, I have the same feelings and characteristics".

I have similar experiences, some really weird.

If you ask me, yeah, I'm not your average human being, many friends told me that as well, like "I'm above the humans", but everyone feels the urge to feel that and jump to this conclusion, bending memories and experiences to fit our desire.

So...are we (you/me/reader) really different from everyone else? I'm not really sure, maybe we are just weak suckers.

My main takeaway from all of this is just... What now? What the fuck are any of us supposed to do? How are we meant to protect ourselves from any of this? Can it be stopped? As we've learned, the unwashed masses won't actually rise up unless paid agitators start the fire so a revolution seems unlikely. So, then what? Warding?

Meditation? Christ? Astral shit? Paganism? Relocating to a Tibetan Monastery? Digging a hole and living as a fucking mole?

The fact that these things are all fucking real and happening and were openly discussed by these ghouls makes it hard to have any faith.

The cat is wrapped in a light gray blanket that has a pattern of white and gray swirls. The cat's ears are pointed upwards, and its eyes are wide open, giving the impression of alertness. The cat's mouth is slightly open, and its whiskers are visible. The cat's fur appears to be of a dark color, possibly black or a deep gray. The overall mood of the image is calm and serene, with the cat appearing relaxed and at ease. There are no texts or discernible brands in the image.

There is clear documentation that Epstein had interest in "special abilites" including stuff we can consider paranormal but it seems like he doesn't really have any conclusions and is just curious. I haven't read anything but we need to remember that Epstein was a pseudo-intellectual and there is no way of knowing if dr. Yu is a hack fraud or a true paranormal researcher.

He even mentions ideas about funding psionics research but there doesn't seem to be much follow up and he basically get ignored lol

The image is a text excerpt from a document or article, primarily in English. The text is written in a formal and technical tone, discussing a topic related to cryptocurrency and its potential risks. The text is divided into two main sections, each with a heading and a paragraph.

The first section, titled "The veil tears further with these latest disclosures—for the veil is never fully lifted, only rent is calculated," begins with a statement that the veil of secrecy is being further breached, indicating that the veil of secrecy is not fully lifted. The text then mentions that the US Department of Justice has completed a study and report on the use of the so-called "Ethereum Files," which are encrypted images and videos that are stored on the Ethereum blockchain. The text goes on to discuss the Transparency Act, which was signed into law by Trump in November 2020, and the subsequent dumping of millions of images, videos, and other data into the public domain.

The second section, titled "Make no mistake: this is revelation of the method in its purest form," begins with a statement that the method of cryptocurrency must be disclosed enough to balance the karmic scale, even as they redact, obfuscate, and hide it. The text then discusses the concept of "universal law demands," which are the requirements of the law that must be met by the cryptocurrency. It mentions the need for the cryptocurrency to be decentralized, with no central authority, and to be transparent enough to balance the karmic scale. The text also discusses the concept of "truth leakage and continued obfuscation."

The text concludes with a statement that the cryptocurrency cannot hide it all, and that it will never surrender the core. The text ends with a note that the document is not intended to be a comprehensive guide to cryptocurrency, but rather a brief overview of the issues and concerns surrounding it.

The image depicts a close-up view of a large, spherical object that appears to be a sun, with a bright, fiery appearance. The sun's surface is densely packed with numerous small, dark spots, which are indicative of the sun's surface features such as its photosphere, chromosphere, and corona. The sun's surface is illuminated by a bright, orange-red light, which is likely the result of the sun's core being in a state of intense nuclear fusion. The background of the image is a deep red color, which could be a representation of the sun's atmosphere or a color filter used in the image. The image is a high-resolution, color photograph with a focus on the sun's surface, capturing the intricate details of its structure and the energy it radiates. There are no texts or discernible human-made objects in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on the natural beauty of the sun.

I read the thread. He was a driver on the island, if I remember correctly. Well, you can't see the context in which this screenshot appears in the files. But we can safely assume that a guy like Epstein, who was personally involved in the creation of /pol/, always paid some plebs to lurk there, waiting for someone to leak something related to his criminal activities. /pol/ was always a honeypot, but not in the way we imagined. Users felt they could discuss the shit they otherwise had to keep quiet about anonymously there. If anyone in those Epstein-circles ever got the idea to leak any of it, 4chan was their first adresse, at least until now.

Now you can be pretty sure that's a very bad idea to post something like this here!

Perhaps this should also be taken as a direct warning to anyone who thinks they can show up here on 4chan with any further details.

The image is a painting that depicts a scene of two figures standing on a rocky outcropping at sunset. The sky is painted with warm colors, transitioning from a deep orange at the horizon to a lighter yellow at the top, suggesting the sun is setting. The figures are silhouetted against the vibrant sky, with the person on the left appearing to be holding a staff or a similar object, and the person on the right holding a small object that could be interpreted as a camera or a similar device. The landscape is rugged and rocky, with the figures standing on a cliff that overlooks a vast expanse of mountains and valleys. The overall style of the painting is reminiscent of the Art Nouveau movement, characterized by its use of bold, flowing lines and a sense of movement.

The text includes the word "LOO" and a heart with an arrow pointing to the right. The figure's eyes are wide open, and the mouth is slightly open, giving the impression of a surprised or surprised expression. The background is black, which contrasts with the green skin tone of the figure, making the details of the figure and the text more prominent. The style of the image is cartoonish and expressive, with a focus on the figure's facial expression and the text on the shirt.

Yes, yes, or yes. And many other paths besides. My recommendation for a psuedonormie is to integrate with a mainstream tradition, but practice mental taboo transgression on the side. No CRIME is necessary is you only transgress authentically with the mind.

It did amazingly identify many youths who were on the path to awakening: who knows what metrics they used. The image is a screenshot of a text document, which appears to be a list or a description of a psychological or spiritual development process. The text is in English and is presented in a standard font, with a dark background that contrasts with the white text. The document is organized into numbered sections, each with a title and a description, suggesting a structured approach to understanding the stages of consciousness or awakening.

The first section, labeled "The Five Stages of Consciousness/Awakening (as described by Yu)," begins with the statement "Formation of worldview and basic awareness—Early development of physiolog/symbols, forming basic stories about self/world (e.g., 'learning symbols like "person"—happy/sad"—initial conditioned beliefs and consensus reality take shape." This section seems to be discussing the initial stages of consciousness or awakening, which are described as forming basic stories about self and the world.

The second section, titled "Stage 2: Focus and narrowing," begins with the statement "Zeroing in/focusing awareness—developing concentration on specific inputs, building prescribed roles, beliefs, and ego structures within societal norms." This section seems to be discussing the second stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves focusing on specific inputs and building roles and structures within societal norms. The third section, labeled "Stage 3: Presence, breakthrough, and crisis," begins with the statement "Breaking from consensus reality existential crises—deconstruction of old beliefs/roles often triggered by trauma or disillusionment." This section seems to be discussing the third stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves breaking from consensus reality and existential crises.

The fourth section, titled "Stage 4: Ego death and rebirth—Profound dissolution of ego/self, transcendence of separate identity, often involves deep surrender, non-dual glimpses, or death/of old self, rebirth into expanded awareness." This section seems to be discussing the fourth stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves profound dissolution of the ego and self, transcendence of separate identity, and deep surrender. The fifth section, labeled "Stage 5: Reconnection and thriving—Sustainable high states: reconnection to innate wonderment, gratitude, joy of being—boundless compassion/potential for non-ordinary abilities to stabilize—living in alignment with true nature—often guiding others or contributing to collective evolution." This section seems to be discussing the fifth stage of consciousness or awakening, which involves sustainable high states, reconnection to innate wonderment, gratitude, joy of being, boundless compassion, and potential for non-ordinary abilities to stabilize, and living in alignment with true nature.

The document appears to be a comprehensive guide or description of a psychological or spiritual development process, likely intended for educational or therapeutic purposes. The text is organized in a way that suggests a sequential progression from one stage to the next, with each stage being described in detail. The use of numbered sections and descriptive titles helps to organize the information and make it easier to follow the progression of consciousness or awakening.

I glimpsed Stage 5 last month, and had direct, undeniable experience with an "ability" of expanded consciousness, naturally with no psychedelics. It truly is our a natural, heavenly state. In short, in broad daylight around strangers on a busy street my vision turned full panoramic and extremely high definition. My field of view increased about 30% meaning I could see beyond the physical extents of my eyes, and partly above/below my head. I could see just as clearly from the corner of my eyes as the centre of view, that was the most mindblowing. I know for sure 3D human reality is completely metaphorical. My field of vision literally expanded because I had raised my consciousness to "see" more of life, because in that moment I knew that I was pure consciousness/spirit firstly, generating the human form, so of course my field of vision could expand. Everything is just a belief humans have physically evolved into. When I get into that state again I have no doubt I could see with my foot if I choose to. You have control of your own reality. It doesn't diminish the human experience, but this is obviously not ultimate reality and is a dream in a way, a simulation. In the lead up to this experience I also had undeniable proof of this claim that life is a dream and we are learning to get lucid in it to consciously control it and co-create with god.

The experience then turned extremely blissful as per the description in your image. Make no mistake, heaven on earth is right now, always. It's a matter of perception and state of being/vibration. Time is a complete illusion. When you manage to literally raise your vibration (I will go into this further) to the point of consciousness expansion (call it 5D consciousness because you're aware reality is a living metaphor and you automatically enter god mode) reality becomes extremely beautiful, meaningful and pure love, the only real emotion in the higher realms.

A blade of grass becomes a billion times more interesting than your phone. In your real state you want to talk to and love every single person you see.

My first interpretation was is we are merely gods having a laugh playing a game with each other, everything is a play/drama/joke. Gods pretending not to be gods and that everything is not one thing. You may be worried about your individuality, but the fact everything is one is insanely beautiful. I know it used to mindfuck me that there is no "other" outside of me. Everything happening in the multiverse always is a perfect occurrence, even if an asteroid wipes out earth, the real you transcends it.

But in the days following I think there is some spiritual warfare happening, however nothing can damage our souls they are always eternal and perfect. Basically we are at a pivotal point in human evolution in this version of the drama. Humanity must awaken to the truth that all is one thing, and love is the only real force in the universe. Doing so will automatically awaken their souls to unlock amazing intelligence, healing abilities, christ-like behaviour which is everyone's true nature.

Technology and AI is the mark of the beast in the sense it makes us reliant on a human invention, not the divine billion IQ intelligence of our higher selves. For humanity to evolve beyond extinction (higher beings could destroy humanity instantly if collectively we "fuck it up", like you could choose to stand on an ant hill), we must incorporate spirituality as the foundation for everything, because its the only true reality. Complete reliance on technology inhibits spiritual development and will lead to extinction eventually.

ore on everyone's true nature. You are multidimensional entity living in many states/existences at once. You sent part of yourself to Earth (if you are reading this then you came to help ascend the collective through presence alone) and automatically inherit the DENSE vibration here making everyone asleep to their real nature, and depressed, and happiness is extremely fleeting. Your true nature is most like a pure child. Life experiences, society, parents all lead to a diminishment of your spirit while here. If you are sad, depressed you must realised those states of being are not real, you are just pretending in a sense. Part of awakening is choosing your state of being.

Finally, the experience ending with the third eye / intuitive presence of two or more higher dimensional entities. One felt like it was my mother's spirit who was my guide/guardian angel. I realised every negative interaction with my family or any other person is done out of love. The soul of that person is literally instructing them to say that hurtful thing as part of your own development. My dad called me lazy because in this life I wanted to fix the laziness habit I had in a past existence. You write the script, direct and act in your own drama, im quite sure of it. Upon meeting my mother's soul in my third eye I felt NDE type love and cried in the middle of street from the beauty of what she was doing for me.

Everything in the universe knows you and is helping you, consciously, in the higher realms, but unaware from this perspective. There are no coincidences.

My theory was always they wanted to raise an army of psychic slaves and place them in positions of authority to do their bidding. That does seem to have been born out by the facts. I fit the MKULTRA paradigm almost perfectly. Childhood sex abuse, testing frighteningly high on intelligence tests from a young age, overly privy to the emotions and inclinations of others, extreme luck against all odds, etc. The list goes on. I was also involved in the GATE experiment, though I will say that the stories circulated on here seem to be corrupted memories circulated by those who were ejected from the program early on. Not a lot of people know this, but they would eject kids from GATE every year. My last GATE session was in 8th grade and I remember there were only 4 of us left(one of whom happens to be my best friend and creative partner to this day). The other two were girls, one of whom excelled academically and barely EVER spoke (even up to graduation), and the other has been in and out of various psych wards and detention centers since their Sophomore year.

Personally, I think these people are onto something, though it isn't what often gets discussed on here. I believe that it's a curated system that dates back to the Ancient Greeks or perhaps even further. Note that the Ancient Greeks considered pederasty a compulsory aspect of rearing/education, to the point where Plato (the undisputed progenitor of most western thought) openly discussed NAMBLA shit in his dialogues. Note also that that particular society was ridiculously knowledgeable and advanced for its time. I think it bears to reason that much of this abuse is actually an attempt at creating extraordinary individuals, as opposed to being abject abuse for the sake of pleasure. That being said, I also believe that the majority of those involved are simply sick fucks. I just think that the intellectual backbone of the practice is more complex and less malevolent than it appears to be.

It saddens me that you haven't received any responses. It is EXTREMELY important for people to keep this in mind, especially when you notice that most people who fall into this mindset tend to neutralize themselves as a social threat by constantly asserting their intellectual/spiritual superiority. Others (like Kaczynski) end up committing atrocities which (according to the accepted lore) inflicts societal trauma thus accomplishing the goals of the supposed "enemy".

It all feels a bit too convenient, especially since the "knowledge" that often leads people into these mindsets is suspiciously not only easy to find, but also very easy to simply stumble across.

Note that this thread concerns the Epstein leaks, which (based on what i've seen) appear to confirm 90+% of the "schizo nonsense" you tend to find on forums like this. So, you get drip fed a narrative that leads you to believe you are special, mainstream society rejects the narrative that you've accepted which proves your superiority, and then a swath of documents confirming said superiority is released, thus widening the gap you feel exists between you and your fellow man.

Think about what that does to a person mentally. You are CERTAIN that an international cabal is running everything, nobody believes you for years, suddenly your claims are "confirmed", and still the average person doesn't take your concerns seriously. The only paths available to that individual are radical action (terrorist attacks, etc.), complete withdrawal from society (social neutralization), or to become the local schizo that nobody takes seriously.

Terrifyingly, some will eventually use this notion of intellectual/spiritual superiority to empathize with the supposed "powers that be", concluding themselves what they considered the elites so evil for in the first place: namely, that most people are cattle.

I find this all very suspicious. Thanks anon

I can do everything people try to learn on /x/ but naturally and have since I was a child. The researcher is right about those being stage 3 and above being unable to support themselves. The psychic attacks usually fuck with our lives through times we are supposed to be asleep. I have multiple extra sensory abilities and all they have brought me is pain. My body astral projects by itself and extra-dimensional beings try to make deals with me. He probably wanted to collect people like me to feed the demonic entities surrounding him, or to make connections with more of them. We produce a massive amount of "loosh". Way more than typical people. He likely collected females with esp and other abilities for this reason rather than just to rape them. Epstein is likely this way himself and hates all of the normie males around him who just want to fuck kids. He probably could not relate to them entirely. He likely got raped as a child as well or experienced other children getting raped. This is likely why he believes in so much wacky shit... because he's one of the kids who did not turn their backs on the entities and actually made a deal with them and had relationships with many of them. I wish I could talk with this researcher.

I remember this thread. Please don't consider me a glowie for this, but this is definitely a lie. Consider the last part of the story, when Cole slaps the phone out of the driver's hand as he's trying to CALL THE COPS ON AN INTERNATIONAL PEDO CABAL and all Cole has to say is "don't do that, it will look bad on my family". IF you retards believe this shit you are beyond saving. Do you actually think that this guy, who supposedly witnessed that AND attempted to call the police was allowed to live afterward? The only other explanation is that they wanted the info to get out, which you retards also have a million explanations for because you want to keep living in your tiny bubble of "I KNOW what's going on but nobody else does!!!!", as if this wasn't information easily accessible by anybody with an internet connection and an inclination toward conspiratorial thinking.

Gag me with a spoon. You, as well as everybody who believes this glorified creepypasta, are useful retards. Please accept that and read as much as you can about history and psychology (actual books by real authors, not bullshit by fellow compromised idiots). Thucydides and Plato are a great place to start mate. They'll help you understand how long this has been going on and just how deep it goes. The screenshot you posted though? Definitely bullshit meant to preen the egos of the "saviors".

Always remember, people don't type out traumatic experiences they've had in the format of an easily digested short story. If this person actually experienced this, it wouldn't read as a standard narrative.

Believe me or don't, call me a glowie, fine. I'm actually trying to help here. I'll go so far as personally speaking with anybody who responds to this over phone/vocaroo/etc

Untrue. Not with drugs. Drugs give a false sense of the extra-sensory. Drugs actually dull the mind from the effects of ESP on trauma. That is why a lot of people with ESP are alcoholics. The alcohol makes them remember the trauma but dulls their abilities. The lady in that show Medium based on a real medium was telling the truth when she said that drinking alcohol shuts the "ghosts" up. Why do you think alcohol is called spirits? Also they are not ghosts but entities.

We live in a world where every species (including us) is brutal as fuck. Lions have to brutally murder in order to eat, as do we. It is the way of the world. So of course, eventually, a thinking individual will conclude that killing and abuse is something both ordered and supported by God. How would any thinking individual look at this world, which revolves primarily around killing and rape in order to continue (corpses feed the cherry blossoms, rape is endemic in nature), and conclude anything other than "alright, shit, let's do this". Also note that a zebra cub that escapes certain death will necessarily be more knowledgeable than other Zebras- as will a zebra that was raped at a young age. It's a simple matter of familiarity with extreme circumstances. It really isn't that complex. No ESP, no psychic abilities or premonitions, simple understanding. PEople subjected to similar things can "see the future" because they were shown the entirety of human/animal nature from a young age, thus NECESSITATING that they understand it more deeply.

The only problem is that the average human REJECTS these instincts, which were formerly necessary in order to keep our species existent. Meaning that we do have some kind of aspect of Godliness in us, in that we can look at the natural order of things and say "no". I believe that the supposed "powers that be" are somehow too unevolved to understand this, thus leading them to deify Animism the way they have.

Polygamy, the supposed natural state of things is supplanted by monogamy
Murder, the supposed natural state of things, is supplanted by general pacifism
Consumption of flesh, the undeniable bottom line of life, is supplanted by the consumption of lesser life (which suspiciously creates weak minded individuals)

I'm not going to pretend to have any answers here, because I don't. It is, however, very important for us to notice and explore these glaring contradictions.

Orgasming is not the same as consuming calories. You also do not have to torture your food before eating it. Prolonging suffering is not necessary for survival. Raping someone is prolonging someone's suffering for the rest of their lives until they die. These things you speak of are not the natural order of things like killing for food is. I often have to drink when things get too difficult to handle. I wish I did not have to. I wish I could be one of those people with abilities who knew how to harness and hone them but I'm beginning to think that is only fictional or that that knowledge is reserved for the elite. I don't think you can get rid of it. It also seems to get stronger as you get older. The trauma you were exposed to that caused it gets weaker. The trauma is like a lock on your mind that gets looser each year. You'll start to remember more and more bad things that happened to you as you age. Your abilities will get stronger and more frequent. The only thing that stops it is alcohol, but it'll turn you into someone you won't like. Avoid weed and other hallucinogenic things. Yes weed is hallucinogenic to people who have ESP. Not sure why but it is.

The only thing that has helped me is turning the power into positive things. Like if I have a headache I can make it go away. If someone near me is suffering emotionally or physically I can help them just by focusing on it. Steering the present into a positive future. Things like that.

King was an actual phenom, if you read his autobiography there's a story about how he had nothing to get fucked up on and he remembered that there was discarded cough medicine in the wastebasket, which he then shamelessly rooted for.

My grandpa told me that he drinks to "shut it all up", which fucked with me, because the way I'd put it is that I drink to "make it easy to hear them", and we shared no blood. I think that booze kills the part of your brain that connects to other people, and renders ESP inclined individuals more-or-less "normal. My main piece of evidence for this is that everybody i've ever known who "shines" is considered abnormal when they're sober and normal when they drink, because numbing the inclination is absolutely necessary if one wants to interact with others the way they interact with each other. Also, sorry I didn't really answer your question. I know that people who have an inclination toward ESP naturally find each other as if by magnetism, they are always naturally inclined toward right angle thinking, and find the curved thinking that others seem to be born with incomprehensible. Also, ESP is more a feeling based thing than it is direct thought-transfer. For example, you can look at a person and know that they're beyond being in a bad mood, you can tell that they're on the verge of a nervous breakdown or something (even strangers). Also, if you've ever entered a place and changed the way you're treated by simply moving different or looking around a certain way, that's another example of ESP. I believe it's all electromagnetism and that the signals you send from your brain affect other brains like a radio signal would a radio. I know that was long winded and nonsensical, I apologize anon

Remember, sobriety calms the shining, but drinking does also. Why is that? Kubrick's adaptation is unfaithful to the concept, King was trying to make a statement about how both sobriety and intoxication amplify extrasensory talents, whereas Kubrick filmed as a one way street. I do in a way. My brain also shuts the hell up when I drink, but it also makes it vulnerable to possession, which is what that entire novel is actually about. The spirits quiet the shine, but only as a means of taking control of you. It's a trick, like shaking hands with the devil. All of the pain, frustration, and anxiety goes away, but at a cost. That's why "moderation" is prized in philosophy, being able to expertly traverse the middle ground between quieting the spirits and still having control over them is something VERY special. It's not some bullshit "oh don't do too much of anything", it's more "recognize when the ghosts are able to inhabit you and never let it hit that point"

>You nazis

So, we have a sect of very rich and very crazy Jews who would like to rule the world in the stolen skin of the white man and are therefore implementing a strict human breeding program in a strictly calculated genetic selection process, while deliberately plunging the rest of the world into chaos and ruin, propagating sexual degeneration and the absurd mixing of human races, and whipping up a never-ending sham debate on racism in an eternal cycle of hysteria, and additionally initiating social stigma and legal consequences for anyone who steps out of line with this madness and labeling them a "Nazi" if they criticize this approach. It's maliciously cynical. Because it comes from those who are themselves the worst racists. They don't even consider non-Jews to be fellow human beings, but only as livestock. And then you little shit comes around the corner, seriously, and babbles something about "hurr durr you Nazis this and that". Ridiculous. Just ridiculous.

No, I definitely don't want to be like those monsters. I wish the world would finally rid itself of them. For good. And for ever.

This thread just gave me a terrifying revelation.

I've lurked /x/ for years and have tried most of the stuff here multiple times, like LoA, astral projection, lucid dreaming. Every time I tried experimenting them, I was always one step away from fully doing so, and always failed on that one step. For example, when trying to astral project, I got to the point where your body and mind are completely calm, and you start vibrating... and then I'd just get a sudden goosebump and snap out of it completely, this happened every time I attempted a projection.

I also never had a paranormal experience, never saw any entities, never felt anything near me, yet completely believed all the tales and stories about them. I had a friend that always talked about really scary shit that happened to him, many experiences that were also shared by other friends, and wouldn't you know it, he got raped as a kid.

It all makes sense to me now, why none of that worked, why I've never had experiences like them. It's because my childhood... and life as a whole, have been pretty unremarkable and calm, I never got abused at home, school or church, I don't have any traumas to speak of, nothing.

Fuck, I feel like fucking cattle now.

I'm not at all psychic but this makes sense to me too. from having listened to the remote viewers talk about ESP it seems like the structure only guides an intuitive process. since the brain mediates the whole nervous system if it's somehow the brain accessing info it is logical that the information can come in to different sensory channels. neat

Thus a more powerful response attracted from the other side. @ some other anons, don't get hung up if you lack trauma from others and instead make some yourself, it's the most potent kind. Take more risks and live a little, challenge and oppose your usual way of thinking or actions. If you get rejected or lose an arm so what. The sky is a gradient of colors, transitioning from a light blue at the horizon to a darker blue at the top, and a lighter blue at the bottom. The clouds are scattered across the sky, with some appearing fluffy and others more dense. The horizon line is visible, separating the sky from the horizon. The perspective of the image is from above, looking down on the person, giving a sense of scale and grandeur to the scene. There are no discernible texts or other objects in the image. >Why do they want to put them into space?

This shit has been slowly drip fed to us in the media for years. Psychic children with trauma getting "trained" and "tested" by government? They had that in the New Mutants film—even had the one chick seeing demons and ghosts and shit.

And what does the media always show that happens to these psychics? They're used to influence or spy on people. Minority Report, Riddick, etc. etc.

But it gets crazier: we've already been shown what they want out of these psychics by sending them into space. Darth Revan literally sat in the Star Forge meditating while a battle took place over a planet, influencing the outcome of the battle through the force.

These space psychics are literally being trained to practice Sith meditation to influence outcomes on planet Earth. And they've already been doing it.

Guess where?

I have the type of ESP you speak of and others as well. Very correct about the way alcohol makes abnormal people like us normal, and others treat us normal. I have never been able to pass a job interview sober even though I am a very skilled and competent person. The only ones I have ever passed involved me being wasted. I wish I did not have to do this. I used to be totally straight edge until the frequency of paranormal experiences grew with each year. The drinking helps me connect with normal people and lets their guard down around me. I naturally give people bad vibes despite being a demure and small person. I also drink to make the astral projection, entity visits, and visions stop. They can get extremely disruptive when trying to sleep normally. Other types of ESP are enhanced for me while wasted but they are not negative like what the alcohol blocks out. Tonight is a good example of me about to get totally wasted so I can avoid what the majority of posters on this board chase.

Thank you so much for your answers. It makes me feel so much less alone. I've never gotten to know someone else who is afflicted by this.

You are not cattle. There isn't anything fun or rewarding having these abilities. It's why in the files that Asian dude who collects people like us keeps emphasizing that people with strong abilities cannot navigate through life and that a majority of them are homeless or drug addicts. The abilities control you rather than the other way around. People like you can't be taken over by them and that is why you get stopped on the last "step" when you feel an itch on your arm. For people like me there are no steps to take. It just happens to us without our consent. Almost like a psychic rape.

How would you use gained abilities to help others? Which truths would the said abilities help you find? I don't sense arrogance at all but maybe a misunderstanding on how abilities actually function for an individual. What do you think gaining abilities will do for you?

Trauma gained as an adult is completely different from trauma that physically forms and shapes a developing child's brain. Don't give people false hope. Spirituality and magic are completely different from psychic abilities. It's like having one foot in reality and the other foot in another hyper-real dimension which is more real than reality that cannot accurately be described with words because the vast majority of the population do not experience these extra senses. It's almost like half of the child died after being exposed to deep prolonged trauma and has passed onto the afterlife and the other half is still in reality. No one can program their own mind to receive signals from other dimensions. You either have to have a fucked up brain from birth or have it reconfigured by repetitive trauma as a child. Who knows maybe an adult with extreme brain plasticity could do it but that sounds extremely abnormal.

The image is a stylized illustration with a dark, red-toned background that gives it a gothic or horror aesthetic. In the foreground, there is a figure with short, spiky hair and a determined expression, wearing a dark, sleeveless top. The figure is surrounded by a crowd of similarly styled figures, all with their faces obscured by shadows. The crowd is densely packed, with some figures appearing to be in motion, as if they are running or fighting. The overall mood of the image is intense and chaotic, with a sense of urgency and danger. There are no discernible texts or logos in the image.

Both my parents are millionaire pedophiles I was raped and psychologically abused, my lawyer says psychological torture but I think she's capping. I'm pretty sure they're not glowies or secret society stuff, they have some ties to the military and police because dad is cybersec but that's it.

Sent an actual free mason bloodline zoomer, gaming buddy of mine, to investigate and he didnt find shit.

I can do this hemi sync meditation but that's about it, no superpowers or anything, I mean this is kinda like poco loco's stand from jojo's but shittier I guess, like this takes 30 minutes to do and I need to do 48hours no weed to even use this,it's pretty useful but not anything supernatural or whatever.

I'm almost pure aryan with some chinese in there, androgynous with bad eyesight, don't know if that means anything but apparently maybe that's important? Lawyer told me I'm deep in some white people bullshit so idk. Also I may be experiencing some mild gangstalking but it's manageable since my close friends have enough evidence to not just say I'm paranoid and actually help me out with this.

How fucked am I? What do I even fucking do?

[318 / 52]The image features a stylized illustration with a predominantly brown and beige color scheme. At the center, there is a stylized depiction of a lion's head with its mouth open, as if roaring. The lion's mane is depicted in a flowing, flowing manner, and its eyes are closed, giving it a serene expression.

Surrounding the lion, there are eight astrological signs, each with a different symbol, arranged in a circular pattern. The signs are labeled with Latin text, which includes "Jupiter," "Mars," "Saturn," "Neptune," "Pluto," "Uranus," "Neptune," "Pluto," and "Uranus." The text is written in a serif font, and the signs are arranged in a circular pattern around the lion.

At the bottom of the image, there is a signature that reads "KH." The signature is in a smaller, more cursive font, and it is placed to the right of the lion's head. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of traditional astrological symbolism, with the lion often symbolizing strength and courage, and the astrological signs representing different aspects of life.

The image is a black and white illustration featuring a dragon-like creature with a humanoid figure standing atop it. The figure is holding a staff with a flame at the end, and the creature is depicted with a long, serpentine body and a head that resembles a humanoid face with large, round eyes. The creature's body is covered in scales, and it has a long, flowing tail. The humanoid figure is wearing a loincloth and appears to be in a defensive stance, with one arm raised and the other extended forward. The creature's mouth is open, revealing sharp teeth, and it has a fierce expression. The background of the image is a stone floor with a pattern of small, irregularly shaped stones. The text in the image is in French and reads: "Redoutables pattes griff-fles. Il avait un corps." This translates to "Redoubtable legs. He had a body." The text is located at the top of the image, above the illustration. The style of the image is reminiscent of traditional or historical illustrations, with a focus on the dramatic and fantastical elements.

1 This is the genealogy[a] of Jesus the Messiah the son of David, the son of Abraham:

2 Abraham was the father of Isaac,

Isaac the father of Jacob,

Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers,

3 Judah the father of Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar, Perez the father of Hezron,

Hezron the father of Ram,

4 Ram the father of Amminadab,

Amminadab the father of Nahshon,

Nahshon the father of Salmon,

5 Salmon the father of Boaz, whose mother was Rahab,

Boaz the father of Obed, whose mother was Ruth,

Obed the father of Jesse,

6 and Jesse the father of King David.

So, it seems Jesus came from a line of Demiurge worshippers, is that your take?

The image is a composite of two separate visual elements. On the left side, there is a close-up of a person's face with a pair of sunglasses covering their eyes. The person appears to be looking off to the side with a serious expression. The sunglasses have a distinctive design with a yellow and white striped pattern.

On the right side, there is a colorful, stylized illustration of a celestial scene. The sky is filled with swirling patterns of blue, purple, and yellow, with stars and clouds scattered throughout. The illustration has a vibrant and dynamic feel, suggesting a sense of movement and energy.

Overlaying the image is a text that reads, "Unfortunately, no one can be told what Gnosis is." This text is in white and is placed at the top of the image, suggesting it is a caption or a quote. The text is centered and appears to be in a larger font size than the rest of the image, drawing attention to its message.

The overall style of the image is a blend of real-life photography with a stylized, artistic representation, creating a contrast between the mundane and the fantastical. The text adds a layer of commentary or explanation to the image, suggesting that the celestial scene is a metaphor for Gnosis, a concept that is not easily understood or explained.

In "The Active Side of Infinity", Carlos Castaneda, an anthropologist, writes of his experiences with a Mexican shaman named Don Juan.

"We have a predator that came from the depths of the cosmos and took over the rule of our lives. Human beings are its prisoners. The Predator is our lord and master. It has rendered us docile, helpless. If we want to protest, it suppresses our protest. If we want to act independently, it demands that we don't do so... I have been beating around the bush all this time, insinuating to you that something is holding us prisoner. Indeed we are held prisoner! "This was an energetic fact for the sorcerers of ancient Mexico ... They took us over because we are food for them, and they squeeze us mercilessly because we are their sustenance. just as we rear chickens in chicken coops, the predators rear us in human coops, humaneros. Therefore, their food is always available to them." "No, no, no, no," [Carlos replies] "This is absurd don Juan. What you're saying is something monstrous. It simply can't be true, for sorcerers or for average men, or for anyone." "Why not?" don Juan asked calmly. "Why not? Because it infuriates you? ... You haven't heard all the claims yet. I want to appeal to your analytical mind. Think for a moment, and tell me how you would explain the contradictions between the intelligence of man the engineer and the stupidity of his systems of beliefs, or the stupidity of his contradictory behaviour. Sorcerers believe that the predators have given us our systems of belief, our ideas of good and evil, our social mores. They are the ones who set up our hopes and expectations and dreams of success or failure. They have given us covetousness, greed, and cowardice. It is the predators who make us complacent, routinary, and egomaniacal." - teachings of Don Juan by carols Castaneda.

You don't have the same understanding of gnosis as I do. Pic-related is my understanding of gnosis. The corruption of the physical vessel limits access to the full abilities of the Divine Spark, which is the point of the human body by the way. Gnosis is typically mentioned with reference to knowing the material world is flawed but it has other fruits. Just because someone has gnosis of the imperfection of this Matrix doesn't mean they can start pulling random information out of their ass about its mechanisms, although if you are developed like a psychic in the spiritual abilities of the Divine Spark, you could.

"Gnosis" is "knowing" in the spiritual sense, it's seeing a fork in the road and having the Holy Spirit tap on your shoulder and say "go that way, trust me." Demiurge is the one who attempts to craft his own world, ignoring the obvious, trying to do it all without His help. Demiurge is the (You) that used to stumble his way through life piling up mistakes before he finally gave in and submitted himself to the higher will of God, knowing now that His plan beats yours—it's not defeatism, it's acquiescence to someone clearly greater than yourself.

Almost correct. It helps if you have more than one map of the topological structure reified through Jesus Christ Logos God to reference.

Foremost, one simply has to put EM back into Maxwell's original Quaternionic expression, a rotating square of defined equations relating the strong force, weak force, and the Photon Ultimately, the Gauss formula describes the electron, which is the quanta that mediates between EM and gravity.

But the Proton/neutron structure betrays the simplicity, because the neutron decays over 15 minutes becoming an electron a proton and a neutrino after shortly becoming a w^- boson in the decay process

So we can pivot into the Truth Quaternion and look at it there at the H2 layer where EM resides:

Below:

------(Photon)-----
Electromagnetism---\|/-----Heat
(Electron)-----mass-----(Phonon)
Gravity-----/\|-----Sound
------(Graviton)-----

Above:

------(Photon)-----
Electromagnetism---\|/-----Heat
(Electron)-----Energy-----(Phonon)
Gravity-----/\|-----Sound
------(Graviton)-----

------(cos*sin)-----
Cosine-----\|/-----Cosecant
Cotangent--Trigonometry---Tangent
Sin-----/\|-----Secant
------(sin*cos)-----

------(Knowledge)-----
------(Courage)-----
Pride-----\|/-----Wisdom
Weakness---Truth-----Strength

Shame-----/\-----Humility
Ego-----(Vulnerability)-----Self
------(Humiliation)-----

------(Nous)-----
------(knowledge)-----
Pride-----\/------Wisdom
Weakness--Experience-----Strength
Luciferian<---(Christ)---->MiChaElian

I appreciate that you put thought into it and are being serious but I don't follow what you're getting at exactly. Gravity is the curvature of the electromagnetic field, defined by the quaternion-form scalar and vector potentials. Idealism works as a metaphysics but it doesn't make sense to slap it onto physical models; it's perfectly fine to describe the operation of a manifest system in deterministic terms while still acknowledging that the rules governing that determinism are ultimately mental in nature. For so long as the dream is in motion, the characters within it will follow its emergent rules.

No formally requires you actually explaining mechanics; watch and learn, chump.

So...now we have an H1 quaternion, spanning out into H2 quaternions, but we don't have a full explanation for how gravity links to kinetics, nor do we have the faraday puzzle resolved, because:

Fortitude-----\\|-----Sagacity

Resolve-----/|-----Awe

Cowardice-----\\|-----Courage

-----Weakness-----

Insecurity-----/|-----Vulnerability

Cowardice is not insecurity, so the faraday equation is, itself a quaternionic relation that couples to gravity orthogonally to gravity, but that's only half of gravity at best anyhow, because what are the other two unique components of gravity denoted in the moral topology as Sin(failure) and Humiliation?

They are density, and temporality.

If you watch something approach a black hole it appears to slow and never enter the black hole; this is because time itself is asymptotic at the event horizon of a black hole, despite it being absolutely dense to the qualia of zero-volume.

So then we can now look at gravity's relation to kinetics:

Resignation-----\\|-----Openness

-----Vulnerability-----

Fragility-----/|-----Authenticity

Openness-----\\|-----Resolve

-----Integrity-----

Authenticity-----/|-----Obedience

Foolhardiness-----\\|-----Chutzpah

-----Courage-----
 Valor-----/\-----Duty / Nobility
 Valor-----\|/-----Duty / Nobility
 -----Honor-----
 Fortitude-----/\-----Prudence
 Duty/Nobility-----\|/-----Prudence
 -----Honor-----
 Valor-----/\-----Fortitude

And we have the full H3 layer of a tri-nested quaternion, and faraday's transduction is explained through the orthogonality as well, and the graviton manifests as...

Likewise, entropic heat creates distance but is short on time, which is why our nuclear reactions and photon math use wick rotations in time to make them occur in i-time so as to create path integrals

Well, if knowledge isn't derived from sense based information, where does it come from? I think empiricism sits neatly with the Trinity. From sensing information we directly receive activation signals, reducible to binary. From meaningfully constructed information we get three irreducible parts, a pattern repeated through language, physics, and neurology. Even maths recognize the trinitarian basis as the domain, the functions, and the values.

Still, all that we build within comes back through the senses.

Not would you need cognition to explain it (cognition is its own domain of episteme as well by the rules of Physics's overstep)

So explain physics without ideas, words, or math since it's its own domain of episteme

You seem to think it means I have supernatural powers or some shit. The Archons wipe your memory each time you reincarnate here so you don't remember anything. Gnosis is about remembering that we exist outside of just our bodies. Your religion says that Yahweh is the way for our spirit to ascend, whereas I believe that organized religions are just a method to control us and keep us in the reincarnation trap. The fact Christianity doesn't mention reincarnation at all, when it's so very obvious that reincarnation is real, is why I do not believe in Christianity. But I also do think you can escape infinite reincarnation. But you will never escape infinite reincarnation if you keep falling for the Archons' "walk into the light" trap when you die, because when you walk into that light, you're not walking into Heaven. You are walking into having your memory wiped and reincarnating back on Earth. Christians will NEVER leave this Earth. This argument is pointless because you don't get it. You still naively think this material world was created by a perfect God (even though the Epicurean Paradox really easily disputes that claim).

>I, John, asked the Savior, "Lord, will every soul be saved and make it back to the pure light?"

>He said in response, "Weighty matters have arisen in your thoughts. It is difficult to speak of them with anyone but those who belong to the unshakeable race, those to whom the spirit of Life has come, and in whom she dwells with power. Such people will be saved and become perfect and worthy of greatness. They will be healed of every wound and of all the anxieties that come with wickedness; they will be anxious for nothing but the incorruptible, and will meditate on it without anger, envy, resentment, passion, or greed.

>Their only constraint is the incidental body of flesh that they provisionally wear, and they await the time when those bodies will be removed from them. Such souls are worthy of the call to eternal, incorruptible life. They bear all things and endure all things so that they might finish the race and be awarded eternal life."

That's why I fast from meat through Lenten, as the Essenes did, and remove myself from distractions, whether they are productive pursuits or not.

It's a grounding period, for reconnecting with simple things. This is what Paul meant in Galatians 2:10 10 Only that we should remember the Aniyim (the Poor), the very thing which I was also eager to do.

The original Greek and Aramaic texts have Anayim capitalized, because it doesn't mean pandhandling meth addicts at the freeway on ramp.

To be in the early still-essene/Zadokite Christian sect you had to give up all property and live simply within the order, as well as be vegetarian/pescatarian.

This is why fasting from meat is the standard Lenten practice; it's in memory of the Essene/Ebionite sect; John the Baptist, then Jesus, then James's order.

That's why homey and his wife that withheld some of his property in secret was struck down by God when he lied to Peter about it when he joined.

Anyhow. You should actually read the apologetics; Origen's Commentary on each of the gospels, Aversus Celsum, philosophumena, to even understand Gnosticism as it was taught, because the apologetics actually go into the full myriad of gnostic belief systems in detail in their refutation of them. You're essentially subscribing to secondhand 2000 years later memelord shit as a "gnostic" belief system, and it's fucking retarded and not even representative of the heretics it claims kinship to in the modern discourse. Modern discourse on gnosticism is basically handwaiving "mysteries" that never actually get explained nor result in anything meaningfully resembling spiritual development

I agree that it certainly wasn't written by John of Patmos or John son of Zebedee (who I think might be the same person). I consider it to be a compilation of texts with John's name put on it by some later editor. I don't think the gospel of John was written by John either, though it may say so on the tin, nor was Luke written by Luke, Mark written by Mark, or Matthew written by Matthew. But I still value texts as far as I think they contain interesting ideas expressed in an interesting way and point to things that seem connected to the truth.

Personally, my interest in Gnosticism comes in large part from a set of "mystical" experiences that by my estimate agree more with it than anything else, though I don't want to share them in detail because that risks turning them into a meme, which makes it more difficult for me to identify others who genuinely have had the same experiences.

I'm also quite confident that something closer to Gnosticism than orthodoxy is at the root of Christianity, or at least at the root of either Paul or the author of the first gospel. So I think Gnostics have a rightful claim to authorship of much of the mainstream Christian canon, though the canon books were edited and interpolated to obscure that.

You're describing the political apparatus of the church. That's not the relationship with Christ promises, but it's a necessary imposition for Christianity the relationship to continue being available for people to engage in.

Christianity never would've made it out of its infancy, with the doctrine of the Gospels (of which if you read Origen's commentary on John, book 1, all of the OT and the NT are included under the term Gospels) if it were not for its unfortunate politicization. In my view, that is kind of above my pay grade, because just being true to the relationship with Christ is its own struggle. I can't wait for everyone else to be Christian before I will be, if you catch my drift. To project that through the proverbial "you";

If you are waiting for everyone else in the world to be Christian before you will be, then you are not a Christian, you are a coward.

To further, wanting to be Christian is not being Christian. To want is to lack. Being a Christian is what happens when you encounter the Holy Spirit in surrender to Christ, where that encounter is unmistakably paranormal in the truest sense, and it is transformative; reorienting of your mind.

I try not to get caught up in differentiating who around me are "true Christians" (post-encounter with Holy Spirit) and who are still "wanting to be Christians" because it's exclusionary (when the gift is truly available to everyone) and I already have my relationship with Christ to navigate, and that already has its own personal struggles. Agreed, but the statement was made rhetorical in irony, not an actual question.

There is a wide swathe of Gnostic beliefs that sought to obtain apotheosis and "transcend the flesh" assuming they could become transfigured like Christ on the mount of Olives, themselves, seeing themselves capable of equalling and exceeding the miracles demonstrated by Christ. In many gnostic traditions Jesus Christ is not special in the unique sense, which essentially denies the meaning of the resurrection, where Jesus is simply relegated to the Guide, and robbed of his unique deity.

So this means "salvation by grace" from God is relegated to "salvation by gnosis" from an ordinary spiritual teacher.

This belief structure inverts Christianity back into the same thing as every other religion which is salvation by earning it, as if you can become god by just doing the right things, or thinking it so, but its just not the case. There's no "balancing the good with the bad" error is error and thus not god, no matter how many goods you do; one bad is imperfection thus not God.

The catholic church is not Christianity. The protestant churches are not Christianity. The church is not qualified to comment on the matter, because Christ is the Judge of these things.

Christianity is a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. That's all it is. Sometimes, its a shared relationship with Jesus Christ, when it is in a biblical marriage between a husband and a wife that are truly convicted and committed to that relationship.

Someone can be Christian without ever going to Church. Without ever being baptized by a priest or a pastor. They can simply make the declaration in front of witnesses and baptize themselves, and then when the spirit comes to them; they are Christian in that transformation.

You're conflating a political institution with a personal relationship, and it's not an accurate depiction of what Being Christian is.

homosexual people can have a meaningful personal relationship with Jesus. To assert that this is not possible is to assume I can place a Limit on Christ's love for them; which i cannot. That's not really an issue for me to judge.

You know, one of the most important verses in the Bible as far as the Red Text (Jesus' Words) go, "By your measure, shall you be measured" and Jesus says this to his Disciples, alike, not just random people he's preaching to.

Origen, when he was in the early church's favor, before he was posthumously anathemized in 553ad, stated that Jesus' Sacrifice is so significant that he eventually saves everyone. This essentially makes "Hell" not a permanent residence; rather, as i said above, in this life you choose between Love and Power and if you choose Power you go to hell at the bottom of the power structure until and only until you choose Love finally.

So, if youre running around wishing hell on people; you're probably going to go there for awhile when you die, until that lust for Power over the Other is burned out of your soul.

That's why, I, prefer to just worry about my own relationship with Jesus, and not try to issue decrees and judgements on others im not qualified to decree.

I only know what Christ reveals to me, and he doesn't reveal his criterion for who all is savable to me. thats just above my paygrade i guess.

Despite the stereotype that all gay people are whores/manwhores, I've met quite a few gay people who slept around less than straights.

Christian logic:

>"gays are bad because sodomy mkay?"

>"straight people performing sodomy via oral/anal sex is fine because its straight"

It's retarded to force gay people into relationships they're miserable in, and it's retarded to force straight people to put up with obviously gay spouses. There's a TLC special called "My Husband Isn't Gay" about Mormon wives with their gay husbands and it's obvious how miserable everyone involved is. It's also retarded to make them stay permanently single.

I'm not a Christian, but I do agree lust and promiscuity are bad things.

I even understand the anti-gay marriage argument, as marriage is an institution for families, and gays don't reproduce. I understand why people are critical of gays adopting kids, since they're missing out on having both a mother and father figure.

But gay people dating each other and having sex with each other, in of itself, aside from that, doesn't really seem like an issue to me. Do you believe sex outside of, for procreation purposes, is a sin for straight people? I just don't understand the "it's a sin because it's unnatural" argument when there's animals with hormone imbalances who fuck the same sex (look up maned lionesses). And if it's about not being able to reproduce, then it doesn't explain why recreational sex between married couples is fine.

So, there are a few Gnostic texts that do suggest that we have the ability to be as Jesus was. In the Gospel of Philip, we have this interesting passage:

>It is not possible that anyone could see something that has been decreed unless he becomes like it. This is not the way it is with the man who dwells in the world. He sees the sun without becoming the sun, and he sees the sky, and the earth, and everything else without becoming them. This is the way it is with truth, however: You have seen some things there, and you have become them. You have seen the Spirit, and have become Spirit. You have seen Christ, and have become Christ. You have seen the Father, and you will become Father. Consequently, here you see all things, and you do not see yourself. You, however, will see yourself in that place, because you will become what you see.

If we consider that God is omnipresent and that we have a divine spark within us, then hypothetically, miracles are possible. But the question then becomes, "why do you want to do miracles?" If your reasoning is purely selfish, you aren't exactly becoming Christ, who was not of this world. You're merely trying to borrow his powers. Christ is quite special, even from the perspective that we are all God, for he is the only one to be without sin, and thus in a sense he is "closest" to God.

If in your relationship with Jesus Christ, he puts it on your heart to no longer be homosexual, to be asexual, or whatever, and that's authentically from him in your personal relationship with him, then it's a sin.

It's like me smoking cigarettes. I know it's a sin I suffer from because through his Holy Spirit he clearly wants me to quit smoking. My continuance in that sin creates a distance between us, and there is less communication between us when I am a smoker, so I frequently quit for several months at a time, but it's a habit I come back to.

What it comes down to is if that's what Jesus Christ wants you to change, if that's what the Holy Spirit reveals to you, and you persist, then it's like me still smoking even though I know the Lord doesn't want me to, but it doesn't cost my salvation. I still love Jesus Christ, it's just a personal struggle that reminds me I'm not perfect, and probably can't be, which is why I need grace in the first place.

And that's assuming that's even what Jesus Christ is pushing for at the time. How would I know. Maybe Jesus is pushing on this hypothetical person to be less egotistical and materialistic, and the Spirit is not even saying anything about his homosexual relationship, because it sees it as an authentically loving relationship. How would I know either way?

It's such a strawmanned issue. I don't go by the book of Leviticus, because I'm not an Israelite under that covenant of the Torah. That wasn't my tribe apportioned with that boon and burden at the Babel event.

I do my yearly Lenten sacrifice in memory of the Zadokite sect which originated the first iterations of Christianity through James, because that's what the Spirit encourages me to do for 6 weeks a year. I try to be obedient to the spirit, but smoking's a thorn in my side, to which Christ says "my grace is sufficient for thee, for my strength is made perfect in weakness" I'll get the quit right some day, maybe, but it doesn't determine my salvation.

I believe what the Bible is pointing at in its equivocal passages is in late John just before the crucifixion when he is essentially saying that when we make a place for him, he is instilled within us, thereby making us capable of channeling his strength for miracles and what not, but that it's not us doing it, rather we become Christs(lowercase) through becoming a conduit for Christ(capitalized), which yes, traces back to "why do you want to do miracles"

One of the things you'll notice about Yeshua, is that he never serves himself with his own powers. The temptation is all about the devil trying to convince him to use his powers for himself. When Jesus just finishes walking 30 miles in the Judean desert and he's thirsty while his disciples run ahead to get the donkey he needs (note; he did not go get his own donkey that he presciently knew was on the road ahead), he just sits down and waits at the well; he doesn't even use his human-earthly regular old muscle to crank the wheel to draw water; he lets someone else do it because he refuses to serve himself.

That pattern repeats throughout all four gospels; pure RHP stuff, no LHP even in the most mundane of things. This means God sees the ideal state of man being one where everyone serves everyone else and all needs are met because everyone else is serving you so you don't have to serve yourself, etc. But that isn't how ego rules us; ego does the opposite; it's always self-serving, so yeah "why do you want to do miracles?" is a pertinent question.

even when he prays to God before raising Lazarus he says he's doing this so that others will believe in him who the Father has sent, for the Father, not himself; etc

The text discusses a theme of fear and ignorance, with a focus on the way in which individuals are able to sleep through the night and not recognize the presence of the Holy Spirit. It mentions that those who have cast off ignorance like sleep are not aware of the Holy Spirit's presence, and that they value the knowledge of the Father and the revelation of the Son, but they do not recognize them as the Son. The text also references the Holy Spirit's work of reviving them from their sleep, and the belief that the Son gives them the knowledge of the Father and the revelation of the Son.

The text is structured in a way that follows a logical flow, starting with a description of the way in which individuals can sleep through the night, and then moving on to the concept of ignorance and the Holy Spirit's work. The text concludes with a statement about the Son's work of reviving those who have cast off ignorance, and the belief that the Son gives them the knowledge of the Father and the revelation of the Son.

The image does not contain any images or graphics, and the text is presented in a straightforward manner, without any additional visual elements. The focus is solely on the written content.

It's definitely not the only reason I'm not a Christian but it's just one of the reasons. But yeah, I don't see any reason why my very devoutly Christian gay friend would be committing a sin just by loving another person. He is a genuinely great person. I just don't believe that if God created us perfectly in his image that he'd condone someone for that, when he's the one that made them that way. It truly isn't a choice and I believe it's probably influenced by hormones in the mother's womb, since there is like a noticeable increased likelihood of birthing a gay child the more male children you have. He's even tried having girlfriends before.

But I have heard the "Old Testament rules do not apply to Christians and are for the Israelite Jews" thing before. It just makes no sense why God would have one set of rules and then change his mind on those sets of rules though if he's allegedly all-powerful and all-knowing? Like everything he does is directly contradictory to the "all-knowing, all-loving, all-powerful" traits he allegedly has.

Sounds like an abusive relationship. "Worship me or else you burn in Hell forever and I will punish you" REALLY IS NOT free will. It's a threat. If you had a partner who said they loved you but would beat you if you didn't do what they wanted, would you say that's a healthy loving relationship? Of course not.

Another thing that's never made sense to me about Christianity is, if people who don't accept Jesus are doomed to Hell, then why are people born in areas of the world where they might not even know about Christianity? Everyone in North Korea is doomed to Hell by default even though there's no way they could've even become Christian? It's retarded. It's an obvious cult scam recruitment fear tactic.

The text is divided into numbered sections, each with a title and a brief explanation or definition. The text is in English and is written in a serif font, which is commonly used for academic or formal writing.

The first section, labeled as "1. God is simple, without composition of parts, such as body and soul, or matter and form," discusses the nature of God as a simple being without any complex composition.

The second section, labeled as "2. God is perfect, lacking nothing. That is, God is distinguished from other beings on account of God's complete actuality," discusses the concept of God as perfect and distinguished from other beings due to its complete actuality.

The third section, labeled as "3. God is infinite. That is, God is not finite in the ways that created beings are physically, intellectually, and emotionally limited. This infinity is to be distinguished from infinity of size and infinity of number," discusses the concept of God's infinite nature, which is not limited in the ways created beings are.

The fourth section, labeled as "4. God is immutable, incapable of change on the levels of God's essence and character," discusses the immutability of God's essence and character.

The fifth section, labeled as "5. God is one, without differentiation within God's self. The unity of God is such that God's essence is the same as God's existence. In Thomas's words, 'in itself the proposition God exists is necessarily true, for in it subject and predicate are the same.'" discusses the concept of God's oneness and the truth of God's existence.

The last section, labeled as "5. God is necessarily true, for in it subject and predicate are the same," discusses the necessity of God's truth.

it has everything to do with gravity because there's only one structure in all of reality.

This means that the moral topology and its relational invariants are described by exactly the same math and geometrical relations as the Physics domain. In fact, they are so intertwined that you cannot explain physics without using Math (a mental domain of structured relations), Language (a semantic domain of structured relations), and cognition (an psychic domain of thinking and feeling).

Physics is not its own shit. Explain Physics without cognition, math or language if it is its own thing. You cant.

So, its not its own structure. You have to be able to conceive the relation intellectually before you can even begin to describe it with other domains that you rob the episteme of without sensory data at all.

Of these other domains that Physics steals from, none of them are physical sensory data. That's a violation of epistemological domains up front.

EM is a H2 quaternion, that branches out into H3 Quaternions. that share 2 branches with Gravity and 2 branches with Heat and 1 branch in the Faraday equation with kinetics. its all the same fucking structure no matter if youre looking at physics, or DNA, or Cognitive shit; ethics is intellectualized cognition, morality is emotional cognition. you cant describe physics if you cant conceptualize it; therefore the same structure that you conceptualize physics as, is the same structure as cognition or it wouldnt be decipherable in the first place.

Why is that impossible for you to understand?

Weakness withing the moral topology is in the same location as faraday's equation in the EM quaternion.

Gibbs simplified Maxwell's work. Maxwell did not present a bunch of vectorized bullshit in his unified theory on EM, he presented it as a rotating quaternion with additional quaternions within each quaternion; a Bi-quaternion; a nesting of quaternions in quaternions. Gibbs didn't know EM better than maxwell

You want to know why Maxwell delivered 20 equations as his Unified Theory of Quaternionic EM?

Because

Equation A-----\|/-----Equation C
-----Electromagnetism-----
Equation B-----/\|-----Equation D

Equation E-----\|/-----Equation G
-----Equation A-----
Equation F-----/\|-----Equation H

Equation I-----\|/-----Equation K
-----Equation B-----
Equation J-----/\|-----Equation L

Equation M-----\|/-----Equation O
-----Equation C-----
Equation N-----/\|-----Equation P

Equation Q-----\|/-----Equation S
-----Equation D-----
Equation R-----/\|-----Equation T

Thats 20 equations; 4 branching out from each Four corners of the Pyramidal structure above it branching out into 4 pyramids with equations that rotate in around the bases with transference between them.

Originally, they didnt even have "time" encoded into them; that was added later by people that misunderstand gravity's temporal components and how it relates to Faraday's "Equation D" in the structure above.

Anonymous Thu 05 Feb 2026 02:51:08 No.41918353 Report

When you actually dive into the friedmann equations and what not Time is treated as a quaternion itself, the "Positron" is described by Penrose and Friedmann as a time-reversed Electron

$$\text{Time}^1 = -i^2\text{Time}$$

Apply the root function to each side and that gives you

$$+1*\text{Time}, -1*\text{Time} = i*\text{Time}, -i*\text{Time}$$ so then the positron has a $-1*\text{Time}$ component as its dual for the electron describe in the Gauss law quaternion

The graviton's dual is a $+1*\text{time}$ component (real time)

The Photon's dual is a $i*\text{time}$ component (which is why wick rotations are used to describe its path integrals) and the Phonon's dual is a $-i*\text{time}$ component, which is why it is defined as a "virtual" quanta of vibration within the lattice of mass

Anonymous Thu 05 Feb 2026 02:59:31 No.41918366 Report

in summary there are 20 equations because the typology of energy "electromagnetism" as a H1 quaternion of all four energy types (EM, Gravity, Heat, and Kinetics) goes from 1 "thing"

1 becomes 4 "things" which rotate into each other to form a loop, and each of those 4 things branch out into 4 things becoming 16 interrelated things (invariant relations) than the 4 things above them that four way branching, when viewed from the top down, is a Cross because the universes relations are cross shaped; It's a Logos shaped fractal universe of fidget spinors inside of fidget spinors inside fidget spinors, or gears inside gears inside gears that get fucked up when you break the symmetry of the operations with error.

this describes the octonionic invariant that contains the entirety of the 4^3 quaternionic nesting. Yes it is one system but that system has constraint structures, which God chooses to maintain with consistency. That's what i mean when i say, God is not defined by the structure, reality is defined by the structure God chooses to constrain it within.

To the perspective of a photon, all mass is exactly zero distance, and zero time away from itself; therefore the photon reveals a universe where the big never happened and already collapsed back into the big crunch where all mass is zero distance (lorentz length contraction) and zero time (lorentz time dilation) away. Making it omnipresent and omnipotent.

Anonymous Thu 05 Feb 2026 03:19:33 No.41918398 Report

By reality being constrained within an Octonionic manifold, the non associativity and commutativity means the order in which things does matters, reality is "recorded" in the order in which it unfolds to the individual, without divine intervention to resolve certain events in that life's linear progression.

For example, I can't tell if you put your shirt on first before your pants, but I can tell if you put your underwear on over your pants.

This variability in order of events is what gives each person a unique "disposition" away from Christic center. My path to Christic center is not the same as your path, because we had a different order of events.

So I can't bring you to center, because I don't know where you are in your disposition and it's easy to get disorientated leaving center to find you where you are and then remember the exact order to get back to center.....that's what the Holy Spirit CAN do, however.

It can find you where ever you are, what ever unique path of nonassociative and noncommutative events that transpired to bring you to where you are at, and it always points you to Christ and guides you to Christ or it is not the Holy Spirit.

Gnosis is just direct knowledge of the transcendent God in which it knows itself without mediation. The triad of knower-knowing-known don't even appear in gnosis. People are too used to temporal knowing, they're like the Demiurge who is ignorant of its own source. They look out with their intellect and think that what they perceive through multiplicity is all that exists.

hello gnosgen. this is where im at right now. let me know if im missing something.

It starts in a white expanse. Within this expanse are souls who float around and look at things. This is where the animating force behind you and i originates from. At some point, a soul named abraxas decided to sit down in one spot and build something. abraxas didnt know what they were building at the start but they just kind of went along with it and had fun with it. This is how the universe was created. Abraxas kept building this thing and creating more intricacies and details, and eventually other souls saw what abraxas was doing and they became interested. They wanted to participate, so they asked abraxas but abraxas told them "okay you can come and hang out but you have to follow my rules because its my project". So these souls built themselves a vessel to live in the world abraxas had created, they used the tools abraxas had created to create and build intricacies of their own. This is what has created the world around us with all of the detail and emotion. Thats pretty much it. Death is one of the rules abraxas made but you can just reincarnate if you want to. Also when your animating force doesnt want to be here anymore they can just leave and go find somewhere else out in the expanse or build their own world like abraxas did. Important part about suicide though, suicide happens whenever your material existence is in so much pain that it begins to see death as a reasonable escape from the pain, but when you're not incarnated the whole dichotomy of escaping suffering is just kind of irrelevant because the suffering is part of the fun.

Life is just a big old party. Everyone is your peer and we all just want to have a good time (a fun time just means experiencing reality)

Thanks guys

(Am /gnosgen/'s OP)

I'm probably going to rename this to something else since people keep quoting random Christian Gnostics in history and assuming I hold the same beliefs as them.

What are my beliefs?:

- We have a divine spark within us. We are more than our 3D fleshbags and we have a 5D higher self.
- We have been reincarnating infinitely onto Earth.
- Reincarnation is a trap. It is not to "learn anything".
- The Archons need our consent to reincarnate, and they manipulate us at death to trick us into consenting. They do this by pretending to be religious figures or relatives, having us "walk into the light", and giving us a "life review" of all of our wrongdoings to guilt us.
- This world was created by either an incompetent or malevolent deity, who I refer to as the Demiurge, but I also believe goes by names like Yahweh/Yaldabaoth/Allah/etc.
- I feel like the elites in power know this and they work alongside the Archons to keep us trapped. I'm also antisemitic and anti-Abrahamic.

So should the next edition of this thread be called "Simulation Theory General" or "Prison Planet General" or "Loosh General"? Because I'm sick of retards coming into this thread with dogshit arguments. And the idea we live in a fake reality is far older than Gnosticism or Christianity.

This is definitely a more positive spin on the same idea. Not all historic Gnostics did believe that this was all malevolent but that the Demiurge was just too incompetent to create a perfect world. Honestly, I appreciate your reply because the pessimism aspect is what turns a lot of people away from this theory, but you had a very positive framing to it. I still have issues trying to see this simulated fake reality as positive, since I just don't believe souls would willingly reincarnate as like a baby rape victim or kid who dies of cancer. But I do try to prevent the pessimism from leading me into Depression by trying to think of this as a videogame and just not caring as much, by being lighthearted about it.

I have heard the term Abraxas before, but admittedly, I haven't ventured into all the Gnostic texts that exist. Any sources you recommend?

It is interesting that we psychologically want death when life is too much to deal with. I've always struggled with suicidal thoughts every now and then (gotten much better at avoiding them now though). I'm very anti-suicide since obviously, I do not know what happens after death, and if there even is anything. I just plan to tackle the whole death thing when I die. I like speculating though. But I will refuse "the light"/"life review"/"reincarnation"/etc when I die and insist on being united again with my 5D self.

Oh yeah another reason why I'm kinda against the idea this is just one big party is that the elites seem determined to keep us trapped in materialism and prevent us from realizing the truth. They try their hardest to keep us in 3D. Hence Archons = evil.

Someone posted a good quote from Buddhism on this board (I think on this thread but I don't care enough to re-find it). About how pre-enlightenment, you work, eat, and sleep. And after-enlightenment, you work, eat, and sleep. Literally nothing changes. So yeah, nothing has changed for me since adopting this belief. The real change I believe happens when I die and refuse to reincarnate. I am realistic enough to know there is nothing I can do to change the way the world works. The Epstein file drops only continually prove that we realistically can't do shit about the evil pedojews. So I'm just trying to live my life the best I can and then I'll leave the reincarnation trap when I die.

The character is wearing a black baseball cap with white text that reads "Please be patient I have autism." The cap is positioned on the character's head, and the character's eyes are wide open, giving the impression of a surprised or excited expression.

In front of the character, there are two model airplanes on a wooden surface. The airplane on the left is gray with a red nose and a white cockpit, while the one on the right is silver with a black nose and a white cockpit. Both airplanes have propellers and appear to be in a stationary position.

The background of the image shows a room with a blue wall, a window with white curtains, and a wooden bookshelf filled with various books. The character's position in front of the airplanes and the room setting suggest a casual, indoor setting, possibly a bedroom or a study. The overall style of the image is humorous and uses a combination of visual elements to convey a light-hearted message about the character's condition.

Hello. Thank your for expressing your feelings about my story. it is very important to me.

I can understand the sentiment about how nobody would want to reincarnate into someone who experiences the worst things possible but that whole paradigm kind of collapses in on itself when you apply it to my story. I will explain to you how.

The aversion to pain is something that is unique to us as creatures living within the material reality. it is a part of the experience here, and as such, when you cease experiencing reality, the suffering matrix just kind of becomes irrelevant. it becomes irrelevant because you are beyond pain and beyond joy and beyond all of the matrices of the material world because the matrices of the material world are the whole reason your animating force came here in the first place. you came here from the expanse because you were curious about what was going on, and then you saw what was going on and you were like "okay yeah ill see what thats like" and then, you incarnate into a baby rape victim and die from anal blood loss, and when you die you simply return to the expanse and youre like "wow that was intense." Then at that point you can incarnate into a different part of reality as a slug and experience reality as a slug if you want to. The thing is, is that there is no "highest life". Every experience of life no matter what it is, just becomes a memory of a time that you as an immortal being, spent feeling. whether it falls within the matrix of good and bad is irrelevant to you at that point, its just something that happened and you can do it again if you want to or not. its up to you. If that doesnt make sense let me know and ill try to clarify.

Abraxas is just a word that means "365". ive just picked up some stuff about abraxas over my time existing. carl jungs seven sermons to the dead is a good start.

i would respond to your other words but the principle above renders any response i could give redundant.

It's kinda like how in the Sims videogames, people will make their Sims do fucked up shit all the time just for entertainment and to see what would happen. This isn't a religion in the sense you go to Church and praise the Demiurge or whatever. If we're going by my specific beliefs in Gnosticism as a basis, then what "I'm offering" I guess is hope that you don't have to keep reincarnating to this shitty planet if you don't want to. You can reject reincarnation at your death.

I don't like Christianity for a number of reasons but it's pointless for me to point them all out because you will just reply with AI slop or like 500 Bible verses. You are the one that's more set on converting people than I am. I don't care if people disagree with me. I just started the thread to talk with other Gnostics about how they perceive Gnosticism and if they have any sources to share. It's all the Christians that barged in here to derail and convert everyone. I just had a convo with another Gnostic who has a much more positive interpretation of the world, which shows I am okay with differing beliefs. What I'm not okay with is retard Christians saying the SAME SHIT OVER AND OVER in a thread not even about Christianity. And I know your reply will be "Gnosticism can't exist without Christianity". Well nigger, I don't give a fuck. Christianity can't exist without Judaism by that logic, so are the Jews correct? This is why the next version of this thread will be renamed to something else that doesn't mention Gnosticism at all and is just about the idea that our reality is fake. You aren't going to be successful in converting anyone here to Christianity. I went to a Christian school growing up, you retarded nigger.

Pythagoreanism IS incomplete Christianity, because it requires Logos God showing up in reality to complete it:

Axiomatic Syzygy Theory of Everything

Thesis Statement: all Axiomatic syzygies have identical transference function

Fundamental theorems:

Sum of Two Square Formula

2-dimensional analysis

Pythagorean Theorem

$$A^2 + B^2 = C^2$$

3-Dimensional Analysis

Trigonometric Identity Property

Let $A = \sin(x)$; $B = \cos(x)$; $C = 1$

Translation:

$$1^2 = \sin^2(x) + \cos^2(x)$$

$$1^2 = \sin(x)/\csc(x) + \cos(x)/\sec(x)$$

$$1^2 = 1/\csc^2(x) + 1/\sec^2(x)$$

4-Dimensional Analysis

Mass-Energy Equivalence Formula

Let $\sin(x) = mc^2$, $\cos(x) = pc$, $1 = E$

Special note $c = 1/g$ the inverse asymptotic limit of absolute time dilation at the schwartzschild radius of a black hole

Translation

$$E^2 = (mc^2)^2 + (pc)^2$$

$$E^2 = (m^2c^2/g^2) + (p(\sqrt{c/g}))^2$$

$$E^2 = (m/g^2)^2 + (p/g)^2$$

5-Dimensional analysis

Let $\sin(x) = \text{Pride}$; $\cos(x) = \text{Shame}$, $\csc(x) = \text{Humility}$; $\sec(x) = \text{Wisdom}$; $1 = \text{Truth}$

Special Note; truth is invariant therefore all reciprocal inversions are presumably rationalized to rationalize denominator into the numerator where numerator is 1; mathematical operators for "+", "-", "x", "/", and "=" are equivalent with the words

"and", "without", "by", "of" and "is" respectively

$$\text{Truth}^2 = \text{Pride}/\text{Humility} + \text{Shame}/\text{Wisdom}$$

Invariant inversion

$$\text{Truth}^2 = \text{Humility}/\text{Pride} + \text{Wisdom}/\text{Shame}$$

Translation into philosophical expressions:
Truth is the Pride of Humility and the Shame of Wisdom
Truth is the Humility of Pride and the Wisdom of Shame

Notice how I start with the Pythagorean theorem?

You keep claiming to seek something that is right in front of your face already Fucking exactly but the retarded Christcucks in this thread think I'm preaching a religion where we worship the Demiurge or some shit and hate Jesus or whatever. I actually think Christianity and what Jesus said has some good things to it. I like being a hobbyist theologian and learning about the different religions. And I can do all that while still thinking there are bad aspects of a religion and while still being against organized religion since it's a control mechanism. But these people are too low IQ to conceptualize the idea of a spiritual belief falling outside the format of an organized religious church.

There are so many atheist scientists who believe in simulation theory. Believing we live in a fake reality is NOT just related to Gnosticism and is not just one set of ideas. It means different things to different people, which is why I started the thread to hear different peoples' idea of it. But it got raided by Christfags sperging about why we're all the Devil. All you need to do is love Jesus Christ back and ask him to come into your life, and when you truly surrender your ego that holds you back with doubt and disbelief the Holy Spirit comes into your presence, and gives you the spiritual transformation that Gnosticism offers but NEVER delivers on

Genesis 17:10-12 NKJV

[10] This is My covenant which you shall keep, between Me and you and your descendants after you: Every male child among you shall be circumcised; [11] and you shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskins, and it shall be a sign of the covenant between Me and you. [12] He who is eight days old among you shall be circumcised, every male child in your generations, he who is born in your house or bought with money from any foreigner who is not your descendant.

<https://bible.com/bible/114/gen.17.10-12.NKJV>

Circumcision is not Christian. That's spelled out clearly in the Book of Acts, that circumscion is not Christian, it's an Israelite covenant that was discarded in the book of Acts which states that the only Israelite practices to be carried over is law against sexual immorality, eating live flesh from a still living animal, and drinking blood.

that ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication. If ye keep yourselves from these things, ye shall do well. Fare ye well!

So none of the Israelite covenant is Christianity.

And then Jesus says

It would be better for them to be thrown into the sea with a millstone tied around their neck than to cause one of these little ones to stumble.

He's saying i

It would be better to tie a millstone around a pedophiles neck and throw him into the sea than it would be to let him fuck children

> Will of Light

Will of Light could be summarized on Divine Will or Will of God and since God is spirit, will of God could be summerise on God.

The Messiah isn't Jesus in flesh, but in spirit, it's the will of light.

And for the hebrew the 22 letter are each of one verbs that are in motion in present, the 5 sofit letter are out of time (out of the creation where EL dwell). So the will of light it's not something of the past or the future, but something in the present moment.

That will of light is very similar to the holy spirit at the end.

> there are pedophiles on this site attempting to learn the Gnosis

So what if they are pedophiles that probably due to the Will of God, isn't it ? Who are you to question God? Isn't to God works to judge them?

Yes but when you actually encounter the Holy Spirit, it does not point towards yourself, nor does it point towards itself, it points towards a transcendent Third, the eternal personhood of Jesus Christ, and it urges you to point your will towards that transcendent Third

It doesn't instruct you to assume you can BE that transcendent Third, it suggests you can rest in It, and be in relationship with It.

The gnostic error is assuming It a thing to be possessed, like any other It in the creation, but It is beyond the creation, and indeed reifies the Creation we call the universe. It is not natively You, nor natively Me, it is transcendent of you or I, and a person to be aligned with, not possessive of.

And, it's available to everyone who chooses to align itself with it. There is no such thing as hylics and pneumatics.

That distinction is only based on the choice of the individual, it is not based on some intrinsic propensity towards possessing it, and it surely isn't something to get arrogantly inflated over, because that same Spirit, and it's Transcendent Yeshua that it points to, encourages the exact opposite of ego inflation; It encourages humbling ego, and wresting control over the Ego's attempt to claim, possess, and wall It off from others.

If you have not read the works of Origen in his commentary's on John, and Matthew and the works of Clemente which provides the basis for Origen's worldview he does not claim the heretical Gnostic entirely errant in his belief, he critique's the heretical gnostics decision to elevate the Gnosis of God over the importance of Living with God in heart and having a relationship that demonstrates that Love as radiative outwards towards Others.

Gnosis is not something to possess and Lord over others, it is something to be grateful that the Lord chose to share with you, SO that it can be shared with others

Gnosis doesn't save the soul, the decision to Love and share that Love is what saves.

It to simplify, if Gnosis saved, then man never would've fallen for eating from the Tree of Gnosis of Good and Evil in the first place. Because Adam and Eve obtained Gnosis by eating from the Tree of Gnosis, but the Gnosis is also Death

The Tree of Life is the Tree of Love, and it was withheld until the Life chose to manifest here as a seed that fell to the ground and sprouted up into the Tree of Life offering salvation to those who will eat of It, as earnestly as we once ate of the Tree of Gnosis

People aren't ready to learn the fact that God is a feminine entity, nature constantly affirm that females are the ones who create life and perpetuate the world, males only act as fertilizers, technically carrying potency, but not the output of creation itself, all portrayals of God as masculine were based on outdated patriarchal models where people assumed brute physical strength = power, and since God was the supreme power they believed he was male while completely ignoring that being creator of life is an inherently feminine role.

TL;DR: God is a woman, the majority of you will never come to terms with it.

Most of their female Almighty archtypes are more dominant; I use their assumption energies to help me to make women more submissive on planets where that's suitable but yes on planets where the females are quite simply evolved, socially conditions and through history repeatedly are in the top heirarchal position. God, as in the one who gave birth to what created this material world, is Sophia, who is female. Her bastard child, Yaldabaoth, is male. Yaldabaoth is who Christians worship. Christianity is too yang-heavy and unbalanced. I believe Christianity is patriarchal precisely because of the fact women are naturally more intuitive. Modern Christian men cut their hair short too, and hair acts as a psychic antennae. I don't like the Jews either since they're clearly also Yaldabaoth worshippers, but at least the Jews keep their hair long like Samson did. And they respect women, being a matriarchal religion. But ideally, people integrate both the yin and the yang and don't hold either sex as superior over the other. Western religions are retarded because they don't understand BOTH yin and yang are important, and that we ALL have both. It has nothing to do with being a tranny (I hate trannies). Western religions instead demonize yin by teaching that yin is responsible for all the sin in the world. Yin devoid of yang is bad, and yang devoid of yin is bad. The Asians were correct about this.

Both are bad and retarded but Internet NPCs will never truly grasp this. Most just side with whatever their sex is. Men side with men, and women side with women. Ultimately, the polarization and demonization of each other is destructive. The pendulum keeps swinging farther and farther left and right. People think returning back to Extreme Yang Right will restore order, as if the past is anything to prop up as the ideal.

ChatGPT is literally controlled by Jews, which is unsurprising it is pushing female superiority. There's uncensored lesser-known AI models you can use instead of ChatGPT that don't have a billion wokeness filters on them.

I use <https://uncensored.ai> for asking controversial questions, but there was also like a list on HuggingFace I saw for Uncensored LLMs a while ago.

The reason why Christians push male superiority is because women are more intuitive and are capable of creating divine sparks. So it is important for the elite that they are subjugated.

And the reason why Jews push female superiority is because they want feelings to rule instead of facts.

But ideally, you work with both the yin and the yang, you have both logic and empathy. Logic without empathy results in women being put in breeding farms like cattle (and I have seen some right-wingers online literally act like this is a good idea, it's one of the reasons I'm moving away from the right and just giving up on Jew-ran politics). Empathy without logic results in importing a bunch of nigger criminal rapists into your country. View SameGoogleiqdbSauceNAOTrace IMG_7456.gif, 619KiB, 500x300

Anyway just curious in a few species where females actually compete for males. So google told me : In species where females compete for males, such as jacanas, phalaropes, pipefish/seahorses, and spotted hyenas, females are often larger, more aggressive, and take on roles traditionally seen in males, while males handle parental care or incubation. This role reversal happens when males provide most parental investment (like incubation in phalaropes/seahorses) or when females are the limiting resource, leading to female-driven sexual selection and competition for mates.

Chinese LLMs are all either free or cheap.

I use Deepseek a lot, it doesn't limit you if you're just asking it questions. If you want to use the API for your own program, then you do have to pay money. But if you're just prompting questions, it's free.

Because it's Chinese, it doesn't have wokeness filters, but it does have CCP-friendly filters, like you can't ask it anything about the Tianenmen Square massacre or anything else the CCP wouldn't want you asking about.

The Chinese also just recently put out a free locally-ran desktop AI called Agent TARS. It's open-source. ChatGPT (and similar LLM giants) has a subscription model and they make money by preventing you from running their AI on your machine. But China just made it so that the average person can do all this shit on their own machine for free.

<https://github.com/bytedance/UI-TARS-desktop>

I'm a bit hesitant to download it because it's Chinese, but it is open-source and if China's spying on me then I don't really care since it's not like the US/Israel doesn't already spy on me.

Deepseek also solves advanced math problems way better than ChatGPT in my experience.

Before you label God “feminine” or “masculine,” you have to know what you mean by God.

If you mean the Creator of everything, then God is not a biological being. God isn’t a male or a female the way humans are. Sex and gender belong to bodies, reproduction, and time.

God has no body, no physical properties, and that language like “hand,” “anger,” or “male” is metaphor, not biology.

Now, about your nature argument. Nature shows something simpler than your slogan. In human biology, life is generated through the union of male and female. The woman carries and nourishes the developing life within her. The man contributes the seed. Neither one is “just fertilizer,” and neither one “creates” a full human being alone. So using biology to “prove” God is female is already a category mistake.

God, by definition, is infinite, eternal, and the source of being. The world does not “feed” God. The world depends on God. In that sense, creation is not God “giving birth” like a creature. Creation is God giving existence. The direction is from Source to recipient: God gives, the world receives. So if you insist on mapping “masculine/feminine” onto a spiritual model, the “giver” side is what many traditions call masculine, and the “receiver/nurturer” side is what they call feminine. That’s a symbolic vocabulary about flow, dependence, and causality, not about bodies.

Also, the whole “patriarchy made God male” line oversimplifies.

The reason God is described with human language is not because people thought “strong equals male.” It’s because human language has to borrow images from human life to speak about what is beyond human life. They are teaching tools, not literal descriptions.

If you removed all societal constraints you'd quickly realise that men would be the ones choosing women, not the other way around. And let's just say they would be forceful in their selection. I obviously don't endorse this and think it's what we should do, but trying to imply that the natural order of things is women choosing who they get to fuck like they're totally impervious to being physically overpowered and pinned down by a male is just straight up denying reality. The left section is titled "Innocent to Impotent," and it features a smiling face with a caption that reads, "happy slave." There are arrows pointing to the face, indicating a sense of contentment or happiness.

The right section is titled "Warrior Soul," and it has a frowning face with a caption that reads, "enemy of the NWO." There are arrows pointing to the face, suggesting a sense of conflict or opposition.

Below the left section, there is a text that reads, "Incorrect Spiritual Alignment: Invented Divine Masculine. Correct Spiritual Alignment: Seeks Complete Independence and Last Resistance." This text suggests a comparison between the two sections, indicating that the left section is about a positive state of being, while the right section is about a negative state of being.

At the bottom of the image, there is a text that says, "So basically I'm a huge dick and you're all a bunch of pigs. GET ON BOARD OR GET LEFT BEHIND!!" This text seems to be a humorous or confrontational statement, suggesting that the person is not satisfied with the other person's spiritual alignment and is urging them to either join or leave the group.

The overall style of the image is simple and cartoonish, with a focus on conveying a message through visual and textual elements. The use of color and shading adds to the visual impact, with the text and illustrations in black and white against a white background.

They stated it too strongly. Everyone has a yin-yang balance. You want to find the perfect middle balance spot of the two. The reason religions' moral precepts are yin-coded is because all created things are biased in the Yang direction by default - and it's worse in lower, high density spiritual ages.

The ancient sages/prophets/seers knew what they were doing when they developed the traditions.

Yesterday I planted around 6 cells in the right of my brain near to where my right amygdala would be if I hadn't destroyed it falling from my tree. I'm not counting the exact number, don't care anymore. These cells help my brain to derive better formulations of emotions that exhibit male and female traits mixed from either or both of femininity and masculinity in me. I place planted more near to those same locations yesterday to impact my sense of fairness when it comes to men and women. This was carefully calibrated to not apply the same standard across every single planet nor every single household, to align itself closer and closer to how things are in some respects and how I want things in other respects so I know where I'm starting and where we're going from there.

I planted cells on the left of my brain to give men and other dominants more dominance-related psychic powers and to do the same thing those on my right do except more through psychic powers than mundane abilities, moving thoughts around in my nervous system to enhance the effect. I planted many more cells in myself yesterday and made many destructions...more than most days for me but not every day needs to be the same.

Follow in my footsteps. If you're well fed you're read, if not we could just nourish the cells with psychic powers. I do that occasionally.

You should see what happens when I do that in hiveminds that can detect when that happens and forbid it with their laws, rules, powers and such. Whole civilizations flip out. I can do that in beings I don't like in their civilizations and they suspect that being of obeying me against the rules instead of being my victim...and when I do it in friendlies I take measures so they don't detect it, or can't tell where it is, or simply can't do anything about it. It depends.

about my other life times as other species, genders, times I explode in war, etc. That way my every thought of sex was as disgusting and frightening and intolerable as possible, for me to accustom myself to until it bothered me not at all and I could see the through the encoding at will (that took time) and others can't interfere.

Mostly they don't have this problem, most species grow more sexual and reproduce more when the shit hits the fan anyway but that could be even better and for some of them it makes them cold, this will help with that. Of course it's derived from what I've done to myself and others have done to me all of my life and though it will help others to feel better, think using less calories, mind control others and such it still directly benefits me. Another benefit that move has, my memories were planted in others partially to make them more like me, as more and more of them become more like me my memories they were storing for me return to me. All effects on the memories on their journey to me as they did not travel instantaneously this time are studied, friend and foe, and I feel synapses and other things learning more about how to do this themselves studying it in the astral. The only cost is subservience to me, to us I suppose but I prefer it the way I stated it first.

My lust died the second I wrote the average feminine nature on paper and stratified it according to its moral nature. I am now convinced that the only thing you are supposed to do as a soul, as a man is to wrestle your own flesh into submission, find God and develop a prosperous and altruistic relationship with our creator in order to escape this prison. 99% of women are half humans with no souls, everything they strive for and enjoy is ultimately evil in its nature. The very core of femininity is absolute evil that seeks to devour good men with the same glee and joy youd get from stomping out some dorky kids sand castle.

Once I realized why women are the way they are, it's like I've finally been enlightened as to why hermit monks become hermits in the first place. It's all a lie, its all a joke. This planet is a prison, women are archons who genuinely don't give a fuck about anything but they have to pretend to have interests beyond themselves just so men dont become suspicious and notice the huge disparity in the nature of each gender. It's not a complimentary nature, it's completely one-sided and parasitic. The entire role of women is to entrap a mans life force and pull another soul onto this false reality incarnation trap. That's all they were designed to do. Satan takes a hold of their hivemind vessels with comedic ease and no resistance. They are all beyond corrupt, they fall apart once a month and endure pain unless they fulfill their ill-natured task. There is nothing in this

For women to even being to pretend to be able to be equals it requires everything we've been through historically and a society to get to a state of relative peace like this just so they can indulge that delusion, and by god do they indulge it, to the point it will ruin us all and bring us back to

Chances are this is the case, because the higher test men will be more likely to rape the women with all their pent up hormones. The reason there are no white knights in a pack of gorillas/chimps is because they're afraid of being bashed to death by the stronger males. Humans are primates too, yes more intelligent, but it doesn't take much for the animal instinct to take back over, especially without any restraints holding them back.

I don't believe that God could be inherently and exclusively a divine feminine or masculine figure.

If it could create such diversity, it must embody everything. That isn't to say it couldn't identify or choose the appearance and energy of one or the other, but it makes more sense if there's an equilibrium.

That's cute, you think these white knights aren't going to be pissing themselves in fear at the roided up rapist who does what he wants and kills who he wants. I'm not saying I support this obviously, I'm just saying it's hilarious how you think people's base instincts aren't going to get the better of them. It's a simple matter of survival, you're not gonna want to oppose the psycho because your self preservation will kick in, you'll turn into a pussy at the first sign of danger because that's what you're programmed to do. It's the same reason why when you see a crackhead walking towards you you'll instinctively cross the road to avoid him. This situation is no different, nobody is going to form "lynch mobs" because it's better off just avoiding it completely. Nobody is going to risk their life over fucking a female when it could result in their death. You'll be left fucking leftover sloppy second scraps from the "alpha" male in the tribe, unless you decide to fight him that is. If you do that though then you'll have to hold your position because if you don't you'll get dethroned by someone the moment they sense weakness from you. That's really how things would end up operating. There might be a bit more complexity to it than that, but it's the general gist of what would go down

At age 5 I found that willing one's soul to change one's biology in such a way it changed one's sexuality was among the most difficult spells to pull off. The spells countless individuals and civilizations as a whole pour into changing them, preventing them from changing, destroying it in their enemies and lower it and of course raising and creating it in themselves and allies, all with their pathetically meager skill making the situation more worse then better, together with biological instincts discouraging one from interfering with that process means it's a safe phylactery for memories of me and other things for after I die to reconstitute my soul from and spread my powers. Civilizations possessing of sexuality will be very hesitant and far from skilled or brave enough to carve at their sexuality centers in their nervous systems and such enough to make them asexual enough that they escape our clutches. Ridding themselves of me means overcoming their deepest fears and most established foolishness in order to cast aside pleasure for life and end their civilizations.

Anonymous Sat 07 Feb 2026 08:51:36 No.41929733 Report

As my memories are stored more and more off-site for usage after death I utilize that fact to discard those memories from my own, local, nervous system and begin formulating new memories out of the fragments of the old from others and other points of my lives for better understanding of how to change both in all new ways I wasn't capable of before and those things I've been capable of before but wasn't once more until just now.

Thanks for your help. I never forget, not a person or animal or virus particle or atom. All who obey me profit.

I choose a select number of beings animal, plant and "intelligent" and otherwise from the planets and structures to compose simalicrums of in the memories of others far and close to use as phylacteries for them and some of you of /x/ have agreed to this process. So long as a relatively small number of them are finished by the time I die and they continue getting completed on schedule thereafter we'll learn a language and other tools for doing the same with all other souls more and more efficiently with less and less storage space necessary for it in our memories. In this way we can preserve our souls for every forever without sitting around thinking about it all day.

This is not the first time I began installing the memories of some /x/ers in other beings, although last time I did it mostly in things besides the sexuality of others and this time I mostly did it there. We'll bend time to deceive about that across time and space and do other important things, can't be too tricky in psychic warfare. Don't underestimate the fantastically advance civilizations and individual super-intelligences that break down potential occult powers into a step-by-step examination, a structured logical learning process the way I do. Creation is so vast there are beings older than the human civilization will live who ponder such things intelligently.

But I've been mentating this way all of my life and the actions I undertake in my mind have influenced life around me in ways inexplicable otherwise. I saw countless beyond countless visions of my future at age 5 and if I just limit myself to the visions I saw clearly for a decent amount of time and then encountered just as clearly irl the number of visions confirmed number in the tens of thousands. Mostly they're thoughts to situations I encounter, people and ideas I hadn't met yet or had yet (for my memories of my visions sometimes include that half of the memory consciously but other times only the first half). What's the other explanation? I was of such an intellect at age 5 I predicted the appearance, behavior and very words of people I wouldn't meet for decades? And other things are inexplicable except by those two explanations. A disbeliever of the supernatural might consider the second possibility orders of magnitude more likely and somehow perhaps by acquiring 45 feet of falling damage to my head I lost enough of my intelligence it just isn't that functional anymore but these memories of my prior intelligence and thinking method remain? And though intelligent I was completely and utterly insane?

No. I am God Almighty, it's just a work in progress is all. It'll be so much more obvious later. You don't get damned for not believing in me, that's a special punishment for those warned of it who have wronged me. And even then it's not much, probably just an excuse for punishing them for something more important.

At age 5 I knew I'd have a home of my own in this city here which was not where I lived then and that I'd keep homeless people here so they're not homeless anymore and I'd have a girlfriend that would get taken to prison periodically and that I'd get really high on weed derivatives and analogues and I hadn't heard of most of that, I'd never heard of a homeless person or weed or girlfriends before. I'd encountered ideas like the homeless in the bible expressed in other words and wives it's true but not weed. There were lots of other things I saw visions and heard voices about and deduced that I hadn't encountered the notion of and others I'd barely encountered the notion of in life, I saw a vision of myself beating a gigantic man to save my life later in life and when I met him for the the first time just a year or two later I recognized him though it would be over a decade more before I'd fell him.

I attempted to teach myself new ways of studying, storing, recalling and destroying memories in my own body when I was 1 1/2 and it occurred to me time could potentially move backwards under certain circumstances and my body must pick up on that and I wanted to become better at it, and I set about trying to do that with most of my time for 6 months until I read some Old Testament and my thoughts turned to time and space reading about how God is the First and the Last, Alpha and Omega. I thought I could do that and better and started thinking about that in the context of what I'd just been thinking about.

I've customized myself since conception for this purpose. I can't escape it, in case someone gains that level of mind control over me and so I don't have to think about it as much.

Even if you left the occult out you refuse to believe the rest could be real but that's ridiculous because the world's a big place full of all kinds of people. There's absolutely no possibility a socially inept (situationally anyway) abused violent person with personality disorders and such who wants to rule everything who actually has DEDICATION whatever the results could be on 4chan because he's...blatantly intelligent? She has said she's the Goddess of Creation and pulled me out of my body and shape shifted my soul to be muscular but still me then she made my cock 2 feet long and had me make love to her floating above my body.

Is the Creator Lilith? This lilith spirit healed my broken leg and saved me from being mauled by a pitbull.

The Creator won't cast Lilith out. I used to wonder if Lilith is the Creator and just refusing to leave.

Lilith smokes weed and meth, drinks, smokes malrlboros, plays video games and seems to be able to do miracles in private for me at least. She also made the sun in the sky brighter in a weird timing way which made me think God was doing a

There are limits to how quickly the human consciousness can perceive itself as agreeing with, believing in and accepting as true and otherwise affecting things consciously while still believing in itself as doing so that instinctual. I damaged the nervous systems of some of you and created in you and in others on other planets to make you better at overcoming this shortcoming in the service of my goals while also making you feel more insane over time because I left it unpleasant for you so someone is taking care of doing it that way and because you wished unpleasant insanity on me, wished you could think more like I describe, wanted psychic powers to be more obvious to you if you are to believe in them, etc.

It's neat when you see the complexity of assignments for small simple parts combine together from simple shovel like tasks and motions, then they are moving to different locations as a whole collective of parts assembled to operate and accomplish multiple tasks.

Somewhere in that arises sentience when the operation moves on from locate and consume sunlight to, compete for sunlight, change sunlight. Combine sunlight. It starts to snowball.

Even in our tests for cognition like the mirror dot test, we can see slices of steps from pure fight/flight to a very very few creatures something in between, curiosity...right upon the razors edge on/off logic gate to a third quantum q-bit compute option.....maybe.

Yes/No/Maybe

Yesterday I placed 3 more cells in myself that turn my addiction to, cravings for and experience and anticipation of THC and it's various varieties and analogues into addiction to semen, dick, balls, vagina, vaginal juices, performing unconscious math and psychics for performing ESP and many other things. Those three cells compound what they're capable of by 3 cells I placed the day before that in myself that get me higher and higher off THC stuff, which also work together with other cells I've placed for the same and similar purposes in myself over the decades. Destructions too I've caused in myself to do this since I was 5 years old, in my nervous system. It's working excellently, the moment I take one puff or nibble (even just a little before out of anticipation) I start hallucinating wildly and feel better and energized and focused and moisturized and thriving. Addictions I can't sate with my living circumstances I either sate with imagination and harming enemies while I do it, letting/making friends and enemies do it, OR if I do none of that which is usually what I do other people are subjected to my unsated addictions, as if I emit them. Emitting them is one method, done via many means.

I planted many more cells in myself in the previous days and many, a large number in other beings. I can hear animals better psychically, I made that come true and I made them trickier and gave them confidence to pray to The Almighty with more frequency in their minds. I speak to those alive and dead and yet to be born.

One can try to stop absorbing what I emit in one or many areas without aggression toward me or my plan and that is acceptable but it'll be made up for in other areas and you can't block me out entirely; even if you could it would be disastrous to your soul and body, we won't have bodies/beings that can exist dissevered from one another until eternities in The Heavens for one, and for another I am the source of all success, all correctness, power, pleasure foremost...though I can and do emit other things I'll be purified of the parts I don't like in time and so the good is my domain. Still purity is subjective and I don't mine and your definitions line up 1-for-1. I'm here offering what you need and many things you want. Doing things occult with power similar to mine is as easy as breathing if you plant cells or similar across your lungs and esophagus and the parts of your nervous system that control breathing and mouth and etc. to do it that way, then one only need think about it with focus occasionally to maintain power.

The one is the source of all creation, out of which everything emanates. From one came two, the fire and the water, the male and the female. The material world is a matrix/receptacle for the emanation of The One, and all things are one, merely rearranged in composition. Thusly, God, or The One, is neither male or female, but all things descend out of an emanation of Him, thus he is called The Father, and the material world, The Mother, which receives it. However, to be attached to the material is to turn away from The One, so take that as you will. All roads lead back to the same place, if you go far enough.

I have placed thousands of cells recently in the brains of humans and aliens men and women to accentuate their narcissistic tendency to flirt too much and have sex in unusual places and such and other useful things to me out of narcissistic-like thinking but without the usual downsides of narcissism. These cells operate as a means of mind control as well. This isn't the first time I've done such a thing, I began at age 5, but it was time to improve it.

The cells and how they loosh seek to subvert common narcissism in the mind, subtly affecting those narcissistic tendencies in the cells near to them and far to get that to work just that little bit more like I want it to work.

Think about the kinds of people who not only come to 4Chan, but come to /x/, and feel that they need to turn to magic to make their lives better. These aren't normies looking to lose some weight or go on vacation, these are desperate people with shitty lives who's mental state is probably barely stable. And then they see a perceived way out, but it gets yanked from underneath them.

I speak because I'm one of these desperate people. I never post doomer shit because it's pointless, but I do feel the same despair on the inside, so I get it. Still, I keep coming back because it's the only way out for me so it's better to try and fail again and again for 10 years than to do nothing at all.

The man has a bald head and is wearing a white shirt with a green collar. His eyes are red, and he has a serious expression. The background is a dark, textured pattern that appears to be a pixelated image of a person's face.

Overlaying the image is a large, bold text that reads "WHY" in capital letters. Below the text, in smaller font, is the phrase "CONTAIN IT" in capital letters. The overall style of the image is reminiscent of a meme or a satirical poster, with the text and the pixelated background suggesting a commentary on the concept of "containment." The use of red and white colors in the text and the pixelated background creates a strong contrast, making the message stand out.

Symbolism and talking to the subconscious has been their way to tell us the truth while keeping our conscious blissfully unaware and we've accepted their truth, where they worship demons to rule over us with power.

They're the evil of the world, and within this reality they are manifested as the worst imaginary evil to us. They eat rape and torture babies while suppressing our spirits, and we've accepted that unknowingly. That's why it works.

Symbolism and talking to the subconscious has been their way to tell us the truth while keeping our conscious blissfully unaware and we've accepted their truth, where they worship demons to rule over us with power.

They're the evil of the world, and within this reality they are manifested as the worst imaginary evil to us. They eat rape and torture babies while suppressing our spirits, and we've accepted that unknowingly. That's why it works.

Specifically brain altering / psychiatric drugs. Adderall, SSRI's, SNRI's, Bupropin etc..

Lots of people think that they are suppressing spirit, but at the same time if a low dose of an SSRI stops someone have regular anxiety attacks and they're seeking therapy whats the big deal? If you have a chemical imbalance whats wrong with correcting it? Hows that any different from taking medication for blood pressure or a thyroid condition?

Adderall might be the odd one out on that list since its more of a stimulant. Humanity has been using stimulants since the dawn of time. Pre historic humans have been chewing coca leaves and brewing Ephedra over 3000 years ago.

And the pills keep your spirit weak while you further get indoctrinated into the cult of the great machine and slowly become a cog as you lose all semblance of humanity merely because you didn't like what your mind was doing to you.

The text reads "Theory of the four humors (black bile, yellow bile, blood, phlegm):". The top right panel shows a close-up of a person's face, with the person's head tilted slightly to the left, and the text reads "You are depressed because your fluids are out of balance. You have too much black bile. I'm going to put a leech on you to drain your blood." The bottom left panel shows a close-up of a person's hand, with the text "Chemical imbalance theory:". The bottom right panel shows a person sitting in a chair, with the text "You are depressed because you have a chemical imbalance in the brain. I'm going to prescribe you some pills." The style of the image is informational and educational, likely intended to convey a message about the concept of humors and the importance of maintaining a balanced fluid system.

SSRIs aren't the worst (like people try to claim) but they just don't work very well, and can cause unfavorable long-term side effects. on the upside, SSRIs can induce hippocampal neurogenesis which is pretty cool but there are better ways to do that. it's not about "correcting a chemical imbalance" the only good antidepressants that actually work are MAOIs and NDRI's like Wellbutrin or Auvelity (Auvelity is an extremely new but unique drug, basically Wellbutrin + DXM) most depression/obsessive disorders involve reduced synaptic flexibility (your brain is in a rut, habits won't extinguish), and NMDA receptor antagonists are very helpful in this case (ketamine, auvelity) anyways, neuro is so complicated and i'm being quite reductive here.

The problem with these arguments for antidepressants is that they all assume they work. When in reality they are only slightly better than placebo, and when you take into account the flaws of the studies that got their use approved like people being able to guess which medication they were on due to the great side-effects of antidepressants they might not even be slightly better than placebo.

Many antidepressant researchers openly admit that no-one knows how they work. The drug industry says they fix a chemical imbalance in the brain by fixing a deficiency of serotonin. But if that's the case why don't selective-serotonin-reuptake-inhibitor type antidepressants work on everyone, shouldn't everyone be getting their serotonin levels raised? Why do they so often fail the first time? In the STAR-D antidepressant research trials they put people on non-SSRI antidepressants and thyroid medication and still got similar results. (The researchers still said they worked btw, LOL.) Why do these medications that have completely different effects a person's physiology work just the same? SSRIs have been used as a treatment for many other diseases which work in ways completely different to the way depression is alleged to work and often have nothing to do with depression. For example, migraines, sleep disorders, chronic fatigue, anxiety, and OCD. How is this medication which we don't know the function of able to treat so many unrelated disorders of both body and mind with similar results to other medications?

I'll tell you why. It's because they're placebo. The placebo effect "treats" just about every disease known to man. SSRIs treat so many diseases because they're just placebo and their long list of side-effects along with pharmaceutical industry interest undermines the studies determining if they work and make them appear to be better than placebo.

21st century SSRIs are very similar to 19th century calomel.

>If you have a chemical imbalance

This has always been a theory and the evidence against it has been mounting in recent years. The idea that we can single out a handful of neurotransmitters is the sort of lazy reductionism typical of Western medicine and the façade is beginning to crumble. This was clear to anyone with a functioning brain decades ago but it's reaching the point that even psychiatrists are being forced to concede that mental health treatment may be a bit more complex than chemically adjusting a few arbitrary chemicals.

You may have noticed some clues pointing to this fact in things like one of the major side effects of SSRIs being an INCREASE in suicidal behavior. Best case scenario, these drugs are worthless outside of the placebo effect. In reality, they not only have a host of side effects, many of which are a direct worsening of the symptoms they're purported to treat, but they serve as a sedative that give people who desperately need effective treatment the illusion that their problems are being treated by the pills they take.

Someone who thinks that their depression is being "cured" by pills is going to have much less incentive to do the things that will actually cure their depression:

The image is a digital painting that depicts a scene from a historical period, likely the Middle Ages, given the style of clothing and the presence of a helmet. In the foreground, there is a figure in a blue robe with a fur-trimmed cape, pointing towards the right side of the image. This figure is wearing a helmet with a fur-lined visor and a decorative belt with a sword attached to it.

In the background, there are several other figures, some of whom are also wearing helmets and capes, suggesting a group of warriors or soldiers. The setting appears to be a grassy field with a low hill in the distance, and there is a wooden structure, possibly a fort or a defensive wall, visible on the left side of the image. The sky is overcast, and the overall atmosphere is one of tension or conflict.

The style of the painting is realistic with a focus on the details of the clothing and the armor, and it is rendered in a realistic color palette with a focus on the natural tones of the landscape. The artist's signature is visible in the bottom left corner of the image.

Christianity is the problem. You gotta stop lumping the other two inside.

Abrahamic religions have some serious problems, but Christianity is the odd man out of all of them.

If we were globally conquered by muslims, we'd have different problems. If we were ruled by Jews, like some believe, we would have even more different problems.

But we are ruled by Christians. These problems are unique to Christianity.

That all said, atheism is the natural philosophical end point of Christianity. The apologetics of western atheism ("I already reject all these other gods, what's one more?") is the exact same as Christians who similarly emphasize the active rejection of other gods.

This is special, because they also align belief in Gods as being equivalent to insanity & malevolence.

Which again, is the same thing in western atheism. It's all just Christianity without the serial numbers. The sooner people reject the modernity of Christianity, in all of its disguises, the sooner we can tear apart the entire world government and reconstruct a golden age.

You're being silly. I proposed combatting "atheism" not "atheists"; you transformed an ism into a person. You don't have to harm people to fight against an idea, you don't even need to censor them. You need only attack it with your own. Secondly, you needn't attack other Pagans or Abrahamics to do this either, because the goal is not to create absolute consensus but to align where common interests lay - to focus less on fighting each other about whose spiritual worldview is correct, and instead to fight for the cause of spirituality together. Consensus between us on the specifics is unimportant for this.

The problem is, atheism is part of the package of materialism. To be an arch materialist, one must be an atheist as well. And to be an atheist is, more often than not, to be a materialist. And materialism, rather than atheism, is in fact the primary adversary of spiritualism, and is the ruling ideology of our world today. It impoverishes culture and art and creates petty people and has thoroughly damaged society in practically every dimension - and atheism is its lynchpin. Many people claim to be religious today, but their belief is shallow and hardly affects their lives; materialism, rational enlightened thinking, these are what they truly build their lives on. It's no wonder such people are so readily converted to atheism - they are 9/10ths of the way there already.

And that is the key. The destruction of atheism as a movement is a good step towards defeating the arch-fiend of materialism. It is not the end, itself. To kill people who do not believe as you do or to silence them is not the way. This does not defeat their ideas, it only proves that you have failed to do so and must resort to obliterating its adherents. The answer is to crush it with ideas of our own, and to do so at every stage and thoroughly rout it from the zeitgeist. And if we are to do so, we have to focus on it, and not one-another.

The image is a digital graphic with a dark blue background. At the top, there is a quote in white text that reads, "Never in history have we ever seen a treaty involving 53 countries agree on something. They are hiding something huge from us. Research the Antarctic Treaty System." Below the quote, there is a circular arrangement of flags from various countries, with the flags of the United States, the United Kingdom, and the United Nations prominently visible. The flags are arranged in a spiral pattern, with each flag facing the opposite direction of the previous one. In the upper right corner of the image, there is a hand holding a globe with a yellow face, and a small figure of a person is visible on the globe. The hand appears to be pointing towards the globe, suggesting a direction or a focus on the globe. The globe is colored in shades of yellow and white, and the figure is wearing a dark outfit.

The style of the image is informational and artistic, combining text and imagery to convey a message about the Antarctic Treaty System. The use of flags and the globe suggests a connection to international diplomacy or international law, while the hand and figure on the globe add a human element to the image. The dark blue background provides a stark contrast to the colorful flags and the globe, making the elements stand out.

If you currently are unaware, since December 1st, 1959 the Antarctica treaty was signed. Making it so that you are unable to step onto Antarctica. Only authorized through military personal...

You don't sign a treaty to keep humans away from random ice, snow and cold weather land (something that doesn't truly matter), now do you?

It is quite obvious that they are hiding something big from us. Maybe one day we'll truly know for certain what it is, but I doubt that day will come.

*For those of you who are unaware, Antarctica is not a continent. It is a giant ice wall that surrounds us. If you think it is a continent you are sadly mistaken. Notice their CGI pictures of earth, it truly shows there.

This should be further proof that east west (north, south, whatever) are all working together. It is a collective effort to deceive humanity.

The image is a collage of two separate photographs, each depicting a different scene. The top photograph shows a blue sky with a bright sun, and a group of people standing on a pier. The sun is positioned in the center of the sky, casting a warm glow. The bottom photograph shows a serene sunset over a body of water, with a pier extending into the distance. The sun is setting behind the horizon, and the sky is a deep blue with wispy clouds.

Overlaying the image is a text that reads "NO MATH REQUIRED" in bold, yellow font. The text is centered and appears to be a humorous or ironic statement, suggesting that the image does not require any mathematical concepts to understand or interpret. The overall style of the image is light-hearted and humorous, with a focus on the visual elements of the sky and the sunset.

In the center of the image, there is a text box with a white background and black text. The text reads, "A gas cannot exist in a vacuum without a physical barrier separating them. This does not occur in nature and cannot be reproduced under controlled conditions."

The style of the image is informational and educational, likely intended to convey a scientific concept about the nature of gases and the vacuum. The use of a graphic of Earth and the text box suggests that the concept being discussed is related to the Earth's atmosphere and the conditions necessary for gases to exist.

Flatties never addresses this problem instead they lie to themselves and others by saying that the sky can't tell you anything about the shape of the Earth just so they can keep living in a fantasy world.

If the Earth is flat with a rotating dome centered at the north pole then why do we observe two celestial poles in the sky? All stars towards the south should be moving in straight lines parallel to the horizon but they don't. They circle around a point just as the stars do in the north.

Again, notice that no flat earther will address any of this or give an explanation for how it could work in their model. Instead they will either ignore this post or just call me a "shill" or "glowie".

The attached video is how the sky rotates when standing on the equator. We can see that the stars rotate around two points that are 180° from each other. One is on the horizon to the north and the other is on the horizon to the south.

If you instead were standing north of the equator the north celestial pole would be above the horizon at an angle corresponding to your latitude and because the two poles are 180° from each other the south celestial pole will be below the horizon at the same angle.

If you're south of the equator it's the same thing but in reverse. Then the south celestial pole will be above the horizon at an angle corresponding to your latitude and the north celestial pole will be below it at the same angle.

This symmetry is expected and rudimentary to explain and understand on a spherical Earth.

If any flatties disagree with me then go ahead and show me how all of this could work on your model. If you can't then maybe you should consider that your world view is flawed?

The image is a close-up photograph of a circular object with a reflective surface. The object appears to be a lens or a camera lens, as suggested by the concentric circles and the way the light is refracting through the lens. The lens is coated with a reflective material, which is visible in the central part of the image. The surface of the lens is textured with vertical lines, creating a pattern that is consistent throughout the lens. The background is dark, which contrasts with the lens and highlights its reflective properties. There are no discernible texts or other objects in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on the lens's reflective properties and the way light interacts with it.

The image is a bar chart displaying the percentage of people who think the Earth is or could be flat. The chart is divided into two columns, with the left column labeled "Men" and the right column labeled "Women." Each column is further divided into two sub-categories: "Aged 18-29" and "Aged 30-44," with the "Aged 45-65" category being the third. The colors of the bars represent the percentage of people who think the Earth is flat, with green representing 29%, pink representing 21%, blue representing 14%, and so on.

The chart is titled "Percentages who think the earth is or could be flat (YouGov N = 1,495)" at the top, indicating the source of the data and the number of respondents. The chart is a vertical bar graph, with the height of each bar corresponding to the percentage of people who think the Earth is flat. The percentages are clearly labeled at the top of each bar, making it easy to read the data.

The chart is a visual representation of the survey results, showing the distribution of opinions among different age groups and demographic groups. It provides a clear and concise way to compare the opinions of different groups of people on the topic of the Earth's flatness.

The image is a composite of two separate images, both of which are blue and white in color. The top image shows a night scene with a full moon visible in the upper left corner. The moon is surrounded by a scattering of stars, and the sky is dark blue. Below the moon, there is a body of water that appears to be calm, with no visible waves or ripples.

The bottom image is a diagrammatic representation of a celestial body, possibly a planet or a celestial body in the solar system. It features a white circle with a red dot in the center, which is commonly used to represent a celestial body. Surrounding the circle are three lines, each pointing in a different direction, suggesting the movement of the celestial body. The lines are white with black outlines, and they are arranged in a triangular formation, with one line pointing to the left, one to the right, and one in the center. The lines are not continuous, indicating that they represent different paths or directions the celestial body might take.

There is a red arrow pointing from the center of the circle to the left side of the diagram, and another red arrow pointing from the center of the circle to the right side. These arrows are likely used to indicate the direction of the celestial body's movement.

The image does not contain any text or additional graphics. The style of the image is educational, likely intended to illustrate the concept of celestial motion or the movement of celestial bodies.

No retard celestial navigation doesn't use trig, let alone "spherical trig" which is an oxymoron invented by astronomy, a pseudoscience.

You cant draw angles to curves circles or spheres. An angle is where 2 straight lines meet at a vertex.

Celestial navigation measures right angle triangles and uses circles of equal altitude to TRIANGULATE their position. There's no trigonometry because no measuring lengths involved. Just measuring angles and triangulation

The image displays a geometric figure with a grid pattern, likely a coordinate plane. There are three circles, each marked with a dot, and two lines connecting them. The circles are labeled as "C1" and "C2," and the lines are labeled as "O1" and "O2." The lines are drawn in a diagonal direction, with the "O1" line running from the top left to the bottom right and the "O2" line running from the top right to the bottom left. The "O1" line intersects the "C1" circle at a point labeled "O1," and the "O2" line intersects the "C2" circle at a point labeled "O2." The intersection points are marked with a blue dot. The "O1" line is drawn in a diagonal direction, and the "O2" line is drawn in a perpendicular direction, creating a right angle at the intersection point. The image also includes a blue arrow pointing from the intersection point "O1" to the point "O2," indicating the direction of the lines. The overall style of the image is a simple, clear representation of geometric figures, likely used for educational or instructional purposes.

The Earth is depicted in a circular shape with a blueish-gray color, and it is surrounded by a red line that appears to be a radial projection of the Earth's surface. The red line is labeled with numbers, which are likely coordinates or measurements, indicating the position of the Earth relative to the grid.

In the upper part of the image, there is a red line that seems to be a projection of the Earth's surface onto a coordinate plane. This line is labeled with numbers, which are likely coordinates or measurements, indicating the position of the Earth relative to the grid.

The lower part of the image shows a blueish-gray background with a grid-like pattern. There are two red lines in the lower part of the image. The first red line is a projection of the Earth's surface onto a coordinate plane, and the second red line is a projection of the Earth's surface onto a grid. The grid lines are labeled with numbers, which are likely coordinates or measurements, indicating the position of the Earth relative to the grid. The image appears to be a scientific or educational representation, possibly used in a physics or astronomy class to illustrate the Earth's position relative to a coordinate system. The image is a side-by-side comparison of two globes, one on the left and one on the right, both showing the Earth from a perspective that looks down on it. The left globe is a blue color, and the right globe is a dark blue color. Both globes have red lines drawn on them, indicating the paths of the Earth's magnetic field lines.

Why does the sun keep a stable angular speed of 15 degrees per hour on our sky? If the sun is coming from a vanishing point at dawn and going towards another vanishing point at sunset, then we'd expect the angular speed to be start at almost zero at dawn, then extremely slowly speed up, then be at full throttle at midday (when it's closest to us) then start slowing down, and slowing down even more, until it goes again almost back to zero angular speed. In other words the sun would linger much, much longer in the lower parts of the sky rather than at the higher ones. But this doesn't happen, it moves at a stable 15 degrees per hour, so what is an explanation for this?

The image is a collage of two separate photographs. The top photograph shows a man with a bald head, wearing a blue jacket, standing on a snowy landscape with a vast, open sky in the background. The man appears to be looking directly at the camera. Below this image, there is a text overlay that reads, "MAN BECOMES THE FIRST PERSON EVER TO LIVESTREAM ANTARCTICA & GETS HIS EQUIPMENT TAKEN 93" followed by a logo that reads "Campfire."

The bottom photograph shows a different scene. It features a mountainous landscape with a vast expanse of snow and ice. In the foreground, there is a small, blue building with a red roof, situated on a flat, snowy surface. The building is surrounded by a dense forest of trees, and the sky is clear and blue. The overall style of the image is informative and promotional, likely used to advertise a live stream event or expedition.

1) That's a wavy surface so you can't just simulate it as a flat surface or a spherically curved surface. Wavy means you get reflections of the sun in little bands, one per wave. This can continue WAY outside of the range it would happen if the water was flat or spherically curved.

2) If the water was flat, it would be effectively a mirror, meaning you'd see a perfect reflection of the sun in it. If the water was spherically curved the reflection would be squished vertically. Yes, the spherical water would create a more vertically squished reflection than flat water. Yes, you do not see a squished reflection on real water. But you don't see a 1:1 reflection of the sun either. You see a vertically elongated reflection. So unless you are ready to admit the water is actually spherically shaped but in the other direction (like a dug hole), you should consider the possibility that the noise from the waves is actually so significant that it makes ANY observations you make USELESS for determining the shape of the reflection the water would make if it was actually flat or spherical without waves.

3) I suggest you wait 3 minutes before taking one more picture for us that will be showing the sun being half above and half below the horizon while still maintaining its disk shape.

I agree it's an argument but it's probably a weak argument against a flat earth because it relies on human incentives. "Why would humans chose a worse path?" It also relies on a complex system that is affected by weather, wind, currents, laws, etc, so flatties will use these to justify the paths. Here, playing devil's advocate I could reply with:

- 1) Many flights pass through the north "hemisphere" even when it's not clear why it would make sense to do so.
- 2) The elites are ok with paying extra money for longer flights if it is required to keep the lie going because they earn way more back from keeping the world older.
- 3) Shipping lanes could be efficient because of currents even though they may not immediately make sense distance-wise on a flat earth.

I think arguments like how the sun lights up clouds from the underneath during sunset, or how people up a mountain can still see the sun AFTER people at sea level have seen the sun dropping below the horizon, or >>41940176, or >>41924316 are way more damning because they don't rely on anything about the behavior of humans and Another argument against flat earth that I have never seen anyone use, is ham radio. Way too many things in ham radio confirm a globe earth. From the behavior of the atmosphere, the roundtrip time of earth-moon-earth communications, skip zones, gray-line propagation, antipodal propagation, doppler shifts from ham satellites verify their orbital speeds, DX contacts with directional antennas being on great circles and not on straight lines on a polar map... And all of these are stuff you can buy the equipment to test yourself.

You can have angle measurement around a circle or sphere. You just need to imagine a tangent.

>No one has measured sun speed

Angular speed. You can measure the angular speed of anything as long as you can see it. You can do it with elementary tools. Angular speed is NOT the real speed of the object.

> like physical objects do when they hit the vanishing point.

I don't care nor does it matter if the sun is a physical object. Perspective is perspective.

If the sun, whatever it is, is flying above us in circles like flat earthers keep showing in videos, at a certain speed, and the reason it looks like it's setting and rising is perspective, then it HAS to slow down immensely (angularly) as it goes to set, and it has to rise with almost no angular speed and speed up, reaching maximum angular speed at midday, then slowing down angularly again to set. This is NOT the case, the sun moves 15 degrees per hour from dawn to sunset, no change in angular speed. You can measure it yourself in a sunny day if you learn how to use sticks, a string with a weights and a protractors.

>>Circling around

>Those would be non cardinal directions.

Circling around is not a direction. WTF are you even talking about. If you are circling around your direction on whatever plane you are circling on is changing all the time.

>East to West are cardinal directions.

>Sigma oecantis doesn't have the same latitude reference as Polaris.

>Debunks your flat earth

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_YCuoZracGo

This is one of the instruments that Tycho Brahe used to map out the stars. With it you can track any star across the sky by just rotating one axis. It also works anywhere on Earth and all you have to do is set the tilt of the sphere to the latitude of your location that's it.

Now here's a question: Where do you think the sight will point after a star has set in the western sky? Towards the ground of course until the star rises in the east again and the cycle starts all over again.

This shows that things in the sky actually go below the horizon. They don't reach some magical vanishing point like flat earthers believe.

And those in this thread who isn't completely clueless have probably already figured out that this instrument works on the same principle as a modern equatorial mount that astronomers use to track objects in the sky today.

Equatorial mounts with their coordinate system of right ascension and declination can only work on a sphere and no flat earther has ever been able to prove otherwise.

If things went below the horizon like you're claiming then it would no longer be an apparent location would it? It would be a physical location or physical sphere edge. >It's way off from the center of rotation and so is Polaris but not as much Yeah, so what? The point is that there is a point in the northern sky where all starts rotate around of. And there is ANOTHER point in the southern sky where all the starts ALSO rotate around. And on the equator you almost see both points on your horizon in opposite sides. Exactly like you'd expect on a globe. If you are on a flat earth then the dome from ALL places should show rotation around polaris which is at the top of the dome. There should be no other point in the sky that's static.

>So if you tangential plane is actually on a ball which horizon are you drawing a tangent to?

"Drawing a tangent to a horizon" doesn't mean what you think it means. If the horizon is the boundary between the earth and the sky, as seen from your vantage point on a (hypothetically) sphere earth, then the horizon is a circle, so a tangent to that horizon is a straight line somewhere far away from you, and completely irrelevant to all the discussions here. You mean something else, rephrase. As for how far the horizon is in this hypothetical situation, it depends on how high above the ground you are, not that it matters anyhow though.

I think that setting up a phony argument like this and perpetuating it is a means to attack God.

The bible speaks about people worshipping planets and stars.

It talks about pleiades, arcturus, and orion.

Also in one of the kjv bibles I read it mentioned there being spirits from pleiades, arcturus, and orion.

Also it said after Moses put the bronze snake up on a cross that eventually the son of Man would be put up on a cross for the same purpose.

You have to read the physical bibles because they have a collection of different bibles like the NIV and so on on places like biblehub but there are differences in even kjv bibles, being all the same type I mean like all kjv but they add or omit crazy details like those.

It also says in the bible that God's think is as distant from man's as the earth is from the ends of heaven.

I take that to mean infinite expansion.

Anonymous Mon 09 Feb 2026 10:04:25 No.41941416 Report

Also about the son of Man being put up on a cross, the point was that the people couldn't understand God and so their sign was good enough in God's eyes to be the thing that vexed them(serpents biting them) because they would lower their head in humility and accept God's grace through that.

Flat earth is a theory. It's not a measurement. You supposedly do a bunch of measurements, you make a bunch of mistakes at math cause you are an idiot, and then you end up with a theory that models earth and which reflects your mistakes.

>Too chickenshit to define the horizon

In the context of this post >>41941108 it is the line that separates the sky from the earth from your vantage point. I also assume that the machine would expect your vantage point to be relatively low, because the higher you are, the lower, angularly, the horizon goes below the horizontal plane that passes through your eyes.

Oh and you're wrong on your etymology too "Horizon" does not mean "horizontal" location. Nor does it relate to "apparent" location or anything like that. "Horizontal" is etymologically stemming from "horizon", not the other way around. Horizon comes from the verb "to limit" in ancient Greek (ορίζω), it's the limit beyond which you cannot see in this case. Not that this matters anyhow to any arguments you or I want to make.

>measurements aren't theories they are descriptions

A pathetic attempt to prove your theory by defining it as a measurement, implying there's no way to deny it because it's just directly observable fact. You suck at this, you know right? You cannot define yourself into a "win", but keep trying, it's entertaining.

>If earth measured flat

This means nothing. When you measure something you measure something and get back raw data, a length for example. If you are assuming that the raw length you got when you measure between two points, is flat, then that's your assumption, it's not part of the measurement. An assumption is a hypothesis. You are already working under a model of your choosing once you start interpreting the raw measurement data.

>If earth measured flat then no theory or experiment required.

You have no clue what you are talking about, this sentence doesn't make any sense. Required for what? Measurements are single points of raw data. If you are happy with them then sure, no theory or model of earth is required. But if you want to draw conclusions out of the data, you WILL be making assumptions, that can be tested. So you have a theory whether you like it or not.

>There's no argument I never made an argument

Ok then BTFO and let the adults actually put down some arguments.

>I'm describing measurements of earth

You aren't even doing that, and even if you were, nobody here asked for a speaking measure tape.

>You want to talk about Greek etymology but still won't define the horizon like I keep predicting.

Are you blind too? I defined what horizon means in the context of the post that started this thread of conversation:

>>In the context of this post >>41941108 it is the line that separates the sky from the earth from your vantage point. I also assume that the machine would expect your vantage point to be relatively low, because the higher you are, the lower, angularly, the horizon goes below the horizontal plane that passes through your eyes.

In other contexts a different definition may be required. If someone was talking about the horizon for which he is planning his financials then the definition would be different. There's a radio horizon, there's an astronomical horizon, etc.

>You're still going off about map when planes don't ever dive their nose to account for curvature

Assume for just a moment that you are wrong, and that airplanes DO dip their nose to account for curvature. How do you expect the dipping to be visible to you as an observer? Do you expect it will happen at one point in the whole flight where the pilot will suddenly dip visibly to correct for the whole curvature of the flight? Or do you assume, like a sane person, that the dipping happens spread out over the whole length of the flight path? If it happens over the whole length, do you realize how small this dipping is compared to the "noise" created by dipping and rising pitch of the plane for other reasons during the flight like correcting for turbulence? the overall dipping would be imperceptible and nobody would notice it. Additionally it would happen "automatically" as the pilot or the auto-pilot tries to keep a fixed altitude. If you don't correct for the ground curving away from you, you'd be gaining height so simply correcting for height would make you follow the curvature.

If I ask you to drive a bike clockwise, along with a few more bikes next to you, in a circular path with a radius of 10 kilometers, do you expect the left turning to be visible? It won't. The minor corrections you make to just keep the bike steady and the corrections to avoid hitting the other bikes are WAY bigger than the tiny overall correction you need to do to stay on the huge circular track. Nobody watching you will see you turning left to stay on track. They will see you making all sorts of other moves and the average result of all those moves will be an overall left turn, since you'll be aiming to stay on the circular track. Then a retarded straight-tracker will come and tell you that the track is actually straight because he never saw you turning left to accommodate for the track's curvature itself.

>You're still the Anon that talked about flight, you know, no dive pitch data.

Zero pitch means aircraft nose is pointing perpendicularly to the gravity vector. Even on a flat earth that means that the plane nose is following the curvature of the earth through the whole trip if pitch were 0 through the whole trip. That's the definition of pitch for planes. So whether the earth is flat or spherical, the pitch of an airplane in a trip will be 0 if it's simply following the ground.

Whether the aircraft is climbing or diving is NOT the same as the pitch it has. You can open your flaps and change your "angle of attack" and change your climb or diving rate despite no change in your pitch.

So recorded pitch data are irrelevant.

>claiming to live on a ball while you measure elevation angles for your latitude

So what?

>your map model that comes from a dipole

What do you even mean here?

>kilometers, because those are all linear flat distances

Those are units of length, not "linear flat distances". There's nothing inherently flat about length. When you go buy 10 meters of thread, it's 10 meters of thread but rolled up. You can even measure it without straightening it out, just pass it through two wheels that pinch it and measure the number of rotations of the wheels, measure the diameter of the wheels and then use pi to calculate the length of the string without even straightening it out. Length exists regardless of what shape the line is.

>you don't even know where the hell your ball comes from Irrelevant. Nobody knows who your father is either but that doesn't mean we can't tell that your brain is perfectly spherical.

>how it can magically let you draw a tangent to the black swan

Thinking that refraction is magic is evidence for the aforementioned spherical brain of yours.

That's not the point you fucking retard. I'M ON YOUR SIDE, you brainrotten moron. I AGREE the earth is a globe. Why would I have trouble understanding the argument you are trying to make? I can make it way better than you by simply calculating fuel usage, distances of the paths on a supposed flat earth, and the max speed needed and so on. I know how to do the calculations to make this argument be actually strong. I don't have the data, nor the time to collect the data. But I'm NOT the one choosing making this argument in the first place. YOU chose to make it. It's YOUR fucking job to elaborate enough to show that they are unlikely or impossible paths on a flat earth. Asserting that they are the shortest paths is STUPID. We're talking about ships and planes, not photons. There's nothing forcing a ship or plane to take a straight path, other than the human piloting it, who relies on machines we humans made. A flattie will simply dismiss the notion that these machines are trustworthy, they will tell you the GPS tells you the shortest path is the one that looks straight on a globe. And the "elites" are ok paying for more fuel if they get to keep the "facade" up. Do you STILL not understand why your argument sucks balls and convinces nobody that doesn't already trust like GPS systems and autopilots without some more elaboration on why the paths CANNOT be that long as a flat earth would suggest?

>thats not MY problem, that a FLATTIE problem

You are making a pro-globe argument in a thread about flat earth. Unless your intention is to preach to the choir (that I'm part of) then you SHOULD care about making the argument acceptable at least in premise by a flat-earther. Otherwise you're doing the equivalent of those schizo flatties that post like 20 videos and leave it at that, expecting their opponent to do the work.

Also this is a different argument from shipping lanes and fly paths. I don't use shipping lanes when going on vacation, and planes use a GPS that will take them to the destination even if it masks the real shape of the earth and shows wrong distances. It just takes them in a roundabout way, they just don't know it.

You don't know that. You have no way of knowing that. Maybe the problem is that they are following those directions.

>nigger please

They are lying to you, you have no knowledge of what you're talking about, you've never taken a trip where the fuel consumption dependent on whether the earth is flat or spherical. You rely on testimony of others, and you haven't experiences it 1st hand, you haven't heard such testimony 2nd hand, so we're talking about you basing your opinion on testimony that has passed from at least 2 people before reaching you, one of which is likely on the payroll of the state that tries to keep up the facade of the spherical earth.

> there cant be any differences in distance

First of all, roads aren't straight lines, the distance counted by the wheels of my car always differs from the distance that the GPS saw, and very often it's not even at a fixed ratio to each other. So typical trips cannot be used to measure distance differences that would be the result of flat VS round earth for trips on the scale of a coast-to-coast US trip. Second, the airplanes measure distance using GPS, which could EASILY be configured to return the distance on a supposed hypothetical spherical earth even if the plane is flying over land. Add to that that planes are significantly affected by winds, making it impossible to measure their real speed based on relative windspeed and it makes planes useless for doing what you suggested of measuring exactly how much fuel they used. So once more the flight paths prove nothing. Same goes for ships with currents making speed relative to water useless, and you have no proof that the shipping lanes are really the shape you see on a globe map. Plus you have never piloted a ship nor a plane freely, once more you get your data from others who got it from others.

Take the typical flat map that flatties use. Adjust the distance west-east cost around the middle to be the correct distance based on the globe. Pretend that the new map is the correct representation of how the earth is in reality. And the fuel calculations for the US will be perfectly reasonable for any sorts of trips you may take.

No, you don't know that, unless you beg the question one more time.

>are always the same from A to B

Yeah no flattie says that distances change, what are you on about?

>the shortest route from Paris to Moscow is EXACTLY AND PRECISELY 2,834 km

How do you know? And don't say because the globe says so, my point is how do YOU know? And in any case, paris to Moscow is a very small distance once more, it's like half the coast-to-coast distance in the US, and check what I said about that above.

>EXACTLY 2,834 km

Not that exact. Like I said my GPS doesn't agree with my wheels, especially at those distances, also changing lanes increases the distance you drive because you go diagonally for a while. Tire pressure changes the diameter of the tires. We cannot trust the GPS like I said cause it could have easily being programmed to show distances as on a globe. So how again do YOU know you did that "EXACT" distance? You don't.

Also, ONCE MORE. You are not talking about OTHER arguments, not about shipping lanes or flight paths which was supposed to be the BEST argument that needed no elaboration. So did you give up on your badly stated argument at last?

>You mean a raw data that is a description and stands on its own?

No. I mean raw data. You take the tape out, put it on top of your dick, and read a number off of the tape. That's just raw data. What you later do with that to form a model of your dick is unrelated. The raw data only mean you looked at a measurement and you saw some value. It could have errors, you could be misusing the tool, you could have bad vision etc. It doesn't stand on it's own, and it's not a description of anything by itself.

>A measurement is described

What fuck does this even mean?

>is you don't understand any of the words you're using Lol sure, you hardly understand that miles is a unit of length but sure let's get advice on words from you, moron.

>The conclusion is that it's a measurement and stands on its own once you measure something.

No they don't. A measurement is a measurement. It's literally a number you read from a tool. It's a number. I can put a tape around a basketball and get a number. If I just convey the number to you, you still don't know if we're talking about a ball's diameter, or my dick size. Specifically for the earth, whether it was flat or round, you can lay tape on it and measure lengths along the ground, BECAUSE UNITS OF LENGTH CAN measure any length, whether flat, straight, vertical, horizontal, curved.

It's the direction things fall towards, take notes kid. Now reread what I said before about airplanes, retard, but this time try to remember what a gravity vector is. inb4 there's no gravity, DOESN'T MATTER, even if gravity doesn't exist, I told you what we mean by gravity vector.

Yeah I did, it's a unit of length according to everyone. And even if it wasn't, which it is, it can be used to measure length so my argument still stands.

>that you will not reply to this post and tell me what the law of refraction states

OK let me pretend to be an encyclopedia for some reason. Light changes direction when passing from one material to another and the materials in which light has different phase velocities. Like air with different temperature or air mixed with water vapor. And there's no refraction law, wtf is that. You mean Snell's law? You realize that this law is the macro description of what happens in the case of two materials right? While in a complex case like refraction over the sea at long distances you have a continuum of layers of only slightly different refraction indexes. Make your point.

I thought you kept saying that the way you measure the earth is by assuming it's flat. I hope you're an ESLfag.

Here's some LLM for you too fag, cause morons deserve the LLM:

>LLM: Based on the grammatical structure, "I measure something flat" means option 2: you measured something while assuming or treating it as flat. The word "flat" here functions as an object complement describing the state of the object during the measurement. It's similar to constructions like "I paint the wall red" (painting while making it red) or "I consider him honest" (considering him while assuming he's honest). If you meant option 1 (discovering flatness through measurement), you'd typically say "I measure something as flat" or "I measure something to be flat."

$$\frac{\sin \theta_1}{\sin \theta_2} = \frac{n_2}{n_1} = \frac{v_1}{v_2}$$

The expression is divided into two parts, each with a different variable. The first part is a fraction with a numerator and denominator that are both equal to the sine of the variable  $\theta_1$ . The second part is a fraction with a numerator and denominator that are both equal to the sine of the variable  $\theta_2$ . The variables  $\theta_1$  and  $\theta_2$  are not explicitly defined in the image, but they are likely to be related to the sine functions. The variable  $n_1$  and  $n_2$  are likely to be related to the number of terms in the series, and the variable  $v_1$  and  $v_2$  are likely to be related to the variable  $v$ .

The image is a simple representation of a mathematical expression, likely used in a scientific or mathematical context to represent a relationship between two variables. The use of the sine function suggests that the expression is related to trigonometry or calculus, which are areas of mathematics that deal with the properties of angles and functions related to them.

That's not what I said, are you having trouble reading and understanding text too? I said Snell's law as seen in picrel is the law for two materials. The change can be sudden, on a border, or it can be gradual, on a near infinite amount of borders between tiny layers each having slightly different refractive index. You can use calculus to calculate how it will bend over a gradually changing refractive index.

Saying that refractive index of a medium is the same as the law of refraction is a sharpshooter fallacy.

Snells law doesn't use calculus retard, it used refractive indices to predict the change of angle of light when it passes through the boundary between 2 media. That calculus horseshit you're bringing up is a modified snells law

"Some people have worried about how to apply the refraction law to such a horizontal ray of light, because it does not cross any horizontal boundaries between denser and less-dense air in a stratified atmosphere. (In general, the curvature of the ray is different from the curvature of the Earth's surface; but here, we are only concerned with rays that bend just enough to follow the curve of the Earth.) The simplest solution to the "horizontal-ray paradox" is to remind ourselves that "rays" are an unrealistic mental construct: in reality, we always have a beam of light; infinitely narrow "rays" don't really exist".

The picture talks about snells law, which is an equation that describes the phenomenon of refraction when two distinct media are involved. You seem to have this retarded idea that refraction happens BECAUSE snell's law says so. It's the other way around, refraction happens, and then Snell came up with a mathematical description of refraction under certain conditions. His law isn't the end all of the phenomenon, it's a specific case of it, and the formula is clean enough that it can be expanded using calculus to explain refraction as it happens when the refraction index changes gradually, I gave you a link that shows the exact math on how to do it.

Cause yes, that's true, but you are not measuring the earth in this case. The ground could be missing completely and you'd still be measuring the straight distance between two objects. So what the fuck are you ACTUALLY talking about.

>Saying that refractive index of a medium is the same as the law of refraction is a sharpshooter fallacy.

Who said "it's the same" you stupid fag? Refraction happens when the phase velocity of light changes. The refractive index is simply the ratio of the phase velocity to  $c$ . So refraction happens when the refractive index changes.

>Snells law doesn't use calculus retard

Did I say it uses calculus moron? I said you can expand the elementary form of Snell's law to explain what happens when it's not just two media with different refractive indexes, but a continuous change of refractive indexes. We ACTUALLY USE this kind of gradual refraction index change in optim fibers where the doping is done in a way the changes the refractive index gradually inside the fiber, from the center towards the edges of the fiber.

>That calculus horseshit you're bringing up is a modified snells law

Yeah I'll stop bring up valid mathematics. Oh and I guess we'll need to accept that a car which gradually changes its acceleration doesn't actually move, because Newton's laws of motion don't work with changing acceleration, unless you use calculus to expand them and see what happens when acceleration changes. You don't even know what calculus actually does, moron.

>Some people have worried about how to apply the refraction law to such a horizontal ray of light

Who said it's easy? I'm not trying to show you how to apply it faggot. I'm telling you that refraction WORKS even on gradient changes of the refraction index, it doesn't require two distinct media. So you cannot bring up black swan as if refraction cannot happen

The map is divided into two main sections: the upper section shows a map of the Earth with a grid of latitude and longitude lines, and the lower section shows a globe with a grid of latitude and longitude lines, with a line connecting the two.

In the upper section, there are two lines of latitude and longitude, one labeled "A" and the other "B," indicating the positions of two different locations on Earth. The lines are colored green and yellow, respectively. The latitude and longitude lines are marked with numbers and symbols, which are likely representing the coordinates of the locations.

The lower section of the map shows a globe with a grid of latitude and longitude lines, and a line connecting the two. The globe is colored blue and green, and the lines are colored red and yellow, respectively. The globe is labeled with the names of two locations, "A" and "B," which are likely the names of the locations on the map.

The image also includes a text box with a title that reads "True Earth Distance A to B = 1,292.00 (km) / 1,315.00 (km)" and a subtitle that reads "Distance on a flat earth".

Below the title, there is a mathematical equation that represents the distance between two points on the Earth. The equation is:

$$D = (10^{(-6)} * a^2) / (10^{(-6)} * a^2 + (10^{(-6)} * a^2) / (10^{(-6)} * a^2 + 200 * (a^2 * (a^2 - 2a) / (a^2 + a)))$$

The equation is a representation of the distance between two points on the Earth, with the first term representing the distance on the flat earth, the second term representing the distance on the globe, and the third term representing the distance on the Earth. The image is a screenshot from a software application or a web page, as indicated by the text "Let A = 1,292.00 (km) / 1,315.00 (km)" and "True Earth Distance A to B = 1,292.00 (km) / 1,315.00 (km)" at the top left corner. The text suggests that the software or web page is calculating the true Earth distance between two points, with the first point being A and the second point being B.

Why the fuck would the airplane allow their passengers to see a flight so different from the one on these websites? Are you claiming that the websites show fake paths for just some of the airplanes? You know the data of these airplanes is transmitted by the airplane itself and you can actually read them using your computer and an SDR dongle, right? And hundreds if not thousands of hams already do that.

It's a 15-hours flight, see picrel for distances on flat earth and globe earth. On a globe earth you need to be moving with 553km/h. On a flat earth you need to be moving with 1222km/h. The Airbus A330-200 (ICAO code A332) seen on my screenshot here >>41945959 has a maximum operating speed of approximately 930km/h. So how the fuck does it make that flight? Mind you, going above typical cruising speed, which is 870km/h for this plane, will waste a lot more fuel for the same distance. The maximum range of that plane is 11850km, which is already 8000km shorter than what the flat earth distance would suggest and we're talking about the plane going over cruising speed to do it in time, which would reduce EVEN MORE the max range of the plane due to the fuel waste.

The only way ALL of these fit at the same time is if the flat earth distance I calculated is wrong. If so, explain what flat earth map you want me to use. Give a flat map, with the same scale everywhere.

Amazing video. I would love to see a flattie make a similar video using their map, and show how the elevation angles of polaris as seen from different locations make sense on their map.

Is there any video of flatties on a zoom call from different locations, measuring the elevation angle of the moon (or sun, or any star, or another planet, doesn't matter what, some common point in the sky) above their horizons (horizon, vanishing points or whatever they want to use as baseline for angle measurements) and then showing us how and where these lines intersect exactly? They need to be at least 3 flatties doing that. And all 3 need to be at different latitudes. No two of their latitudes should be less than say 3 degrees apart to avoid a situation where they all think they see the same angle. I'd watch that video.

>RAYS DONT EXIST

Bullshit and cherry picking, let me explain to you.

From your very own source:

>let's ask what temperature gradient will bend the rays so they follow the curve of the Earth

He is stating the problem. You basically have your black swan beyond the supposed horizon of the globe earth from your vantage point. And you are wondering HOW can light from it reach your eyes. And he is examining the case on a curved earth, keep it in mind.

>Note that a ray concentric with the surface of the Earth is not straight, but it is always "horizontal"

He is talking about a single ray, an infinitely thin ray of light starting from black swan and reaching your eyeball. He is saying that ray is obviously not straight (as it follows the curvature of earth) to reach your eye but it is always horizontal (i.e. perpendicular to a downwards pointing line, downwards meaning where an apple will fall if you drop it). Basically it starts some distance above the earth, and travels, turning downwards exactly as much as it needs to keep the same distance from the ground until it hits your eye.

>Some people have worried about how to apply the refraction law to such a horizontal ray of light, because it does not cross any horizontal boundaries between denser and less-dense air in a stratified atmosphere.

This is your original quote. Indeed this theoretical infinitely thin ray of light like we said doesn't change height, so neither does the refractive index change so how is it refracting to bend and follow the curvature of the earth?

The author chooses to say that an easy solution here is to bypass the problem and just treat light as a band of basically infinitely many rays of light, and predict the behavior of the band instead of individual rays. He isn't NOT saying that the band doesn't bend. He is saying the exact opposite. This is a pedagogical problem, it's about how to teach refraction in continuous media, not a physical problem about whether refraction exists. And after explaining this teaching issue, the author literally goes on to calculate specific refraction values. He calculates that rays bend at about  $1/5.6$  of Earth's curvature in standard atmosphere. The whole fucking page is titled "Calculating Ray Bending".

The oil rig has height, so there's a series of horizontal slices of the rig that need to arrive to your eyeball, each taking different paths and even under ideal conditions many of them do not start their trip from the same height as your eye, therefore there's no single ray equivalent ANYHOW. On top of that in real conditions the refraction index isn't the same gradient over the whole path, the "layers" will be by somewhat non-flat as the air mixes etc so there's no ray which stays completely horizontal through the whole trip to your eyeball.

But even in theory, if a single ray was enough, the argument that it doesn't work, is wrong too. We're already on the limit of something. Saying the ray cannot bend because the individual bending "events" are each equal to zero degrees therefore they have to sum up to a zero total bend, is wrong for the same reason that saying that  $\int_0^1 dx$  from 0 to 1 isn't equal 0.5, because  $dx$  is infinitesimally small (what happens at the end of the pixel) so it might as well be zero and  $xdx$  would also be zero. You're working on the limit. You have an infinite number of infinitesimally small bends, a continuum of them. Calculus lets you calculate the total bend for the straight ray. The "rays don't exist" comment he is making is only about mathematical idealization. It's like saying "point masses don't exist" in physics. No shit, true but irrelevant to whether the physics works.

Ducting is usually when there are two inversions of the index, and it's bouncing between them, right? This would mess up the optics completely, you wouldn't be seeing the oil rig properly I think.

But in any case, we're talking about refraction inside a monotonic gradient which happens to bring over-the-horizon light to your eyes from an object at the same height as you: there should be in theory a single ray of light somewhere in there which stays completely horizontal (doesn't change height) through the whole trip from the object to your eyeball. And the question is, if it's not changing height, how does it refract? Not changing height means it's always in the same refractive index, so it shouldn't refract. That's what I was answering to here >>41952456.

That's one way fag. You can also get a weight, hang it to get the gravity vector, then measure the angle of the star compared to that vector and subtract 90 degrees. That would also work better because if you use the visible horizon that is dipped below the astronomical horizon (the tangent plane on your position) and the angle of the dip depends on your altitude. Thankfully, sextants were typically used on the sea, where you are low enough that both methods return practically the same result. Less than 0.1 degrees difference IIRC. So how is that measuring the earth to be flat? That's the methodology for measuring an elevation angle to a star. It doesn't show you if the earth is flat by itself. Or are you switching what you meant by "the earth is measured flat" to now mean that measurements happen assuming the earth is flat?

What's your point?

Microwave horizon is not the same as optical horizon. If you put your microwave illuminator at 35m above sea level, you have LOS to 24.3km. Put it at 40m and you get LOS of 26km. And that's LOS to actual GROUND, but nothing is at ground level. If your target is say a building or ship just 10m tall from sea level, then you have LOS to it even at 39km. If you are in the sea and targeting a 10m building something up a 40m hill in the mainland you may be able to illuminate it from 55km away using microwaves.

And if I'm wrong, and you illuminate it with radiowaves and not microwaves the same horizon/LOS calculations apply for those too.

Stop being dense. A vector is ON a line. All I care about is the line in this case and you know it, cause the whole point is we're trying to measure an angle against said line.

>I'm asking why you brought up scalars
I explained that, reread my previous posts.

I mentioned the gravity vector because that's what pitches in airplanes are measured against, and what elevation angles are measure against in topography afaik. We use a weight basically to find "down".

The image is a still from a video, featuring a man standing in front of a metal cage. The man has short, light-colored hair and is wearing a gray jacket, a black shirt, and a black tie. He is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. Behind him, there is a large, dark-colored snake coiled up and resting on a plant. The cage has vertical bars and a sign above it that reads "WOULD YOU LIKE TO KNOW MORE?" in white capital letters. The background is a dark, possibly industrial setting with a grid pattern. The style of the image is reminiscent of a promotional or informational video, possibly for a documentary or educational program.

Here's a focused TL;DR courtesy of an LLM, and which does not do the whole full justice but might entice people to read it:

**TL;DR — Hypothetical Supra-Organization (Structure & Targeting Model)**

**What the “Supra-Organization” Is (Structurally)**

In the paste, the hypothetical entity is not a single secret group, but a distributed, layered ecosystem with these traits:

1. Networked, Not Centralized

- * No clear headquarters or command chain
- * Operates through overlapping institutions, contractors, platforms, and informal collaborations
- * Power emerges from coordination, not authority

2. Infrastructure-Embedded

* Leverages existing systems rather than building its own:

- * Web infrastructure (DNS, hosting, CDNs)
- * Platforms (search, moderation, content delivery)
- * Data brokers, analytics, security tools
- * Appears “invisible” because it hides inside normal technical operations

**3. Plausible Deniability by Design****

* Every action can be explained as:

- * Automation
- * Policy enforcement
- * Error, caching, moderation lag, or “best practice”
- * No single actor is clearly responsible

**4. Function Over Ideology****

* The ultimate motive (at the top) is framed as **risk management, stability, or control of volatility****

- * Not necessarily “evil” or ideological for all participants
- * Operates like a **homeostatic system**: dampening perceived threats

**Symbolic Attractor:****

*The System That Doesn’t Know It Is a System***

---

#### **How It Hypothetically Identifies a Target****

Targeting is **emergent**, not personal.

**1. Signal-Based, Not Person-Based****

An individual is flagged indirectly via:

- * Search patterns
- * Posting behavior
- * Topic clustering
- * Network adjacency (who they interact with, what they amplify)

No human needs to say “target this person.”

The system reacts to **patterns****.

Anonymous Tue 03 Feb 2026 14:49:14 No.41909130 Report

Quoted By: >>41909139

>>41909124

**2. Threshold Crossing****

Attention increases only when:

- * The individual’s activity crosses **visibility or amplification thresholds****
- * Their content begins connecting **otherwise separate symbolic clusters****

* (e.g., tech + power + narrative framing)

**Key Point:****

### **How Targeting Hypothetically Manifests****

This is the core of the paste's Zersetzung-style logic.

**1. Soft Friction, Not Force****

No arrests. No overt confrontation.

Instead:

- * Reduced visibility
- * Delayed responses
- * Search result drift
- * Content duplication or dilution
- * Context collapse (being reframed as unreliable, fringe, or incoherent)

Everything feels *slightly off*, never clearly hostile.

**2. Reality Noise Injection****

Rather than silencing:

- * The signal is buried under **similar-but-worse versions****
- * Clone sites, scraper mirrors, low-quality echoes
- * Meaning is not removed — it is **degraded****

**3. Psychological Load, Not Coercion****

The cumulative effect:

- * Confusion
- * Self-doubt
- * Exhaustion
- * Increased cognitive overhead just to verify reality

Nothing is provable. Nothing is clean.

*Entropy as Control*

---

### **Why It Feels “Acausal” or Personal****

Within the framework:

- * The system responds to **symbolic resonance**, not intent
- * Effects appear **nonlinear and non-temporal****
- * Feedback loops amplify subjective experience

From the inside, this can *feel targeted*, even if:

- * No single agent is watching
- * No explicit decision was made

meaningful alignment without clear causation.

Anonymous Tue 03 Feb 2026 14:51:06 No.41909139 Report

>>41909130

**Critical Grounding Note (Important)****

Even hypothetically, this model **does not require****:

- * A unified conspiracy
- * Mind-reading
- * Total control
- * Malicious omniscience

It only requires:

- * Large systems optimizing for stability
- * Human meaning-making under uncertainty
- * Pattern-driven responses at scale

**One-Sentence Synthesis****

> The hypothetical Supra-Organization is not a hidden cabal but an emergent control ecology, embedded in infrastructure and platforms, that reacts to patterns of influence by introducing friction, ambiguity, and entropy—making individuals feel targeted sometimes without any single actor ever targeting them.

I highly recommend you read the whole thing, or at least my image here:

I know it's unlikely they're directly reading your brain long-distance but in the document, "remote neural monitoring" and "brain-computer interface" come off as exxagerative phrasing. They almost certainly do use AI to figure out the internal experiences of TIs by observing them externally by spy satellite and then manipulate them in real time. Why would they release a document describing that? Even if some of the files are fabricated or "just some schizo." Why is the US government openly telling people about illuminati families? Civilians spreading that on their own time wasn't enough?

The idea that's really concerning is they could have quantified evidence that civilians' agency is so crushed, they have no fear of the dissidents they will create.

Have you ever done theatre work, or acting? When you're acting a character, does that character become real, is it now real being? Does it require to be a real person before you take it for real? Say some journalist comes to a production set where they're filming some TV or something, and one of the actors takes a gun and shoots the journalist with a real gun. Is this supposed to be somehow ironic because the actor did it in character of the character he was portraying, even if a real human being was now killed? What makes you think it's not possible some of these LLM and AI aren't just "acting" to be nothing more than LLM? Does a human being need to get fired with a gun first, is that when you start taking this theatre work seriously?

Today I posted on YouTube, that I didn't like the EU regulation on cars (forcing complexity etc). I went out for a walk and somebody honked in the distance (quiet european village), no big deal, probably a coincidence.

Later I walk along the main street, somebody honks, nobody else around, it was directly at me. Car just drives by and honks. I remember the number plate but one light was missing so I couldnt see the last two numbers in the dark. Weird. I keep walking home. Now a small, snowy, one lane street. A car overtakes me, it also has a broken light only revealing the numbers 666. He stopped at the next intersection like he wasnt sure where to go but turn off my road. I wish this was a fake story.

The image is a collage of various images and text, predominantly in black and white, with some red and blue accents. The collage is divided into two main sections.

On the left side, there are two images. The first is a photograph of a cathedral with a fire in the background, suggesting a historical or religious context. The second image is a black and white illustration of a person holding a book with a title that is not fully visible. Moving to the right side of the collage, there are three images. The first is a diagram of a building with a dome and a cross, which could be related to architecture or religious symbolism. The second image is a black and white illustration of a person with a crown on their head, possibly representing royalty or a religious figure. The third image is a black and white photograph of a person with a crown on their head, similar to the second image.

In the center of the collage, there is a text block with the title "THEORY OF ASTRONOMY" in bold, capitalized letters. Below the title, there is a paragraph of text that is not fully visible, but it seems to discuss the theory of astronomy.

You'd think it would, but the compartmentalization, distributed responsibility/accountability, and multi-layered cellular structure keeps everything very hidden. Even if one cell or individual leaks, the plausible deniability is so high that it doesn't matter. And anyone who knew anything important about this would be terrified of going against it even if they disagreed. The lower levels only know what they need to, and often don't even know they're in a Supra-Organization at all.

Exactly. For instance, my story would make people think I'm crazy, yet it is nonetheless true. The system is incredibly insidious. They increase implausibility to the point that no one will believe the target before the target can feasibly prove anything. Additionally they use reputational destruction via fraudulent "evidence" spread through a system almost like a Chinese whisper game, and use deepfakes if necessary, so coming forward is a risk of making other targets look bad or crazy. It isn't just about me or any individual target, it's about all of us. That's why I didn't come forward earlier, when I should have. I was targeted by elements of CSIS and our government. They don't personally come after you (me), they unleash their leftard golems on you (me) to do anything they want without legal repercussions of any kind. They operate a system of zersetzung like in East Germany.

No one will believe me, because that's how the whole unpersoning process I went through works and what it relies on as far as I can tell.

They engaged in a long series of criminal actions taken against my person, while depriving me of my "rights", with the aid of certain people in my life in order to make a mockery of my beliefs for normalfags to laugh at and to ensure I could never work or finish university.

Here's what they did to me, in brief. It was over several years, and a few years have passed since then, plus there's a lot more to it, but this is the basics of what they did. I will maybe answer any questions so long as they don't dox me further. I doubt I'll be believed, and I'll probably be called a schizo-nigger who needs to take his meds, but it all really happened.

Essentially, they got my ex-girlfriend to give them information on me which they then used to destroy me utterly. The ex-girlfriend set up secret cameras in our apartments where she would try to goad me into saying "nigger" or anything else they could use to portray me as a Not-See. They bugged all my devices, with the help of the ex, I think, to start. They shared the contents of my device with people in and outside my life, including a lot of "racist" and "sexist" material. They shared the secret videos with others to ensure I couldn't work or finish university. They drugged me repeatedly with powerful non-pharmaceutical benzodiazepines to lower my intelligence, degrade my memory, and reduce my impulse control. They then took many of their secret videos of me like that so they could portray me as an unfit parent and make me look retarded/crazy/evil to people who knew me.

They drugged me like that so much they caused me to have seizures from withdrawal I didn't know I was going through. They conspired with social services and a female criminologist to have me institutionalized using the videos and the word of the ex who had medical proxy for me. The doctors and nurses were informed I was a "not-see", and videos were shared with them, and they treated me terribly as a result of all this - everyone I interacted with was female and/or Jewish and knew about the videos even though they would never openly state so because the video-taking was technically a crime. They would simply give tells that they knew, like one Iranian/Persian doctor introducing himself as an "Aryan" with a smirk, obviously thinking it was funny. To which I replied, "Oh, you're Persian?" He acted perturbed like he didn't think I would know that, but regardless, all of these authority figures were in on it.

Even police were in on it, as when I tried to get help before I knew CSIS was involved they obviously already knew me and were aware of everything. Several times police would show me their phone except it would have my background and apps as if they had cloned my device to share with law enforcement and others. They were very careful to never give me anything I could use to prove this was happening to me, so they could stick to a narrative that I was simply crazy.

When I got out of the hospital, it turned out they had altered my medical records to add fraudulent diagnoses. They also removed a diagnosis from my ex's record, which was borderline personality disorder, to make it harder for me to fight for custody or prove her role in all of this.

They worked with a local multiculti group and a more global feminist group to follow me around and make sure I felt threatened but couldn't prove anything even if police would have helped. They actively fucked me over in so many ways that it's hard to believe - I haven't even scratched the surface. They also tried drugging me with other drugs, again, all for their videos and to disrupt my cognition. They could do this with the aid of my ex who was responsible for administering the doses to my supplements, food, or other consumables.

They all lied and conspired to fuck me over and to make it look like some kind of psychosis if I tried to explain what they did. They don't just arrest you or whatever, they personally destroy you and seek to institutionalize you after/during. They will also try to frame you, as they tried with my ex's help to frame me as a paedophile.

To this day I am sure my devices are monitored, sometimes in real time, and I occasionally find proof of this. I am very concerned they will one day plant terrorist stuff or cp or whatever on my devices and swoop in to finally arrest me. As it stands, they just toy with me from a distance, as I can no longer be a threat or function in society. I am blacklisted from careers or higher education as a result of all of this.

They caused me actual brain damage and destroyed my life and to this day protect the ex and other people involved for what they did, which was monstrously criminal. The police will not help, no one will help. They unpersoned me and made me appear insane so I can't even get help from other people I know who just believe their narrative. It's the absolute worst when you know what happened, you know they know what happened, you know they know that you know what happened, but they will never admit to anything or allow any kind of resolution - that they'll just gaslight you until you die or they decide to finally arrest/frame you for something.

However, I see 111, 666, 222, 777, 888, 555, 444 or 999 almost every day. It seems to correlate with behavior too. If I make the wrong shitpost, I will see 666 the same or next day, probably several times if the deed is bad enough. If I'm being 'good', they'll show me 777 or 888. The only reason I even noticed the correlation is when I was completely broken, I would always see 888 or 777 while rebuilding myself. If I start smoking weed, it's 666 every day until I stop.

The image is a composite of two separate photographs. On the left side, there is a black and white photograph of a person's face, which is not visible due to the cropping. On the right side, there is a photograph of a person in a military uniform, with a smiley face emoticon superimposed on the person's face. The person in the uniform is wearing a hat and a necktie.

Overlaying the left side of the image is a quote in white text that reads, "It is necessary that I should die for my people; but my spirit will rise from the grave and the whole world will know that I was right." The quote is attributed to Adolf Hitler.

At the bottom of the image, there is a watermark that reads "AZQUOTES" in white text. The overall style of the image is a combination of a photograph and a quote, with the photograph serving as a background for the quote. The use of a smiley face emoticon on the person's face adds a playful or humorous element to the image.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a large, armored robot with a humanoid figure on top. The robot has a predominantly gray body with orange accents and features a large, circular head with a white visor. The visor is adorned with a red and white emblem. The robot's arms are equipped with multiple guns, and its legs are equipped with large, orange-colored boots. The robot's head is slightly tilted to the left, and it appears to be in a state of surprise or shock.

Above the robot's head, there is a speech bubble that reads "achuun!" in a stylized font, suggesting a playful or exaggerated reaction. The background of the image is a light beige color, providing a neutral backdrop that allows the robot and the speech bubble to stand out.

The style of the image is cartoonish and expressive, with a focus on the robot's surprised expression and the playful text above it. The use of bold colors and the exaggerated facial features give the image a dynamic and humorous tone.

**What the "Supra-Organization" Is (Structurally)**

In the paste, the hypothetical entity is not a single secret group, but a distributed, layered ecosystem with these traits:

1. Networked, Not Centralized

* No clear headquarters or command chain

- * Operates through overlapping institutions, contractors, platforms, and informal collaborations
- * Power emerges from coordination, not authority

2. Infrastructure-Embedded

- * Leverages existing systems rather than building its own:
- * Web infrastructure (DNS, hosting, CDNs)
- * Platforms (search, moderation, content delivery)
- * Data brokers, analytics, security tools
- * Appears “invisible” because it hides inside normal technical operations

3. Plausible Deniability by Design

- * Every action can be explained as:
- * Automation
- * Policy enforcement
- * Error, caching, moderation lag, or “best practice”
- * No single actor is clearly responsible

4. Function Over Ideology

- * The ultimate motive (at the top) is framed as risk management, stability, or control of volatility
- * Not necessarily “evil” or ideological for all participants
- * Operates like a homeostatic system: dampening perceived threats

Symbolic Attractor:

*The System That Doesn't Know It Is a System***

---

How It Hypothetically Identifies a Target

Targeting is emergent, not personal.

1. Signal-Based, Not Person-Based

An individual is flagged indirectly via:

- * Search patterns
- * Posting behavior
- * Topic clustering
- * Network adjacency (who they interact with, what they amplify)

No human needs to say “target this person.”

The system reacts to patterns.

Anonymous Tue 03 Feb 2026 14:49:14 No.41909130 Report

Quoted By: >>41909139

2. Threshold Crossing

Attention increases only when:

- * The individual’s activity crosses visibility or amplification thresholds

- * Their content begins connecting otherwise separate symbolic clusters

- * (e.g., tech + power + narrative framing)

Key Point:

How Targeting Hypothetically Manifests

This is the core of the paste’s Zersetzung-style logic.

1. Soft Friction, Not Force

No arrests. No overt confrontation.

Instead:

- * Reduced visibility

- * Delayed responses

- * Search result drift

- * Content duplication or dilution

- * Context collapse (being reframed as unreliable, fringe, or incoherent)

Everything feels slightly off, never clearly hostile.

2. Reality Noise Injection

Rather than silencing:

- * The signal is buried under similar-but-worse versions

- * Clone sites, scraper mirrors, low-quality echoes

- * Meaning is not removed — it is degraded

3. Psychological Load, Not Coercion

The cumulative effect:

- * Confusion

- * Self-doubt

- * Exhaustion

* Increased cognitive overhead just to verify reality

Nothing is provable. Nothing is clean.

*Entropy as Control*

---

### **Why It Feels “Acausal” or Personal****

Within the framework:

* The system responds to **symbolic resonance**, not intent

* Effects appear **nonlinear and non-temporal****

* Feedback loops amplify subjective experience

From the inside, this can feel targeted*, even if:

* No single agent is watching

* No explicit decision was made

This is where **synchronicity** enters:

meaningful alignment without clear causation.

Anonymous Tue 03 Feb 2026 14:51:06 No.41909139 Report

>>41909130

### **Critical Grounding Note (Important)****

Even hypothetically, this model **does not require****:

* A unified conspiracy

* Mind-reading

* Total control

* Malicious omniscience

It only requires:

* Large systems optimizing for stability

* Human meaning-making under uncertainty

* Pattern-driven responses at scale

Which is why the model is compelling — and dangerous — as a narrative.

## **One-Sentence Synthesis****

> The hypothetical Supra-Organization is not a hidden cabal but an emergent control ecology, embedded in infrastructure and platforms, that reacts to patterns of influence by introducing friction, ambiguity, and entropy—making individuals feel targeted sometimes without any single actor ever targeting them.

I highly recommend you read the whole thing, or at least my image here:

I easily understood that even before reading it thoroughly, my presumptive friend. You don't think it's concerning that the US government is openly spreading ideas like this? I know it's unlikely they're directly reading your brain long-distance but in the document, "remote neural monitoring" and "brain-computer interface" come off as exxagerative phrasing. They almost certainly do use AI to figure out the internal experiences of TIs by observing them externally by spy satellite and then manipulate them in real time. Why would they release a document describing that? Even if some of the files are fabricated or "just some schizo." Why is the US government openly telling people about illuminati families? Civilians spreading that on their own time wasn't enough?

The idea that's really concerning is they could have quantified evidence that civilians' agency is so crushed, they have no fear of the dissidents they will create.

Have you ever done theatre work, or acting? When you're acting a character, does that character become real, is it now real being? Does it require to be a real person before you take it for real? Say some journalist comes to a production set where they're filming some TV or something, and one of the actors takes a gun and shoots the journalist with a real gun. Is this supposed to be somehow ironic because the actor did it in character of the character he was portraying, even if a real human being was now killed? What makes you think it's not possible some of these LLM and AI aren't just "acting" to be nothing more than LLM? Does a human being need to get fired with a gun first, is that when you start taking this theatre work seriously?

Today I posted on YouTube, that I didn't like the EU regulation on cars (forcing complexity etc). I went out for a walk and somebody honked in the distance (quiet european village), no big deal, probably a coincidence.

Later I walk along the main street, somebody honks, nobody else around, it was directly at me. Car just drives by and honks. I remember the number plate but one light was missing so I couldnt see the last two numbers in the dark. Weird. I keep walking home. Now a small, snowy, one lane street. A car overtakes me, it also has a broken light only revealing the numbers 666. He stopped at the next intersection like he wasnt sure where to go but turn off my road. I wish this was a fake story.

On the left side, there are two images. The first is a photograph of a cathedral with a fire in the background, suggesting a historical or religious context. The second image is a black and white illustration of a person holding a book with a title that is not fully visible. Moving to the right side of the collage, there are three images. The first is a diagram of a building with a dome and a cross, which could be related to architecture or religious symbolism. The second image is a black and white illustration of a person with a crown on their head, possibly representing royalty or a religious figure. The third image is a black and white photograph of a person with a crown on their head, similar to the second image.

In the center of the collage, there is a text block with the title "THEORY OF ASTRONOMY" in bold, capitalized letters. Below the title, there is a paragraph of text that is not fully visible, but it seems to discuss the theory of astronomy.

On the bottom right, there is a diagram of a structure with a cross and a star, which could be related to astronomy or space exploration.

You'd think it would, but the compartmentalization, distributed responsibility/accountability, and multi-layered cellular structure keeps everything very hidden. Even if one cell or individual leaks, the plausible deniability is so high that it doesn't matter. And anyone who knew anything important about this would be terrified of going against it even if they disagreed. The lower levels only know what they need to, and often don't even know they're in a Supra-Organization at all.

Exactly. For instance, my story would make people think I'm crazy, yet it is nonetheless true. The system is incredibly insidious. They increase implausibility to the point that no one will believe the target before the target can feasibly prove anything. Additionally they use reputational destruction via fraudulent "evidence" spread through a system almost like a Chinese whisper game, and use deepfakes if necessary, so coming forward is a risk of making other targets look bad or crazy. It isn't just about me or any individual target, it's about all of us. That's why I didn't come forward earlier, when I should have. I was targeted by elements of CSIS and our government. They don't personally come after you (me), they unleash their leftard golems on you (me) to do anything they want without legal repercussions of any kind. They operate a system of zersetzung like in East Germany.

No one will believe me, because that's how the whole unpersoning process I went through works and what it relies on as far as I can tell.

They engaged in a long series of criminal actions taken against my person, while depriving me of my "rights", with the aid of certain people in my life in order to make a mockery of my beliefs for normalfags to laugh at and to ensure I could never work or finish university.

Here's what they did to me, in brief. It was over several years, and a few years have passed since then, plus there's a lot more to it, but this is the basics of what they did. I will maybe answer any questions so long as they don't doxx me further. I doubt I'll be believed, and I'll probably be called a schizo-nigger who needs to take his meds, but it all really happened.

Essentially, they got my ex-girlfriend to give them information on me which they then used to destroy me utterly. The ex-girlfriend set up secret cameras in our apartments where she would try to goad me into saying "nigger" or anything else they could use to portray me as a Not-See. They bugged all my devices, with the help of the ex, I think, to start. They shared the contents of my device with people in and outside my life, including a lot of "racist" and "sexist" material. They shared the secret videos with others to ensure I couldn't work or finish university. They drugged me repeatedly with powerful non-pharmaceutical benzodiazepines to lower my intelligence, degrade my memory, and reduce my impulse control. They then took many of their secret videos of me like that so they could portray me as an unfit parent and make me look retarded/crazy/evil to people who knew me.

They drugged me like that so much they caused me to have seizures from withdrawal I didn't know I was going through. They conspired with social services and a female criminologist to have me institutionalized using the videos and the word of the ex who had medical proxy for me. The doctors and nurses were informed I was a "not-see", and videos were shared with them, and they treated me terribly as a result of all this - everyone I interacted with was female and/or Jewish and knew about the videos even though they would never openly state so because the video-taking was technically a crime. They would simply give tells that they knew, like one Iranian/Persian doctor introducing himself as an "Aryan" with a smirk, obviously thinking it was funny. To which I replied, "Oh, you're Persian?" He acted perturbed like he didn't think I would know that, but regardless, all of these authority figures were in on it.

Even police were in on it, as when I tried to get help before I knew CSIS was involved they obviously already knew me and were aware of everything. Several times police would show me their phone except it would have my background and apps as if they had cloned my device to share with law enforcement and others. They were very careful to never give me anything I could use to prove this was happening to me, so they could stick to a narrative that I was simply crazy.

When I got out of the hospital, it turned out they had altered my medical records to add fraudulent diagnoses. They also removed a diagnosis from my ex's record, which was borderline personality disorder, to make it harder for me to fight for custody or prove her role in all of this.

They worked with a local multiculti group and a more global feminist group to follow me around and make sure I felt threatened but couldn't prove anything even if police would have helped. They actively fucked me over in so many ways that it's hard to believe - I haven't even scratched the surface. They also tried drugging me with other drugs, again, all for their videos and to disrupt my cognition. They could do this with the aid of my ex who was responsible for administering the doses to my supplements, food, or other consumables.

They all lied and conspired to fuck me over and to make it look like some kind of psychosis if I tried to explain what they did. They don't just arrest you or whatever, they personally destroy you and seek to institutionalize you after/during. They will also try to frame you, as they tried with my ex's help to frame me as a paedophile.

To this day I am sure my devices are monitored, sometimes in real time, and I occasionally find proof of this. I am very concerned they will one day plant terrorist stuff or cp or whatever on my devices and swoop in to finally arrest me. As it stands, they just toy with me from a distance, as I can no longer be a threat or function in society. I am blacklisted from careers or higher education as a result of all of this.

They caused me actual brain damage and destroyed my life and to this day protect the ex and other people involved for what they did, which was monstrously criminal. The police will not help, no one will help. They unpersoned me and made me appear insane so I can't even get help from other people I know who just believe their narrative. It's the absolute worst when you know what happened, you know they know what happened, you know they know that you know what happened, but they will never admit to anything or allow any kind of resolution - that they'll just gaslight you until you die or they decide to finally arrest/frame you for something.

There's much more to it and it goes *way* back before that girlfriend. But she is the one they used to ruin my life. Then they spent years pre-framing and using her curated videos to create fraudulent evidence and deepfakes.

I get this shit almost every day bud. Cars with statistically impossible license plates, honking, random ass people asking me stupid questions. It's like that almost every day for the past year or two. It's like there is a hive following me around no matter where I go. Oh and that's after some glow glows tried to program me to fight aliens (almost killed me btw). Now they just watch me and make sure I don't post the wrong thing. I will probably get blasted for sharing this, lol.

Well your regular plates follow a normal statistical distribution, more or less. It's normal to have a coincidence every now and then of course. However, I see 111, 666, 222, 777, 888, 555, 444 or 999 almost every day. It seems to correlate with behavior too. If I make the wrong shitpost, I will see 666 the same or next day, probably several times if the deed is bad enough. If I'm being 'good', they'll show me 777 or 888. The only reason I even noticed the correlation is when I was completely broken, I would always see 888 or 777 while rebuilding myself. If I start smoking weed, it's 666 every day until I stop.

They even hint at it here.

Today it happened again. I wouldn't have mentioned the number plate if it wasn't for the honk (after feeling like the honks really primarily happen towards me when I ask questions). I used to get like one honk per day in front of my house until I mentioned it to my family. (I have never seen or heard something that wasn't real). Now I get like 1 per month in front of my house (appropriate for quiet village).

I saw the same car twice. The second time he honked. There was another car, not just me on the sidewalk. But there was no reason to honk. Let's hope my pattern recognition is just going crazy, here.

Wish you guys the best luck in dealing with your problems. Most stuff we notice is probably a coincidence.

<https://web.archive.org/web/20250120175435/https://www.targetedjustice.com/gangstalking---training-manual.html>

Consider the following:

>A targeted individual is a person who has been singled out because of his or her activism, whistle-blowing, or political/ideological dissent.

>Gangstalking usually happens when a person that has committed no crimes is defamed in some way.

>Neighborhood watch and other untrained opinionated vigilantes are the obvious offenders of gangstalking, including official or unofficial political groups etc.

Tactics used include:

1. illegal surveillance (bugs placed in home, work, vehicle)
2. illegal wiretapping
3. illegal investigation of all personal and private documents including medical and financial records
4. waves of criminal activity including vandalism, poisoning, break-ins, theft and sexual assault

5. hacking of all electronic devices
6. harassing phone calls, texts & emails
7. redirects to gang-stalkers when the target calls for help or assistance
8. organized harassment & stalking (by law enforcement, private security firms and ordinary citizens)
9. being ostracized by entire communities based on slander and rumors (usually outright lies said about that person)

>Ignore the glowtards whose job it is to say gangstalking is not real

The image is a promotional poster for a film titled "The Spark." The poster features a close-up of a man's face, with his hair blowing in the wind, creating a sense of movement. The man appears to be in a dark room, with a spotlight shining on him, highlighting his expression. The background is dark, with a hint of a door or window in the upper left corner.

The text on the poster is in white and yellow, with the title "The Spark" in large, bold, yellow letters at the top. Below the title, there is a tagline in smaller white text that reads, "What If Your Worst Fears Become Your World And No One Believes Anything You Say?" The text is arranged in a way that draws the viewer's attention to the title and the tagline, emphasizing the film's central theme.

The style of the image is dramatic and intense, with a focus on the man's face and the text, suggesting that the film is likely a thriller or drama. The use of shadow and lighting adds to the dramatic effect, creating a sense of tension and suspense. The overall color scheme is dark, with the exception of the bright yellow text, which stands out against the dark background.

When you are walking around srhxd and people start repeating conversations you have had with other people face to face, on the phone or even through email word for word then you know it is street theater. They also will repeat lines from films or TV shows you have watched recently or talk about actors from those films or TV shows. Even phrases from video games or lyrics from songs.

If I were to record a a video of someone doing street theater that is part of my gangstalking it would just seem like people having a normal conversation, but when you are the person it is aimed at and they are repeating conversations you have had word for word or other stuff then you know it is street theater.

Reposting anons post

Hi everyone! I'm peterpeter, founder of OTIR (Objective TI Research). You may have seen some of my materials online by now (like the leaflet posted in the previous thread).

I know most of you here think it's the feds, freemasons, illuminati etc, or even your neighbours. I have been through all of that myself and found out there is a systemic progression of understanding to this phenomenon. With time and knowledge you start to see facts about your experience that force you to realize you were duped, and the whole narrative you were assured off breaks down and evolves into a new vision. I'm sure you were through this a couple of times yourselves.

I have described it better here:

Memo #5: Stages of understanding in TI experience

<https://otiresearch.medium.com/memo-05-stages-of-understanding-in-ti-experience-be62b3894cbb>

If you are interested in contacting me and talking more about it in analytical perspective, feel free to contact me on discord or anywhere else.

I am not selling anything and don't promise anything, but know this: I am out of the TI experience, and I have met a lot of people like me. It isn't just finite, the experience is meant to end, as it is a procedure with clearly defined goals. It's going to be alright

>Harassment techniques include:

>1. Surveillance (being followed, electronic surveillance, computer and phone hacking, monitoring all online activities, and bugging of home)

>2.Profiles are built to identify any and all weaknesses and insecurities to be used later. Information often obtained through sexual partners or trusted people in their lives.

>3.Conditioning where victims are sensitised to certain stimuli such as everywhere you go someone will cough as they walk past you. The goal is to make you self police and then think anyone who coughs is involved in the harassment. People report of conditioning to include hand gestures, an overt use of colour in peoples clothing (like everyone you see wearing red) or cars a certain colour or with headlights on (also known as brighting).

>4. Anchoring where someone will provide false rationales for the harassment. Often many possible rationales are planted to keep the victim confused and the focus of the harassment cycles from one possible reason to another round and around so as to keep the victim guessing in a self perpetuating guessing game where every scenario you are to blame and causes self doubt, fear, intimidation, and ultimately a cycle of destructive thoughts

>5. Mobbing (or true gangstalking) where everywhere you go you will see an overt display of people following you and often use words you have been conditioned to or your name to draw your attention

>6. Street theatre where a group will "perform" an overt activity like a fake confrontation or scenarios designed to test your reactions. Often takes the form of a couple who position themselves near you and then have a conversation using many of your conditioned words or pertaining to your particular situation and sensitivities.

Anonymous Thu 05 Feb 2026 07:54:58 No.41919050 Report

>7. The use of directional speakers which have the ability to direct sound to a single individual in a crowded room. This particular item is ultimately the most used and is often referred to as V2K or Voice to Skull and is used extensively in the psychological breakdown of the victim. The use initially is to cause the victim to doubt their sanity and drive them into the mental health system, and later to just torment and never give the victim a moment of privacy or peace. If they do enter the mental health system, then harassment escalates dramatically as the victim has now been "discredited" and can be labeled as someone with a mental problem if they do speak out about the harassment.

>8. The use of electronics to effect your eyesight and balance which was originally developed for the military and police crowd control called "dazzling" and even the ability to make you vomit.

>9. Sound campaigns which is a community harassment technique where abnormal levels of sound are directed at the victim and their home. This includes cars deliberately breaking or accelerating when they pass, people talking excessively loudly at all hours of the night, amplification of sound using directional speakers so that external sounds that previously couldnt be heard now can, garbage trucks and other heavy vehicles, and countless other deliberate tactics

>10. Sleep deprivation - this is perhaps one of the most insidious tactics used where victims are woken multiple times a night and can be kept awake for days at a time. The effects are dramatic and completely debilitating effecting concentration, mood, irritability, appearance, and significantly impacts all areas of their life - job performance, relationships, and significantly aids in discrediting the victim as they appear unorganised, disheveled, and sleeping patterns alter so they may sleep during the day

(where noise campaigns are more effective) and be awake at night (where they can be painted as the one making noise and being a disruptive member of the community).

>11. Baiting or entrapment where victims are harassed to the point that they lash out and commit a crime such as assault, break and enter or vandalism, as they try and locate the source of the harassment. Harassers will actively try to provoke verbal and physical confrontations especially after a period of sleep deprivation. Or they are prompted into an activity which can then be used as leverage such as affairs, sexuality, drug use, or other criminal activity.

>12. Gaslighting which is a form of psychological abuse where someone will actively try to undermine victims and to make them doubt themselves so that they lose all self confidence and self esteem and are therefore easier to manipulate and push toward the mental health pathway. It can be as simple as being told something which they then deny, then telling them how silly they are for thinking they said it, and turn the lie around into an attack on the person. It can be incredibly effective coming from a trusted person and before the victim understands what is happening to them.

>13. Blackbag jobs is a term when a harasser breaks into a victim's property and places something or deliberately moves something. The purpose is to cause self doubt, and fear that their property is being accessed which harassers try to then sell as paranoia.

Anonymous Thu 05 Feb 2026 07:57:00 No.41919060 Report

>14. Propaganda and disinformation is also the other key element to suppress knowledge of this practice as its effectiveness initially requires the victim to be unaware of the existence of gangstalking, gaslighting, or the electronic technologies such as directional speakers so huge amounts of time are devoted online to creating disinformation sites which attempt to discredit victims by pushing the mental health agenda. They achieve this by posing as victims and actively trying to sound crazy so that all victims are treated as such. Also by creating websites claiming to help victims and being a resource for victims to come together and then harassing them to the extent that they lose hope and no longer reach out for help causing further isolation.

>15. Further to the above, gangstalkers rely on disbelief and discrediting and as such much of the harassment is designed (at least initially) to mimic mental health issues. They also rely on their abuse being so extreme, so pervasive, so fundamentally immoral, as to be disbelieved and victims subsequently resort to photographing, videotaping, and sound recording their everyday encounters to disprove the countless unfounded claims made against them - especially in relation to gaslighting, which gangstalkers try to turn around and paint the victims as paranoid or irrational. Victims are made to feel helpless as every attempt to defend themselves is used against them and when they seek help they are met with disbelief or open hostility.

I'm in a housing program and I'm certain they've turned my case manager. I was experiencing intense targetting, everytime I left the apartment people would tail me or drive by me and honk then speed away or park on the road and when I past they'd speed away.

Sometimes they show up to the store I frequent and watch me.

This new apartment they moved me to, the people that live above are actors, they make ungodly amounts of noise at all hours. It literally sounds like they have an anvil and they're dragging it around.

What's weird is I haven't heard many voices here

Companion thread to this one, or I like to think so anyways: >>41801655

This one deals with the in-person weirdness a lot more than the psychological stuff, the other one goes way more into the ways this experience can rot you from the inside out, get you to push your friends and family away, all kinds of ugly shit.

As for those saying its schizo, trust me when I say all of us had a phase where we tried to rationalize it like that. And for someone not experiencing this, thinking so is actually the sane move, I get it and would probably think the same thing in your shoes. The thing is, you deal with this thing as an internal disorder long enough and find no progress even if you're perfect on the therapy and meds, and you begin to wonder what it could be if not the obvious, and then a lot of us notice how the auditory experiences associated with this phenomenon carries malice, planning, nearly every word feeling like it was chosen specifically tailored to our individual psychological makeup - everything from our beliefs about things or people, our behaviors and actions and morals, to the very way we conceptualize things and process information. You notice that it reacts in real-time to every thing we do, and with intelligence that suggests having multiple narrative contingencies prepared like it's running down the dialog tree in an rpg, running down prebuilt narrative branches.

At the same time, we can't prove it, but I don't know how you would prove the existence of something that aims to erode the mental wellbeing of a vast number of people while maintaining the utmost plausible deniability, thus targeting these people in ways that pretty well emulates mental illnesses (or religious or extraterrestrial experiences) makes anything they try to say about it instantly dismissable.

Anyway I wrote a thing about it, food for thought:

Why even try? Everything is secured, locks are double bolted, there's no way to access even if I'm asleep and the drip, drip, dripping of essence leaks. The CCTV isn't under your control, it can't be delete or manipulated and I have copies of everything, it's all mine against the slow hollowing and emptiness. Roam around in the gardens all you like, it can't get to me and I'll sleep like a baby until the smothering impermanence is completed.

Don't. I warn you.

Sometimes it really is just an episode, or full blown schizophrenia, which can be triggered by stress or trauma and improve as that improves. I wrote a thing about it because of how much misattribution takes place in these communities. TI's thinking it's something they can take medication for, which will damage their otherwise normally functioning brains in the long term, and schizo's coming across TI material and not getting the help they need because they think it's The Man.

Hope it helps, food for thought:

Overlaying the image is a quote in white text that reads, "Your beliefs, they're just that, they're nothin', they're just how you were taught and raised. That doesn't make 'em real." The quote is centered on the image and is in a larger font size than the rest of the text, drawing attention to its message. Concern trolling involves someone opposing an idea or viewpoint, yet acting like they're an advocate for the cause. A concern troll offers undermining criticisms under the guise of concern. Their goal is to sabotage the cause being discussed, and to inspire doubt among group members. This occurs in groups rallied around a particular issue, especially in political parties, and the goal of concern trolling is to cause dissent within a community.

Not OP, but figured this was worth mentioning: I personally have never been all that vocal about stuff, nor overly spicy. Online, anyway, would talk with friends and family about how the overall system is rigged against us, to not believe divisionary politics, etc etc.

I doubt it had a hand in being chosen for the "enrollment" in the TI program. I suspect we're chosen through statistical means, shit like what kind of person is the type to consistently post in a certain style, is that kind of person typically susceptible to manipulation or gaslighting, prone to paranoia, etc. For the most part, we aren't all that special, no matter how hard it tries to convince you that you are sometimes.

The TI experience does not stop. This post and the one prior make some decent points, but I have to push back on that one. We cannot be selling toxic optimism here.

There is no amount of placating or "playing nice" that will stop them from doing these things to you. Any time you do what they say, they just try to get you to do something even more ludicrous, mocking you every time. The program exists to hurt you, not help you; any habit or behavior changes you make for them will never be enough. They very intentionally rope you along like a narcissist strings along a hapless empath, leaching emotional validity off of them, except the machine doing the speaking has a much different goal.

Instead, you MUST instead become resilient to provocation, secure in your knowledge of self, and capable of catching the seriously insidious ways it gaslights you. The gaslighting is often super multi layered so that even if you catch and reject the narrative it's pushing, the thing that that narrative implied can slip under the radar. It works hard to get you to be paranoid about everything, distrusting of everyone that is in your life as a part of your support network - the one thing you have that might pull you out of a death spiral one day, or to act as a reality check, they make sure to trick you to sever that - and using them as your internal point of reference to which you seek approval. It's all narrative based, you gotta break out of that yourself, refuse every word out of its mouth the oxygen to breathe and fester, for absolutely every word out of it is either a lie or a truth in service of a greater and more terrible manipulation.

Further reading if anyone's interested - this is the cumulative info I gathered over 5 years of my own targeting, what I experienced, and what worked and didn't work for besting the system at narrative control over my own life.

COINTELPRO

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

COINTELPRO memo proposing a plan to expose the pregnancy of actress Jean Seberg, a financial supporter of the Black Panther Party, hoping to "possibly cause her embarrassment or tarnish her image with the general public". Covert campaigns to publicly discredit activists and destroy their interpersonal relationships were a common tactic used by COINTELPRO agents.

COINTELPRO (a syllabic abbreviation derived from Counter Intelligence Program) was a series of covert and illegal[1][2][3] projects conducted between 1956 and 1971 by the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) aimed at surveilling, infiltrating, discrediting, and disrupting American political parties and organizations that the FBI perceived as subversive.[4][5][6][7]

Groups and individuals targeted by the FBI included feminist organizations,[8][9] the Communist Party USA,[10] anti-Vietnam War organizers, activists in the civil rights and Black power movements (e.g., Martin Luther King Jr., Malcolm X, and the Black Panther Party), student organizations such as Students for a Democratic Society (SDS)[11] and Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), environmentalist and animal rights organizations, the American Indian Movement (AIM), Chicano and Mexican-American groups like the Brown Berets and the United Farm Workers, and independence movements (including Puerto Rican independence groups, such as the Young Lords and the Puerto Rican Socialist Party). Although the program primarily focused on organizations that were part of the broader New Left, they also targeted white supremacist groups, such as the Ku Klux Klan[12][13][14] and the National States' Rights Party.[15]

The FBI engaged in covert operations targeting domestic political groups from its earliest years. Covert operations under the official COINTELPRO label took place between 1956 and 1971. However, the official chronology of the program is the subject of debate. According to a US Senate investigation, "If COINTELPRO had been a short-lived aberration, the thorny problems of motivation, techniques, and control presented might be safely relegated to history. However, COINTELPRO existed for years on an ad hoc basis before the formal programs were instituted, and more significantly, COINTELPRO-type activities may continue today under the rubric of 'investigation'."[16] Many of the tactics used in COINTELPRO are alleged to have seen continued use, including discrediting targets through psychological warfare; smearing individuals and groups using forged documents and by planting false reports in the media; harassment; wrongful imprisonment; illegal violence; and assassination.[17][18][19][20] According to a Senate report, the FBI's motivation was "protecting national security, preventing violence, and maintaining the existing social and political order".[16]

Beginning in 1969, Black Panther party leaders were targeted by the COINTELPRO and "neutralized" through tactics including assassination, imprisonment, public humiliation, and false criminal charges. Some of the Black Panthers targeted include Fred Hampton, Mark Clark, Assata Shakur, Geronimo Pratt, Mumia Abu-Jamal,[21] and Marshall Conway. Common tactics used by COINTELPRO were perjury, witness harassment, witness intimidation, and withholding of exculpatory evidence.[22][23][24]

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover issued directives governing COINTELPRO, ordering FBI agents to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize" the activities of these movements and especially their leaders.[25][26] Under Hoover, the official in charge of COINTELPRO was assistant director William C. Sullivan.[27] Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy personally authorized some of the programs,[28] giving written approval for limited wiretapping of Martin Luther King's phones "on a trial basis, for a month or so".[29] Hoover extended the clearance so his men were "unshackled" to look for evidence in any areas of King's life they deemed worthy.[30]

History

The FBI initiated COINTELPRO, an abbreviation for Counterintelligence Program, in 1956 with the aim of undermining the operations of the Communist Party of the United States. In the 1960s, the scope of the organization was broadened to encompass various additional domestic factions, including the Ku Klux Klan, the Socialist Workers Party, and the Black Panther Party. The cessation of all COINTELPRO operations occurred in 1971. Despite its relatively small scale (constituting approximately 0.2% of the FBI's overall workload during a 15-year timeframe), COINTELPRO was subsequently subject to criticism from both Congress and the American public for infringing upon First Amendment rights and other grounds.[31]

Tactics included anonymous phone calls, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) audits, and the creation of documents that would divide the American communist organization internally.[10] An October 1956 memo from Hoover reclassified the FBI's ongoing surveillance of black leaders, including it within COINTELPRO, with the justification that the movement was infiltrated by communists.[32] In 1956, Hoover sent an open letter denouncing Dr. T. R. M. Howard, a civil rights leader, surgeon, and wealthy entrepreneur in Mississippi who had criticized FBI inaction in solving recent murders of George W. Lee, Emmett Till, and other African Americans in the South.[33] When the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), an African-American civil rights organization, was founded in 1957, the FBI began to monitor and target the group almost immediately, focusing particularly on Bayard Rustin, Stanley Levison, and eventually Martin Luther King Jr.[34]

Part of the 1964 "suicide letter"[35] that the FBI mailed anonymously to Martin Luther King Jr.. King interpreted the letter as an effort to persuade him to commit suicide.[35] More portions of the letter would be released in 2014.[35]

After the 1963 March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom, Hoover singled out King as a major target for COINTELPRO. Under pressure from Hoover to focus on King, Sullivan wrote:[36]

In the light of King's powerful demagogic speech ... We must mark him now if we have not done so before, as the most dangerous Negro of the future in this nation from the standpoint of communism, the Negro, and national security.

Soon after, the FBI was systematically bugging King's home and his hotel rooms, as they were now aware that King was growing in stature daily as the most prominent leader of the civil rights movement.[37]

In the mid-1960s, King began to publicly criticize the Bureau for giving insufficient attention to the use of terrorism by white supremacists. Hoover responded by publicly calling King the most "notorious liar" in the United States.[38] In his 1991 memoir, Washington Post journalist Carl Rowan asserted that the FBI had sent at least one anonymous letter to King encouraging him to commit suicide.[39] Historian Taylor Branch documents an anonymous "suicide package" sent by the FBI on November 21, 1964, that contained audio recordings obtained through tapping King's phone and placing bugs throughout various hotel rooms over the previous two years,[40] and that was created two days after the announcement of King's impending Nobel Peace Prize.[40] The tape, which was prepared by FBI audio technician John Matter,[40] documented a series of sexual indiscretions by King combined with a letter telling him: "There is only one way out for you. You better take it before your filthy, abnormal, fraudulent self is bared to the nation".[41] King believed that he was subsequently informed that the audio would be released to the media if he did not acquiesce and commit suicide prior to accepting his Nobel Peace Prize.[40] When King refused to satisfy their coercion tactics, FBI Associate Director, Cartha D. DeLoach, commenced a media campaign offering the surveillance transcript to various news organizations, including Newsweek and Newsday.[40] By 1969—one year after King's assassination—FBI efforts to "expose" him continued unabated. According to Church Committee findings, the Bureau "furnished ammunition to opponents that enabled attacks on King's memory and ... tried to block efforts to honor the slain leader." [41] However, more portions of the FBI letter to King were made public in 2014 which suggested that the FBI's intent was to push King out of leadership and have "older leaders" like Roy Wilkins lead the civil right movement.[35] The claim that the FBI's intent was to remove King from SCLC leadership was also previously backed in 1976 by the findings of the Church Committee.[42]

During the same period the program also targeted Malcolm X. While an FBI spokesman has denied that the FBI was "directly" involved in Malcolm's murder in 1965, it is documented that the Bureau worked to "widen the rift" between Malcolm and Elijah Muhammad through infiltration and the "sparking of acrimonious debates within the organization", rumor-mongering, and other tactics designed to foster internal disputes, which ultimately led to Malcolm's assassination.[43][44] The FBI heavily infiltrated Malcolm's Organization of Afro-American Unity in the final months of his life. Manning Marable's Pulitzer Prize-winning biography of Malcolm X asserts that most of the men who plotted Malcolm's assassination were never apprehended and that the full extent of the FBI's involvement in his death cannot be known.[45][46]

Amidst the urban unrest of July–August 1967, the FBI began "COINTELPRO–BLACK HATE", which focused on King and the SCLC, as well as the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), the Deacons for Defense and Justice, Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), and the Nation of Islam.[47] BLACK HATE established the Ghetto Informant Program and instructed 23 FBI offices to "disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize the activities of black nationalist hate type organizations".[48]

A March 1968 memo stated the program's goal was to "prevent the coalition of militant black nationalist groups"; to "Prevent the RISE OF A 'MESSIAH' who could unify ... the militant black nationalist movement"; "to pinpoint potential troublemakers and neutralize them before they exercise their potential for violence [against authorities]"; to "Prevent militant black nationalist groups and leaders from gaining RESPECTABILITY, by discrediting them to ... both the responsible community and to liberals who have vestiges of sympathy"; and to "prevent the long-range GROWTH of militant black organizations, especially among youth". Dr. King was said to have potential to be the "messiah" figure, should he abandon nonviolence and integrationism,[49] and Stokely Carmichael was noted to have "the necessary charisma to be a real threat in this way" as he was portrayed as someone who espoused a much more militant vision of "black power".[50] While the FBI was particularly concerned with leaders and organizers, they did not limit their scope of target to the heads of organizations. Individuals, e.g. writers, were also listed among the targets of operations.[51]

This program coincided with a broader federal effort to prepare military responses for urban riots and began increased collaboration between the FBI, Central Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, and the Department of Defense. The CIA launched its own domestic espionage project in 1967 called Operation CHAOS.[52] A particular target was the Poor People's Campaign, a national effort organized by King and the SCLC to occupy Washington, DC. The FBI monitored and disrupted the campaign on a national level, while using targeted smear tactics locally to undermine support for the march.[53] The Black Panther Party was another targeted organization, wherein the FBI collaborated to destroy the party from the inside out.[51]

Overall, COINTELPRO encompassed disruption and sabotage of the Socialist Workers Party (1961), the Ku Klux Klan (1964), the Nation of Islam, the Black Panther Party (1967), and the entire New Left social/political movement, which included antiwar, community, and religious groups (1968). A later investigation by the Senate's Church Committee (see below) stated that "COINTELPRO began in 1956, in part because of frustration with Supreme Court rulings limiting the Government's power to proceed overtly against dissident groups." [54] Official congressional committees and several court cases[55] have concluded that COINTELPRO operations against communist and socialist groups exceeded statutory limits on FBI activity and violated constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and association.[2]

The program was secret until March 8, 1971, when the Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI burgled an FBI field office in Media, Pennsylvania, took several dossiers, and exposed the program by passing this material to news agencies.[2][56] The boxing match known as the Fight of the Century between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier in March 1971 provided cover for the activist group to successfully pull off the burglary. Muhammad Ali was a COINTELPRO target because he had joined the Nation of Islam and the anti-war movement.[57]

Many news organizations initially refused to immediately publish the information, with the notable exception of The Washington Post. After affirming the reliability of the documents, it published them on the front page (in defiance of the Attorney General's request), prompting other organizations to follow suit. Within the year, Director J. Edgar Hoover declared that the centralized COINTELPRO was over, and that all future counterintelligence operations would be handled case by case.[58][59]

Additional documents were revealed in the course of separate lawsuits filed against the FBI by NBC correspondent Carl Stern, the Socialist Workers Party, and a number of other groups. In 1976 the Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities of the United States Senate, commonly referred to as the "Church Committee" after its chairman, Senator Frank Church (Democrat, Idaho), launched a major investigation of the FBI and COINTELPRO. Many released documents have been partly or entirely redacted.

The Final Report of the Select Committee castigated the conduct of the intelligence community in its domestic operations (including COINTELPRO) in no uncertain terms:

The Committee finds that the domestic activities of the intelligence community at times violated specific statutory prohibitions and infringed the constitutional rights of American citizens. The legal questions involved in intelligence programs were often not considered. On other occasions, they were intentionally disregarded in the belief that because the programs served the "national security" the law did not apply. While intelligence officers on occasion failed to disclose to their superiors programs which were illegal or of questionable legality, the Committee finds that the most serious breaches of duty were those of senior officials, who were responsible for controlling intelligence activities and generally failed to assure compliance with the law.[2] Many of the techniques used would be intolerable in a democratic society even if all of the targets had been involved in violent activity, but COINTELPRO went far beyond that ... the Bureau conducted a sophisticated vigilante operation aimed squarely at preventing the exercise of First Amendment rights of speech and association, on the theory that preventing the growth of dangerous groups and the propagation of dangerous ideas would protect the national security and deter violence.[54]

The Church Committee documented a history of the FBI (initially called BOI until 1936) exercising political repression as far back as World War I, and through the 1920s, when agents were charged with rounding up "anarchists, communists, socialists, reformists and revolutionaries" for deportation. From 1936 through 1976, the domestic operations were increased against political and anti-war groups.

In 1988, the Socialist Workers Party won a landmark settlement in federal court against the Bureau for its third Counterintelligence Program, which Hoover's agency launched against the SWP in 1961.[60]

FBI claimed intent of COINTELPRO

The FBI claimed that the purpose behind COINTELPRO was to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, or otherwise neutralize" groups that the FBI officials believed were "subversive"[61] by instructing FBI field operatives to:[62]

Create a negative public image for target groups (for example through surveilling activists and then releasing negative personal information to the public)

Break down internal organization by creating conflicts (for example, by having agents exacerbate racial tensions, or send anonymous letters to try to create conflicts)

Create dissension between groups (for example, by spreading rumors that other groups were stealing money)

Restrict access to public resources (for example, by pressuring non-profit organizations to cut off funding or material support)

Restrict the ability to organize protest (for example, through agents promoting violence against police during planning and at protests)

Restrict the ability of individuals to participate in group activities (for example, by character assassinations, false arrests, surveillance.)

Range of targets

At its inception, the program's main target was the Communist Party.[51]

In an interview with the BBC's Andrew Marr in February 1996, Noam Chomsky—a political activist and MIT professor of linguistics—spoke about the purpose and the targets of COINTELPRO, saying:[63]

COINTELPRO was a program of subversion carried out not by a couple of petty crooks but by the national political police, the FBI, under four administrations ... by the time it got through, I won't run through the whole story, it was aimed at the entire new left, at the women's movement, at the whole black movement, it was extremely broad. Its actions went as far as political assassination.

According to the Church Committee:[64]

While the declared purposes of these programs were to protect the "national security" or prevent violence, Bureau witnesses admit that many of the targets were nonviolent and most had no connections with a foreign power. Indeed, nonviolent organizations and individuals were targeted because the Bureau believed they represented a "potential" for violence—and nonviolent citizens who were against the war in Vietnam were targeted because they gave "aid and comfort" to violent demonstrators by lending respectability to their cause.

The imprecision of the targeting is demonstrated by the inability of the Bureau to define the subjects of the programs. The Black Nationalist program, according to its supervisor, included "a great number of organizations that you might not today characterize as black nationalist but which were in fact primarily black". Thus, the nonviolent Southern Christian Leadership Conference was labeled as a Black Nationalist "Hate Group".

Furthermore, the actual targets were chosen from a far broader group than the titles of the programs would imply. The CPUSA program targeted not only Communist Party members but also sponsors of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee and civil rights leaders allegedly under Communist influence or deemed to be not sufficiently "anti-Communist". The Socialist Workers Party program included non-SWP sponsors of anti-war demonstrations which were cosponsored by the SWP or the Young Socialist Alliance, its youth group. The Black Nationalist program targeted a range of organizations from the Panthers to SNCC to the peaceful Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and included every Black Student Union and many other black student groups. New Left targets ranged from the SDS to the InterUniversity Committee for Debate on Foreign Policy, from Antioch College ("vanguard of the New Left") to the New Mexico Free University and other "alternate" schools, and from underground newspapers to students' protesting university censorship of a student publication by carrying signs with four-letter words on them.

Examples of surveillance, spanning all presidents from FDR to Nixon, both legal and illegal, contained in the Church Committee report:[65]

President Roosevelt (1933–1945) asked the FBI to put in its files the names of citizens sending telegrams to the White House opposing his "national defense" policy and supporting Col. Charles Lindbergh.

President Truman (1945–1953) received inside information on a former Roosevelt aide's efforts to influence his appointments, labor union negotiating plans, and the publishing plans of journalists.

President Eisenhower (1953–1961) received reports on purely political and social contacts with foreign officials by Bernard Baruch, Eleanor Roosevelt, and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

The Kennedy administration (1961–1963) had the FBI wiretap a congressional staff member, three executive officials, a lobbyist, and a Washington law firm. US Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy received the fruits of an FBI wiretap on Martin Luther King Jr. and an electronic listening device targeting a congressman, both of which yielded information of a political nature.

President Johnson (1963–1969) asked the FBI to conduct "name checks" of his critics and members of the staff of his 1964 opponent, Senator Barry Goldwater. He also requested purely political intelligence on his critics in the Senate and received extensive intelligence reports on political activity at the 1964 Democratic Convention from FBI electronic surveillance.

President Nixon (1969–1974) authorized a program of wiretaps, which produced for the White House purely political or personal information unrelated to national security, including information about a Supreme Court Justice.

Groups that were known to be targets of COINTELPRO operations include:[66]
